WORLD POLICE PLAN APPROVED IN PARLEY VOTE

Huge Armed Force Due from U. S.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

San Francisco, Cal., June 12—Establishment of the first international army, navy, and air force in history was approved by the delegates of 50 nations in an open commission session today at the world security conference.

The vote was unanimous upon a motion by Sen. Connally, [D., Tex.] of the American delegation, to approve the report of the "committee on enforcement arrangements" as submitted to the security council commission.

This action was preceded by a ringing declaration from Joseph Paul-Boncour, former French premier and veteran of the old League of Nations, that the conference was erecting "the keystone of the peace structure which we are in the process of building. This is a great historic development."

Security Council Rules

The unparalleled military weapon thus indorsed is to be wielded by the security council of the world organization being charted here whenever it determines that enforcement measures are necessary to preserve peace and security.

The United States, United Kingdom, Russia, China and France are permanent members of the council. Six middle and small powers will be elected to the remainder of the 11 council seats.

Our military and naval authorities recently estimated that one third of our present vast army and navy might be contributed to the world force. No word has come from other countries concerning the number of men and weapons they may turn over.

Veto Not Mentioned

No delegate at today's session was tactless enough to remind his colleagues that only small friendless nations can be subjected without restriction to the international military force. The highly controversial issue of the Big Five's veto power on security action was not referred to in any manner.

The commission's decision is subject to approval at a full plenary session probably next week which is expected to be automatic in this instance. The military agreements must also be ratified by each country, in the United States by the senate.

Paul-Boncour said the military measures set up in the charter were adopted by unanimous vote.

Oaks Plan Changed

The world police force is to be directed by a military staff committee which will have regional subcommittees thruout the world, all under the jurisdiction of the security council.

The most important changes in the organization from the Dumbarton Oaks plan resulted from French and Australian amendments. "Rights of passage" to the military forces must be granted by all member-nations, under a French insistence.

Presumably, some kind of joint military command will be necessary for the international air force, also, according to the committee's report. Military experts said the exact nature of that command and other details of the operation of the air enforcement group would be for future determination.

Reveal Loan of $200,000 to F.D.R. Son

Danville, Ill., June 12 [Special]—Full details of his considerable part in arranging for a loan in 1939 of $200,000 to Elliott Roosevelt by John Hartford, president of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company, and of the debt's settlement in 1942 for $4,000, were given here today by Caruthers C. Ewing, A. & P. general counsel.

John Hartford

Ewing said that the chain of events leading up to the making of the loan to the late President's son was set in motion by a note which the late Rep. Sirovich [D., N. Y.] told him he had received from President Roosevelt in March, 1939, asking the congressman to "help Elliott borrow $200,000 to get a new radio station."

Said President Approved Deal

The A. and P. lawyer said that when he was informed by Hartford of Hartford's decision to loan the money to Elliott Roosevelt, Hartford assured him that President Roosevelt knew about the transaction and approved it.

Ewing asserted that when the debt was settled in 1942, Jesse Jones, then secretary of commerce and chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, acted in behalf of the Roosevelt family. Ewing said he personally turned over Elliott's collateral note for $200,000 to Jones in the latter's Washington, D. C., office, and received from him in return a check for $4,000.

Hartford thereupon wrote off the $196,000 difference as an uncollectible debt in his income tax returns for 1942, Ewing said.

In New York, Hartford described published reports of the transaction as "substantially correct." Jesse Jones and Elliott Roosevelt, now an army brigadier general, refused comment in Washington. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt had "nothing whatever" to say in New York.

Government Suing A. & P.

Ewing is in Danville as chief of the legal staff representing the A. and P. company and its officers in the trial of a government anti-trust suit against them. This trial, under way before Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley, has been in progress since April 16. The government is seeking to secure criminal convictions on charges the A. and P. has sought to stifle competition by maintaining temporarily unprofitable retail outlets.

Ewing expressed deep regret that the matter of the Roosevelt loan had become public, saying he thought it bad taste to bring the matter up after the President's death. He volunteered a complete statement in order "to get everything straight."

"Now that it has come out I can't see that it can affect the trial," Ewing said. "Personally, if the President were still living, I wouldn't give a damn about it—would be rather glad of it, in fact."

Ewing said he resents inferences

HE COULDN'T STAY REFORMED LONG ENOUGH FOR THE CEREMONY

Union Fines Men Speeding Up War Work

Leon P. Borkowski is a highly skilled war worker employed by the aero division of the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator company, 1135 N. Cicero av.

He has a brother overseas. His wife also has a brother overseas. Borkowski wants to do his best to get them the weapons they need, on time. He is willing to work a little harder and a little extra time if that is necessary to keep the sinews of war moving.

But his union, the International Association of Machinists [AFL], not only forbids his doing it, but has taken steps that may result in his being fired as a tool inspector because he worked extra time Sunday, Feb. 18, to help the company meet a government production schedule.

Members Rebel at Fines

The union has taken similar action against a score of other skilled members who worked that Sunday. The union had ordered the men not to work. It subsequently fined them the amount of their pay that day.

Borkowski and his fellow workers refused to pay the fine. The union's maintenance of membership contract with the company provides that the men shall be discharged unless the fine is paid within 90 days.

"Obligation to Fighting Men"

"Wouldn't I be a hell of a guy if I let a union rule keep me away from work when I was needed to put out a badly needed war order?" asked Borkowski last night. "The fines are the result of our defying a minority group and fulfilling what, in my opinion, was an obligation to my country and to our fighting men."

The Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator company has a top priority for the manufacture of stabilizers and automatic pilots for war planes.

Company officials refused to predict their action when the discharge provision of the union's contract is invoked, but said "several workers" had complained of the union's action.

Donald Nelson Accepts Movie Producers' Post

Hollywood, Cal., June 12 [Special]—Donald M. Nelson, former war production board chairman, special Presidential emissary to China and prewar Sears-Roebuck executive, today accepted the presidency of the Society of Independent Motion Picture Producers at a reported salary of $50,000 a year. Announcement of Nelson's acceptance was made by David O. Selznick.

3,000 REPORTED DEAD OR INJURED IN FRENCH ORDNANCE EXPLOSION

LONDON, June 12 (AP)—A Paris broadcast recorded by the Exchange Telegraph agency said tonight approximately 3,000 persons had been killed or injured in a series of explosions at the ordnance factory of Fresnes near Modane. The broadcast said the blasts occurred during the afternoon and evening, leveling the buildings at the plant.

BRITISH MUM ON WAR STRENGTH AGAINST JAPAN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

LONDON, June 12—The British government today refused to follow the American example and disclose the size of the fighting forces it would use in the Pacific war. Replying in commons to a demand by James H. Wootton-Davies, Conservative, for information, Chancellor of the Exchequer John Anderson on behalf of Prime Minister Churchill said Churchill was "not prepared to say anything more at this moment than that we should do our utmost." To Wootton-Davies' suggestion that it was time the British ceased "hiding their light under a bushel," and that the "American government has stated what they are doing, why can't we," Anderson said the government was keeping the matter constantly in view.

RIBBENTROP SON FOUND HIDING IN PRISONER'S PEN

WEISBADEN, Germany, June 12 (AP)—Rudolf von Ribbentrop, son of the nazi foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, has been discovered hiding in a prisoner of war pen in the 3d army sector, the 12th army group announced today.

Capture of Dr. Baldur von Schirach, former nazi governer and district leader in Vienna and former chief of the Hitler Youth, also was announced.

Execute Flemish Nazi

BRUSSELS, Belgium, June 12 (AP)—Execution of Victor Blommaert, head of the pro-Nazi Flemish brigade which fought the Russians on the eastern front, was announced today.

10 Cent Sale Blows Up Jerry's $75 Enterprise

Oklahoma City, Okla., June 12 (AP)—Jerry Daniel, 11, set himself up in business today. He borrowed $75 from his father, bought a stock of fireworks, and sold a 10 cent roman candle to his first customer. A minute later the candle and the other $74.90 worth of pyrotechnics lit up Jerry's neighborhood.

GI on Hilltop Kills 30 Japs in Lone Stand

U. S. 96TH DIVISION HQRS., Okinawa, June 11 [Delayed] (AP)—Pfc. Clarence Craft, Santa Anita, Calif., was credited today with killing 30 or more Japanese in a spectacular, almost single handed rifle and grenade fight.

The action took place several days ago when the 96th infantry division was fighting for Conical hill. Fleet Adm. Nimitz and Lt. Gen. Simon B. Buckner Jr., both said capture of Conical hill was the most important single factor in leading to smashing of the Shuri defense line.

Craft's regimental commander said his stand—against more than twice as many men as he killed—helped drive a wedge that broke the backbone of the Japanese Conical hill defense.

Hurls 48 Grenades

Craft reloaded his rifle four times and tossed a couple of cases of grenades [48] during his 15 or 20 minutes on the hilltop alone.

When the fight was over, the hilltop was littered with 58 Japanese bodies, along with three "knee" mortars, one light and two heavy machine guns and about 80 rifles and ammunition.

Only two Japanese had rifles that would fire—the rest were too rusty. Craft picked off those two Nipponese in a hurry and then went to work on those attacking him with eight foot long, crudely made spears. The Japanese tossed grenades at him, but Craft said later "all they do is go puff."

Toss Grenades Over Him

Other doughboys were waved up by Craft as he stood alone on the hilltop. In the battle that followed, two of his buddies and the Japanese were tossing grenades over his head.

Scores of troops watched from below as Craft boldly exposed himself on the skyline. As Lt. Roy L. Barnes, Winchester, Ind., executive officer of G company of the 382d regiment watched, he could think of only one thing: "That guy is determined to get out of the army, either via a medal of honor—or dead."

Calling himself lucky to escape without a scratch, Craft recalled that many of his buddies hadn't got off as easy.

"A lot of them didn't come back," he said.

Russians Commemorate Death of Charles Dickens

LONDON, June 12 [Reuters]—Commemorating the 75th anniversary of the death of Charles Dickens on June 9, 1870, exhibitions were held in a number of soviet towns, the soviet news agency reported today. Dickens' works have been issued in 15 languages of the people of the soviet union.

MOSCOW TALKS AIM TO EXPAND WARSAW RULE

Seek Inclusion of Non-Reds

LONDON, June 13 [Wednesday] (AP)—The deadlock in the tangled negotiations for a reorganized government of Poland was broken today with an announcement that representatives of the "Big Three" would meet in Moscow Friday with representatives of the Polish provisional [Warsaw] government and democratic leaders from within and without Poland.

The announcement of the conference, made in London, Washington, and Moscow, described it as "consultations about reorganization of the provisional Polish government on the broad democratic basis provided for in the Crimea agreement on Poland."

The representatives of the "Big Three" were designated as Russian Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov, United States Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, and British Ambassador Archibald Clark Kerr.

Polish Leaders Named

The principal Polish leaders named to participate in the parley were Boleslaw Beirut, president of the provisional government; Wincenty Witos, former premier who is leader of the democratic group inside Poland not affiliated with the Warsaw government, and Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, Peasant party leader, who resigned as premier of the exiled Polish government in London last year and withdrew from that group.

The announcement said that in addition to Beirut, members of the provisional government who will go to Moscow for the conference are Premier Edward Osubka-Morawski, Wladyslaw Kowalski, and Wladyslaw Gomulka.

Other Delegates Listed

Accompanying Witos as representatives of democratic elements inside Poland not associated with the provisional government will be Zygmund Zulawski, Stanislaw Kutrzeba, Adam Kryzysanowski, and Henry Kolodzeiski.

Mikolajczyk will take with him Jan Stanczyk and Julian Zakowski.

Conspicuously absent from the Poles who will take part in the consultations was any member of the present exiled London government, which is recognized by both the United States and Britain.

[None of the 16 Polish underground leaders arrested by soviet authorities in March was invited to the conference. But it is expected that 15 of them, at least, will be released. The 16th, Gen Bonislaw Okulnicki, is known to be anti-soviet. The more calling of the conference is regarded as an indication that these men will be released, since discussions on Poland originally were broken off by the United States and Britain at San Francisco May 5 after Russia admitted the 16 arrests. At that time Chairmen Stettinius and Eden of the American and British delegations demanded "a full explanation" of the action.]

HOW RUSSIANS CAME TO LAND OF WAR LORDS

(This is the first of a series of articles by a veteran newspaper man who was arrested by the Germans in Paris in July, 1940, and interned nearly five years. Liberated by Russian troops, he is believed to be the only non-Russian newspaper man to have observed Russian occupation of East Pomerania, home of the Junkers military caste.)

BY B. J. KOSPOTH
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

LONDON, June 12—I have just spent three months with the Russians in eastern Pomerania. The Red army overran Pomerania early in March, encircling and capturing the German forces that tried vainly to defend this stronghold of Prussian Junkers.

So far as I know no Anglo-Saxon newspaper man has been in Pomerania since its occupation by the Russians. I happened to be there because I was a civilian prisoner of war held by the Germans in a remote village near Stolp until Stalin's fur-capped boys released me. I stayed with them because for a long time there was no means of transport to allied lines in the west.

Learned from Reds

Eventually I tramped about 20 miles from Stolp to Lueneburg, headquarters of the British 2d army from where a royal air force plane flew me to London.

If it's true that the heart of Prussian militarism beats in Pomerania, the folks at home can rest easily. Its inhabitants—feudal barons commanding Hitler's armies, prosperous farmers who never bore the brunt of the old World war, and peasants little better off than the serfs—have been taught a terrible lesson by the victorious Reds.

Their stately manor houses have been pillaged or burned to the ground, their villages laid waste.

Guarded by Russian soldiers, they are working in the fields 12 hours a day for their daily bread. Many of them have been arrested by roving committees of the NKVD [Russian secret police] and deported—nobody tells where. These Prussians surely know well by now that Germany has lost World War II.

Forty-eight hours before armored spearheads of the Red army reached Tychow, a village to which I was detailed to work on Count Ewald von Kleist's estate, my French comrade, Marcel La Pazouze of the Alpine chasseurs, and I escaped to an isolated farmhouse in a woods to elude SS [elite guard] troopers who were rounding up prisoners in a last hour effort to transport them behind crumbling German lines.

Wait with Two Soldiers

In the farmhouse were an old peasant woman with her flaxen haired daughter and two German soldiers who had thrown away their arms and didn't seem to know whether to flee or stay where they were and surrender to the Russians. Hourly the thunder of guns grew louder and at night the sky was aglow with fires of blazing villages. Snow was falling and gaunt pines glittered with icicles.

Then two strange, fur clad figures appeared on a path leading to our refuge. They wore gray uniforms and held big, businesslike looking pistols in their gloved hands. All their equipment seemed to be brand

VITAL GROUND SEIZED AT BOTH ENDS OF FRONT

Blast and Burn Foe Out of Defenses

GUAM, June 13 [Wednesday]—(AP)—Using ropes for scaling and predawn darkness for cover, United States 10th army forces seized vital heights at both ends of the Yaeju-Dake escarpment on southern Okinawa yesterday and held on grimly in daylight against heavy counter-attacks of the no-surrender Japanese.

The two separated and fast dwindling forces of the enemy on the island brought every weapon to bear, even ripping machine guns from wrecked airplanes as they elected to die with a typical flourish of defiance. Japanese navy men, trained originally as a landing force, held out grimly in a small pocket on Oroku peninsula.

Blast and Burn Foe

The Tokyo radio said without confirmation that other American forces in a surprise amphibious landing had swarmed ashore on Okinawa's south coast, gripping the Japanese garrison of 15,000 in a vise.

American troops, slaughtering hundreds of Japanese with flamethrowers and demolition charges, battled at the summit of the coral plateau of Yaeju, and struck for the breakthru that would smash that last enemy line of defense.

[Another dispatch said the Japanese defense line has been cracked at six points and said the Jap lines now are thinner.]

The battle mounted in fury after a 36 hour ultimatum expired on Monday with the Japanese commander ignoring Lt. Gen. Buckner's offer to negotiate surrender and stop the carnage.

Pull Up Sheer Face

On the east flank of the escarpment line, the 17th regiment of the 7th infantry division pulled their way with ropes up a sheer face of the escarpment northwest of the town of Hanagusuku. They reached the top of a cliff fronting the plateau.

Southwest of Hanagusku, other 7th division elements pushed down the south slope of Hill 95 from captured heights. Gains of the division ranged up to 500 yards.

On the west flank the 1st marine division opened an attack at 3:30 a. m. which won advances up to 1,000 yards. The leathernecks reached the crest of Kunishi ridge by their surprise move and pushed forward against light resistance until daylight. Then the Japanese struck back, but the marines hung on and were reënforced under heavy fire.

Seize Town of Yuza

In the center, the 383d regiment of the 96th infantry division captured all of the town of Yuza after a rough, seesaw battle. The 383d beat off a small enemy counter-attack, then pushed forward about 200 yards. This advance reached high ground south of Yuza.

Today's bulletin by Fleet Adm. Nimitz made no mention of the 381st regiment which scaled the forward nose of the escarpment yesterday, but apparently the Yanks were holding their positions.

Associated Press Correspondent Robert Geiger in a field dispatch told how the 381st regiment had fought inch by inch up the coral cliff, honeycombed with caves from which the enemy fired until sheets of flame burned him down or demolitions sealed him in.

Plateau 2½ Miles Long

Then in a daring assault, beginning at 4 a. m., the 381st scaled the 100 foot cliff to the top of the plateau, which is about two and a half miles long and extends about two miles to the south.

Ten men volunteered to take a telephone line up the slope. Among them was Tech. 5th Grade William Palmer of Chicago.

Japanese planes renewed their assaults Monday on Okinawa shipping and hit a light vessel, the 54th American ship damaged by such attacks. [The navy in Washington has announced, additionally, that 25 ships have been sunk to date.] Ten raiders were shot down.

Allied Boy Meets German Girl

BY DANIEL DE LUCE

FIELD MARSHAL MONTGOMERY'S HDQ., Bad Oeyenhausen, Germany, June 12 (AP)—Fraternization is widespread and increasing in western Germany, regardless of all military edicts.

It's a case of boy meets girl, and the ranks of allied armies are in favor of it, whatever the home fronts may think.

On a 600 mile trip from the Saar to the Danish border, this correspondent was unable to discover any difference of opinion among American, British, and Canadian troops concerning fraternization.

In each army zone I found abundant violations—at least 99 per cent officially unreported—of supreme headquarters policy of nonfraternization. I have yet to meet a soldier whether he comes from London, the Mississippi valley, or the Alberta wheatfields, who wants the ban continued.

"How are we punishing the German people by living ourselves as if we were in prison?" is a common question.

As a correspondent I have received confidences from enlisted men which their officers rarely enjoy. At one motor service depot, the commanding captain told me the nonfraternization policy was being observed strictly, but that he hoped for the benefit of all that it would be relaxed soon. His sergeant clerk quietly admitted later that every man in the unit had been entertained in some German homes.

Gen. Eisenhower's disclosure that troops could now fraternize with "young children" at last sanctions what in fact has been done most of the time since Germany collapsed. Soldiers take a very generous view of what limit should be applied.

I have asked many Germans their opinion of nonfraternization. German men shrugged off the question. The women were of different inclination.

AUSSIES DRIVE 4 MILES INLAND ON BORNEO BAY

Muara Island Occupied; Gain on Labuan

MANILA, June 13 [Wednesday] (AP)—Australian invaders of northwest Borneo, switching from helmets to broad rim hats under the broiling sun after Japanese resistance continued light, have pushed in force four miles from the coast to within 10 airline miles of Brunei.

This drive toward the capital city of the British protectorate, vital because it leads toward rich oil fields, drew the personal attention of Gen. MacArthur who visited the front with Rear Adm. Forrest Bretton, Australian assault group commander.

A frontline dispatch today from Brunei said the Japanese have set the torch to vast stores of oil in the Seria field, southeast of the invading forces. Last night, the resultant orange glow in the sky could be seen 50 miles away, the dispatch said. The oil stores being burned must run into the hundreds of thousands of gallons, it added.

Muara Island Occupied

An important staging point for supplies to support the mainland push was assured when the "diggers" [Aussie troops] completely occupied four mile-long Muara island, lying athwart Brooketon. The narrow channel does not permit direct unloading of supplies on the mainland.

On Labuan Island, which MacArthur visited on D-day, Sunday, hundreds of troops and supplies were poured ashore by the supporting United States 7th fleet. The Aussies, veterans of fighting in Africa against the Germans, cleared the Japanese from densely wooded hills to a point two miles north of the air field. Labuan commands the entrance to Brunei bay, an excellent fleet anchorage.

Flyers Support Operations

Australian and 13th air force fighter-bombers supported the ground operations.

Seventh fleet patrol-torpedo boats strafed Sipitang, east of Brunei, and placed a stranglehold on attempted enemy barge movements.

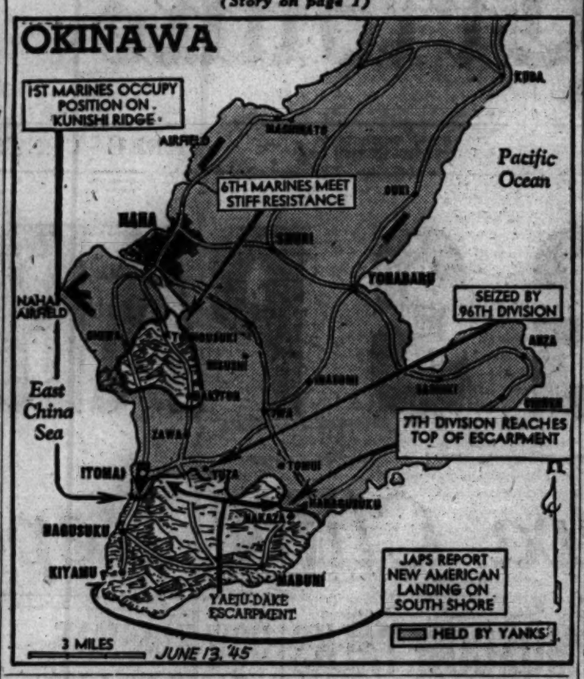

While work was pressed toward preparing a great new allied base within 800 miles of Singapore, a navy Privateer bomber sank a freighter and left another smoking at Kuching, capital of Sarawak, on the west coast of Borneo.

Land based Liberators, Mitchells, Lightnings and Beaufighters smashed buildings and a narrow gauge railway between Jesselton and Beaufort, north and west of Brunei bay. PT boats nosed into Sandakan, British North Borneo, and destroyed a 40 foot vessel.

The American 7th fleet had a major part in the invasion. Rear Adm. Forrest B. Royal, amphibious commander, said that more than 25,000 Yank navy personnel participated.

TRAIL OF UNUSED 'DROMES MARKS WAR'S PROGRESS

BY WALTER SIMMONS
(Chicago Tribune Press Service)

HOLLANDIA, New Guinea, June 10 [Delayed]—A trail of abandoned air bases in New Guinea marks the northward progress of the war.

At the height of the 5th air force's activity there were 53 operational strips on the huge island and on coastal islets. From them Gen. Kenney's men launched the preparatory blows which resulted in the occupation of the Philippines and pulverized Jap air fields in the Dutch East Indies.

One of the greatest of these centers was at Nadzab, near Lae in eastern New Guinea. For months its name could not be mentioned. Its four main strips and other runways were busy day and night. Nadzab began to die when the 5th air force moved out. For a time it was the southern terminus of the air transport command line from San Francisco. Then the C-54s began going directly to the Philippines—and Nadzab was finished. Today only two of its strips are ever used and those seldom.

Same at Port Moresby

Port Moresby has had the same history. Durand, Rogers, Ward, Berry, Kila, and Schwimmer dromes, which once handled tons of air cargo for the New Guinea campaigns, are abandoned. Jackson drome is still used but has been turned over to the Australians.

At Dobodura the four strips of the Horanda air center are out of service. Three are not used at the Embi-Borio center. Only one serviceable strip is left.

In Hollandia only the Sentani strip is still in service. The Cyclops and Hollandia strips, both Jap built, were abandoned when their palm log and bamboo foundations rotted away. The shops were moved out and the steel runway matting was taken up.

The Japs controlled the Wewak strip until recently when it was taken by the Australians.

Island Strips Idle

Two strips on the Kiriwina Islands of eastern New Guinea have been been turned over to Australia, and one has been abandoned. Gasmata, Drina River, and Ubili fields on New Britain are no longer used, nor are the Inshore and North Cape strips on Emirau Island. Tiny Owi Island, once a center of air activity, is now neglected, and nearby Biak no longer teems, altho its three strips are still operational. On Noemfoor the Kamiri strip has been abandoned, altho Kornasoren is still used.

Of New Guinea's former 53 fields only 18 still are listed as operational, and some of these have reverted to a reserve status. But whether used or not most of the abandoned strips still are garrisoned.

In Australia 179 strips were used by Yank planes at one time or another. Of these, six have been turned back to pasture, and of the 21 still used by American or Australian air force planes hardly one is still under United States control.

M'ARTHUR MEN GAIN 5 MILES IN NORTH LUZON

MANILA, June 13 [Wednesday] (AP)—The American 37th infantry division has gained another five miles along a hilly mountain road toward the fertile Cagayan valley in northern Luzon, Gen. MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

The advance was east of Bagabag toward Oriun village. Japanese artillery and mortar fire slowed the push. On Sunday and Monday, seven enemy tanks were destroyed in the Bagabag area, 94 Japanese killed and 61 taken prisoner. Fighter planes destroyed 48 enemy vehicles. Far to the north, the Japanese rear was harrassed by light naval units, which pounded enemy positions along the northern coast of Luzon.

On Mindanao, 8th army troops broke resistance east of the Davao river and pressed west to occupy Riverside. Silae was captured during a four mile advance in central Mindanao.

Advance 31 Miles

CHUNGKING, China, June 12 (AP)—Chinese troops have swept 31 miles up China's east coast, smashing within 24 miles of the big former treaty port of Wenchow in a mounting drive to clear Japanese forces from mainland defenses opposite Okinawa, front reports said today.

Chinese sources believed the Japanese might be planning to abandon Wenchow and withdraw 225 miles northward along China's invasion-vulnerable coast to Shanghai.

Pursuing Japanese forces which have abandoned virtually all coastal Fukien province, Chinese troops battered into Chekiang province and captured Pingyang, in a southern threat to Wenchow, 440 miles west of Okinawa, the Central News agency reported.

In the last three weeks, Japanese forces have fallen back along the east coast 135 miles from abandoned Foochow.

TOKYO CABINET GIVEN POWER TO RULE BY DECREE

San Francisco, June 12 (AP)—Premier Suzuki's government of Japan obtained from the diet today virtually absolute power to rule the empire by decree. The house of peers completed passage of the wartime emergency measure, Japan's Domei news agency reported, which puts the diet on a rubber stamp basis.

The lower house approved the bill yesterday, after forcing some revisions. Members had expressed fears that they were legislating away their powers.

Domei said the measure was limited to the duration of the war and authorizes the government "to issue orders" in the event of "urgent necessity." The whole field of Japan's war economy is affected, "regardless of the stipulations in other laws and regulations," Domei asserted.

150 SUPER FORTS FROM INDIA ADD TO JAPAN'S WOE

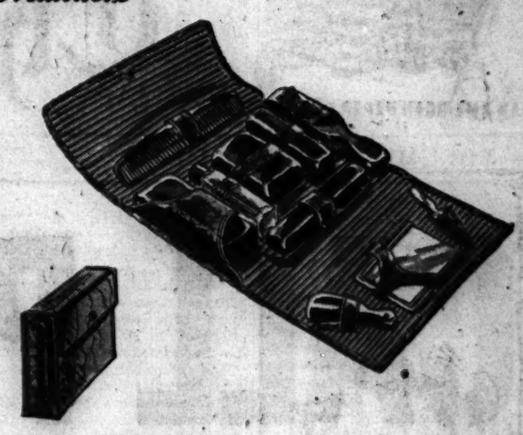

GUAM, June 13 [Wednesday] (AP)—An official announcement disclosed today that 150 Super Fortresses from India—first to bomb Japan—reached the Marianas in April, swelling the forces of B-29s which have wrecked wide areas of the enemy's six largest cities.

The 21st bomber command said the veterans of the 58th bombardment wing had made the 3,600 mile flight from distant bases without loss of a plane—one of the most remarkable records in the history of the American air forces.

While this disclosure told the Japanese clearly that they must cope with raids of ever-increasing intensity, the Tokyo radio said forces of the Super Fortresses had tightened the blockade about the island empire by laying more mines in home waters.

By this account, 40 Super Fortresses sowed the entrance to Japan's inland sea north of Kyushu, southernmost Japanese island, and later 30 more mined Wakasa bay to the northeast.

TELL OF ABUSES BY ARMY MISFITS IN VET HOSPITAL

Negroes Court-Martialed for Beating Patients

BY JOSEPH HEARST
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., June 12—Charges that veterans of this war have been abused and beaten in many of the 97 hospitals maintained by the veterans' administration were made today before the house veterans' committee.

Representatives of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and of the American Legion made a survey of the hospitals at the request of Brig. Gen. Hines, who is being replaced as head of the veterans administration by Gen. Bradley. They submitted detailed critical reports on their findings. Reports from both organizations recommended numerous administrative changes, higher pay, decentralized authority and better standards generally.

Veterans administration hospitals are for both World War I. and World War II. veterans. At present veterans of the last war largely predominate. Discharged veterans of this war who are in veterans hospitals should not be confused with patients in army and navy hospitals, such as Walter Reed, Gardner general and Letterman.

47 Pct. Held Inadequate

The V. F. W. report asserted adequate hospitalization is not being provided in 47 per cent of the hospitals. In sustaining its charges of brutality in some hospitals, it reported 15 Negro soldiers have been court-martialed for beating patients at the Northport, N. Y., hospital and that five civilian attendants are under criminal assault charges there.

The Legion report asserted the hospitals are "suffering from lack of medical personnel, red tape, staff dissension in some places, overcrowding and such low pay scales that morale is adversely affected."

The five hospitals in Illinois generally were rated above the average and there were no specific reports of abuse of patients, altho at the Downey hospital the management has had to discipline employes for abusing patients, the V. F. W. said. The Legion said that at Downey complaints of abuse or neglect "including complaints of fights among patients," are given prompt attention.

Guards "Quite Brutal"

At the 2,015 bed neuropsychiatric hospital at Marion, Ind., the V. F. W. said, "Some of the guards are quite brutal." L. V. King, Indiana department commander, recommended that the FBI send agents into the hospital in the guise of patients to learn conditions.

The Legion report said that at many hospitals veterans experienced difficulty in obtaining admission and cited a report that at the 345 bed General hospital at Indianapolis, Ind., a veteran died 12 hours after he was admitted. He previously had been denied admission and was accepted only after the Legion intervened in his behalf.

The V. F. W. report said the Negro soldiers at Northport were convicted on evidence supplied by three FBI agents who entered the hospital as patients.

Six Doctors for 2,768

At the Northport hospital it was said not more than six doctors are on duty at one time to care for the 2,768 patients, or a ratio of one doctor to 460 patients. There are only eight nurses on duty on each shift.

Asserting that personnel at the Northport hospital was not properly trained to handle mental patients, the V. F. W. report said:

"The enlisted men assigned by the army particularly are not qualified to act as hospital attendants and might well be classified as army 'misfits.' We were informed that they were assigned to these hospital duties when it was decided they were not adaptable to other military duties."

Negro enlisted men assigned to the hospital have now been replaced by white soldiers.

Asks Ouster of Colonel

Rep. Kearney [R., N. Y.] a member of the committee said he has asked Gen. Hines to suspend Col. Louis Verdel, manager of the Northport hospital, and bring charges against him. The committee subpenaed Verdel and Dr. William J. Turner, the chief medical officer at Northport, to testify Thursday.

Rep. Rankin [D., Miss.], committee chairman, observed that the court martialed soldiers were Negroes and while promising a thoro investigation, attributed the trouble to the use of Negroes among white patients.

"I think the Northport trouble may be traced to the stupidity of some one in the war department," he said.

"But the civilian attendants were white," Kearney said. "I think the trouble can be traced to the stupidity of some one—period."

The V. F. W. report, quoting Joseph M. Stack of Pittsburgh, Pa., senior vice commander in chief, said that "unconfirmed allegations of abuse and mistreatment of veteran patients dot the individual state reports."

Demands Secret Probe

"But, while our survey discloses singularly few substantiated cases of mistreatment, there are too many instances of alleged mental and physical abuse cited not to demand an immediate, sympathetic investigation of every charge by an impartial, authoritative body," he continued. "Our first recommendation, therefore, is for this committee to set in motion an undercover probe, assuring immunity to each complainant."

Both reports said veterans hospitals generally are superior to state and municipal hospitals but the V. F. W.'s report added that this "is nothing to brag about." The V. F. W. report said the returning veterans have a right to "demand hospitals inferior to none," and the Legion report said standards in these hospitals should be at "the same high level as those in the famous Mayo clinic and at Johns Hopkins hospital."

Assails Service Personel

The Legion report said "conduct of army and navy personnel assigned to veterans facilities was condemned in almost every instance," and asserted that physicians detailed to veterans hospitals by the army "are not the best and are not specialists in any sense of the word."

Canteen service is inadequate in many hospitals, including Downey, Ill., and recreational facilities fall short at many hospitals, it was reported. Numerous state reports said that additional recreational features will be needed with veterans of World War II. entering the hospitals.

Construction to house thousands of additional beds is needed, and obsolete medical equipment should be replaced, the report said.

Survey in Illinois

The surveys of near-by hospitals showed:

HINES [Maywood]—2,024 beds; inadequate recreational facilities; medical equipment sufficient except that certain obsolete equipment should be replaced; the patients' library and medical library should be enlarged; morale would be improved if more attractive lounging pajamas, similar to those used in army and navy hospitals, were supplied; the food is good as to quality and quantity; there is one physician to every 40 patients and one graduate nurse to 12 patients; the out-patient department should be moved to Chicago; wards do not appear to be crowded; recreation facilities are poor.

DANVILLE—2,303 beds and 350 more needed; staff morale and discipline good; food good in quality, quantity, and preparation; need experienced firemen to train a fire fighting crew at the hospital; storerooms and dining rooms clean and sanitation excellent.

DOWNEY [Great Lakes]—2,050 beds and 500 more needed; help needed; more latitude in administration needed to eliminate referral of all decisions to Washington; recreational facilities inadequate and canteen entirely inadequate; transportation poor; abuse and neglect occasionally reported, but quickly corrected; patients want a new chapel; overcrowded.

MARION—214 beds and 1,300 more needed; clerical help should be provided so physicians and nurses could devote the time now spent on paperwork to the patients; food, quality, quantity, and preparation excellent; the physicians, nurses, and attendants are considerate and courteous to both patients and visitors; the staff is encouraged to engage in research and attend clinical meetings.

DWIGHT—196 beds; standard of treatment satisfactory; food good; no complaints of abuse or neglect; there is no canteen; recreational facilities are adequate for the present but provision should be made for the younger patients; transportation is poor, there being only two trains a day and no ambulance service; a "decent" home for nurses is needed.

WOOD [Milwaukee, Wis.]—1,403 beds; staff morale and discipline fair; numerous complaints made by patients of treatment but none in writing and no details available; need eight more doctors and 65 civilian attendants; too much red tape; no use being made of medical men available at Marquette university and the specialists in Milwaukee; place is ruled by regulations instead of by common sense; canteen is too small and should be operated by the government and not by a concessionaire; physicians have too much paper work; food is good and the library is well stocked.

MENDOTA [Wis.]—276 beds; veterans object to going to this facility because it is immediately adjacent to the state hospital for insane, and in Wisconsin going to "Mendota" means "going to the asylum"; the name should be changed; the management feels it does not have enough local authority to operate the hospital efficiently and that it is subject to undue restrictions and regulations.

INDIANAPOLIS [Ind.]—345 patients; pay disgracefully low and help needed badly; some complaints of discourtesy toward patients by physicians; the manager and medical officer need more latitude for direct action in keeping with good judgment and there should be an elimination of red tape imposed by the central office in Washington; quality of physicians, nurses, and attendants is poor; due to incompetent help, meals altho properly prepared, are served cold; the occupational therapist, "Miss Butts, is too intent on her own theories and not on those of the patients, especially the bedridden patients."

MARION [Ind.]—2,015 beds and 165 more needed; pay is poor and help is needed; the medical treatment of the patients is good but there are reports of patients being abused that should be investigated; there is overcrowding and red tape and control from Washington prevents the most efficient operation.

Numerous state reports said additional recreational facilities will be needed for the veterans.

With Elmer Schnackenberg and Thomas J. Courtney, newly elected to the Circuit bench, the new judges will be assigned Friday.

POLICE SEARCH FOR LANGFORD WEAPON FAILS

New York, June 12 (AP)—A pen knife and a nickel were the fruits today of a police search of nearby sewers for the gun used in the slaying of Albert E. Langford, 63 year old textile executive, a week ago. Police said the search near Langford's hotel apartment would be continued today.

The district attorney's office reported that 16 hours of questioning of Robert Redwing, self-styled Indian chief, and Reed Lawton, former night club singer and one time protege of Mrs. Marion Grimes Langford, widow of the slain man, had disclosed nothing to aid in solving the crime.

Assistant District Atty. Jacob Grumet said the pair was questioned concerning reports that Redwing had helped arrange the marriage of the Langfords.

Meantime, Carl Rood, attorney for the Langfords, issued a statement which said Langford had given financial aid to a woman before his marriage to Mrs. Langford. He said he issued the statement at Mrs. Langford's request. He said the aid had been "small."

8TH AIR FORCE UNIT BACK FOR REDEPLOYMENT

BY GEORGE SCHREIBER
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Camp Grant, Ill., June 12—One hundred and sixty members of the United States 8th air force, which blasted a path across France and Germany for the victorious allied armies, arrived at this redeployment center tonight, tired, a little dirty, but happy in the thought that by tomorrow afternoon they will be at their homes in Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin.

Arrival of the group, first of the combat units to be brought from Europe for additional training for the Japanese end of the war, signified the reopening of Camp Grant. The men, with a small sprinkling of officers, will be given furloughs of 30 days for rest and recreation before again taking up their training.

Greeted by Camp Commander

The first man to step from the crowded two car train was greeted by Lt. Col. Forrest W. Edwards, camp commander. He was Master Sgt. Edward T. Nepyjwoda, 27, of 4242 S. Talman av., who grinned shyly when asked if he was married.

"Yep," he said, "as a matter of fact I've been married a little more than a month now. My wife, Winifred, is 23 years old and lived near London. She's on her way back to the good old United States now. I suppose I won't be here to see her when she arrives, but we got a date with those Nips. I'd like to go back to my job as a clerk in the county clerk's office, but I guess we got another job to do right now.

The new arrivals may have been tired after their Atlantic crossing on a troop transport and their long train ride from an eastern port of debarkation, but they were practically unanimous in the determination to take a crack at the Japs.

Pay Day Is Today

As they stepped from the train they were taken into a long building where they were served coffee, cake, and milk. It was surprising how many turned down the GI coffee for the milk.

Tomorrow morning those who need them will be given new clothes so that they can appear before their relatives and friends in the style the army wants them to maintain. Next they will visit the paymaster.

Just before noon they will be given tickets to their home towns. At 1:08 p. m. a special train will leave the post with all of the men aboard.

Other Chicagoans who arrived were:

N. U. TO CONFER EARNED DEGREE ON JUDGE MINER

Goes to Class Before Court Opening

Among the 1,450 students who will march up the grass covered aisle on Northwestern university's Deering meadow in Evanston to receive their diplomas today will be a man who for three years has been leading a double life.

Judge J. H. Miner

In one he was a hard working judge and respected civic leader; in the other a student and popular classmate.

Early Classes Before Court

The new graduate—who will receive the master of laws degree, highest awarded this year by the college of law—will be Chief Justice Julius H. Miner of the Circuit court.

For three years Judge Miner has attended early morning classes at the Chicago law school campus of the university then has hurried to the county building to open court at 10 a. m.

"Judge Miner became one of our most popular students," Dean Leon Green, head of the Northwestern law school, said. "He was a fine student and his industry was an example to many of his fellows."

Author of Law Articles

In his spare time during the last few years, Chief Justice Miner wrote several articles on the technical phases of Illinois law, among them "Some Constitutional Aspects of Housing Legislation," which was his thesis for his master's degree; "Equitable Relief for Minor Beneficiaries," "Religion and Law," and several text books on mechanics' liens and bank liquidaton.

Judge Miner was graduated from the Kent College of Law in 1917. In 1924, when he was 28, he was appointed master in chancery and served for 16 years. Four years ago he was elected to the Circuit court bench.

HOW RUSSIANS CAME TO LAND OF WAR LORDS

Junkers Sweat in Fields, Ex-Internee Says

new. They were freshly shaven and spotlessly clean. They were Russians—the first we'd ever seen.

I stepped out to meet them.

"American prisoner of war," I said, using the Russian words I had carefully rehearsed for weeks.

They looked at me and smiled. "All right," they answered in Russian.

One of the German soldiers jumped out of the rear window of the farmhouse and escaped into the dense woods. His companion stood listlessly before the door with his hands raised above his head in a gesture of surrender.

Take No Prisoner

The Russians, a lieutenant and a corporal, searched the German for hidden arms. They glanced momentarily at his wehrmacht pass. They took away his wrist watch and wedding ring. Then they gruffly ordered him to face about. The lieutenant raised his pistol. There was a sharp report and the German slumped to the ground. The Red army was taking no prisoners in its advance thru Pomerania.

Later, while lunching on pork and potatoes prepared by our trembling hostess, the lieutenant—he was about 20—explained he was from Odessa and that his father had been murdered by Hitler's SS men. His mother and two youthful sisters had been deported for work in Germany.

"I have had no news of them since," he remarked grimly. "They're probably dead, too."

His pistol was beside him on the table. He seized it wildly and pointed it at the old peasant woman who was bringing us a pitcher of milk.

"All Germans must die," he cried.

Shoots at Woman

I gripped his arm and the shot ripped a hole in the ceiling. When I told him the woman had provided shelter and protected us during the German retreat he quieted down. Marcel and I together could speak enough Russian to get elementary ideas across.

The Russians are highly excitable and as fond as desert Arabs of shooting for its own sake.

Day and night cities and villages occupied by the Red army in Germany ring with rifle and revolver shots. Most of them are fired at such harmless targets as telegraph poles or milestones. But they keep the inhabitants in a constant state of terror. Germans are never allowed to forget that they are at the mercy of the victors whose ways are strange and mysterious as the Siberian forests and Mongolia plains from which the Red army recruits some of its toughest fighting men.

DAD-TO-GI CLUBS TO SPUR BONDS ON FATHER'S DAY

Local committees, clubs, and other organizations thruout the Chicago area will join with members of Dad to GI Joe clubs next Sunday—Father's day—in observances and bond rallies, it was announced yesterday by Lawrence F. Stern, chairman of the Chicago and Cook county war finance committee.

Stern said meetings will be held in many places and hundreds of additional bonds for men and women in the army and navy will be purchased by fathers, mothers, relatives, guardians, and friends.

Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts and school organization members will ring the bell for GI Joe and escort fathers to war bond rallies all over Chicago and its environs. Don McKiernan, chairman of the treasury's special events division, said his organization will be glad to help plan Father's day and Dad to GI Joe meetings if those in charge will call State 2940. The Dad to GI Joe idea, suggested in an editorial in THE TRIBUNE, is the June theme of the pay roll savings division of the national war finance committee.

PATRIOT GROUPS TO OBSERVE FLAG DAY TOMORROW

Flag day will be observed here tomorrow "with a fresh sense of our strength as a nation," as requested by President Truman, at special ceremonies conducted by American Legion posts and other patriotic organizations.

The Cook county council of the American Legion, in coöperation with the Sidney D. Anderson post, will hold one of the largest ceremonies at the Congress st. plaza on Michigan av. at 7 p. m. The nation's championship drum and bugle corps of the Commonwealth Edison post will play at the opening and closing of the program. James T. Ringley, past state commander, will give the principal address.

A Flag day meeting of the Sons of the Revolution in Illinois will be held tomorrow evening in the Union League club, and a Flag day celebration of the German Club of Chicago will be held at 12:30 p. m. tomorrow in the Mural room of the Bismarck hotel.

STATE TO CHECK LIQUOR 'TIE-INS' WITH OPA RULES

An immediate conference with office of price administration officials on the problem of "tie-in" purchases of slow selling wines and liquors and popular whiskies was promised yesterday by Charles J. Fleck, chairman of the Illinois liquor control commission.

The charge made by tavern keepers that they are forced to purchase inferior brands of liquor in order to obtain whisky will be investigated thoroly, he said, both on its legality under OPA ceilings and for possible discrimination against some tavern owners and the public generally.

Meanwhile, Judge John P. Barnes in federal District court entered a triple damage judgment of $41,068 against the Sunrise Distributing company, 215 N. Aberdeen st., on a charge of selling 200 barrels of whisky at nearly double the ceiling price. Twenty-five similar suits are pending in federal court.

BATTLE AT N. U. TOLD BY FOES OF VIVISECTION

Yesterday will be remembered as D day—D for dog—by three women who visited the Northwestern university medical school laboratories on the Chicago campus. The ladies wanted to see how the dogs used in scientific research were treated.

The trio consisted of Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin, head of Orphans of the Storm—a shelter for homeless dogs—Mrs. Charles M. Petkus, vice president of the Illinois Citizens Animal Welfare league, and Mrs. Charles C. Rutson, managing director of the league.

Carry Dog Down

Here is Mrs. Petkus' version of what happened:

"In the laboratory on the 14th floor of the medical building we found three dying dogs lying in pools of water in a wet cage. We took one out—a little brown dog—and put him in a dry box, but a Dr. [Henry] Schwerma put him back in the cage. We summoned a photographer to take a picture for proof to the health department. Laboratory aids wouldn't let the photographer in. So we carried the dog down. We had to walk down 14 floors because they wouldn't let us use the elevator.

"No sooner had we reached the sidewalk than we were physically attacked by Dr. Ivy [Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, famed Northwestern physiologist], who snatched the dog away from us. He grabbed it by its neck and flung it to the grass. Two other men were pushing us around.

Woman Knocked Down

"We tried to pick up the dog. A man knocked Mrs. Rutson down. Our clothing was ripped. I finally got hold of the dog again and, with it in my arms, turned to run. Dr. Ivy ran after me. He tore the dog out of my arms and again tossed it aside.

"Another man grabbed the dog and carried it back into the building."

Mrs. Rutson's version:

"It was a pretty rough fight. Mrs. McLaughlin had the dog first, but a man jerked it from her arms and threw it on the lawn. I tried to pick up the dog, when some one swung at me. I went down, and so did he. Dr. Ivy then had me by the arms—one is pretty severely bruised.

Throws Dog in Air

"He also grabbed Mrs. McLaughlin, and when Mrs. Petkus started running with the dog in her arms he went after her, grabbed the dog by the nape of the neck and threw it into the air."

Dr. Ivy's version:

FREED OF LEAVING CHILDREN CHARGE

Mrs. Betty Krueger, 31, of 9640 Avenue L, brought into court on a disorderly conduct charge last December when she allegedly left her 4 year old twin daughters and 2 year old son alone while she made the rounds of the taverns, was discharged by Judge Joseph P. Hermes in South Chicago court yesterday.

REPORT SYRIANS ACCEPT PLAN FOR 3-POWER PARLEY

LONDON, June 12—Syria has accepted the Arab league recommendation to submit the Levant problem to a three power conference, diplomatic observers here reported tonight.

This is the course which has been advocated by Britain and the United States who want to discuss the issues with France alone rather than at a five power parley such as Gen. de Gaulle has suggested.

Some members of the Arab league, which has been meeting in Cairo, Egypt, earlier favored five power talks in the hope of having the Palestine, Iraq, and Egyptian problems brought up at the same time.

It was reported Edward Grigg, British middle eastern minister, informed the Egyptian delegation that Britain wished to consider only the Levant problem. This view, it was said, was supported by Egypt with the result the Arab league dropped the idea of five power talks.

Diplomats believe that if Britain and the United States hold out for a three power meeting France will be obliged to accede.

16,845 TROOPS ARRIVE IN N. Y. ABOARD 9 SHIPS

New York, June 12 (AP)—Nine ships today brought from the European theater of operations 16,845 troops, including liberated prisoners, setting an all-time record for a single day's arrivals in New York.

Largest load of returning soldiers was aboard the giant navy transport William S. Benson which carried 5,012 liberated prisoners and 184 members of the 97th infantry division headquarters staff.

The ships carried men from the 1st, 4th, and 45th divisions, the 3d Ranger division, the 4th, 7th, and 9th armored divisions, and airmen shot down over Germany.

Three Liberty ships also arrived from the Mediterranean with veterans of Gen. George S. Patton's 3d army; 29th division infantry men, members of the 94th division, the 8th and 9th air forces; 5th army men, among whom were elements of the 34th, 85th, 88th, and 91st divisions, including some Japanese-Americans, and members of the 15th air force.

10 NAVY ROCKET SHOWS TO BOOST 7TH LOAN SALES

In a naval demonstration to stimulate interest in the 7th war loan, rockets of the types that are smashing the Japs from both sea and air will be fired from Chicago beaches beginning Friday night.

Other demonstrations will be held daily at 8 p. m. for 10 days at the Foster av., 14th st., and 63d st. beaches. Before the firing the public will be admitted to an exhibit of the latest types of rockets used by the navy.

ANOTHER SECRET IN MUSSOLINI'S LOVE LIFE BARED

BY P. E. BRIQUET
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

CHIASSO, Switzerland, June 12—New details of a well kept secret episode in Benito Mussolini's love life were disclosed today in the Milan newspaper Giornale Lombardo. Elena Curti, who confessed while held in a Milan jail that she was the one-time duce's illegitimate daughter, was born Oct. 18, 1922, 10 days before the fascist march on Rome.

Her mother, Angela Cucciati, 45, beautiful and still fashionably dressed, apparently maintained her amorous relations with Mussolini, according to the newspaper account, while he continued his affair with Clara Petacci, who was executed with him at Como in April. She had a son, born in 1919, by her husband, from whom she has been separated for 15 years.

Often Visited Mussolini

Mrs. Cucciati maintained an elegant apartment in Milan, where her two children lived. However, she spent most of her time in Rome until Italy's armistice with the allies.

When Mussolini settled at Lake Garda after the creation of his republic, Mrs. Cucciati would journey to his villa frequently. Her trips aroused much gossip among the neighbors. Elena also went to see her father, usually traveling in one of the duce's black limousines.

After the armistice, Elena's brother volunteered for service in Mussolini's neo-fascist army and was appointed a captain. Elena was a member of the women's army corps. She was a good stenographer and was registered as a student in the University of Milan. She became secretary to Alessandro Pavolini, one of Mussolini's henchmen, who also was executed at Como. Her mother said she had a great future ahead of her. Elena was caught in Pavolini's car while attempting to escape to Lake Como.

Find Love Letters

On April 26, Mussolini sent his limousine to Mrs. Cucciati's home in Milan. Her luggage was quickly dumped into the car and she sped to Como to be with the duce.

The newspaper reported the Cucciati home was searched and in it were found packages of love letters, photographs, and newspaper clippings marked: "For the Duce."

13 Car Derailment Ties Up North Western 9 Hours

Traffic on the Chicago and North Western railroad tracks at Wheaton was tied up more than nine hours yesterday after 13 cars of an 81-car freight train piled up at 4:30 a. m. No one was injured. One of the three tracks blocked was opened at 2:05 p. m. and another late in the afternoon. All tracks were expected to be in operation this morning.

LONDON GIVES HIGHEST HONORS TO EISENHOWER

Receives Order of Merit from King

LONDON, June 12 (AP)—Amid all the pomp and pageantry of the centuries old English court, the city of London today bestowed its highest honor of "freeman" on Gen. Eisenhower, who just 30 years ago today was graduated from West Point as a second lieutenant.

Later, at an informal tea at Buckingham palace, King George VI. invested the victorious allied commander in chief with the order of merit, second only to the order of the bath, first class, among the honors by which Britain rewards its heroes.

Gen. Ike was acclaimed by the rank and file of Londoners on a triumphant drive thru the streets, and then at the ancient bomb scarred Guildhall by a throng of cheering dignitaries, to whom he was introduced as the "genius" who steered the allied armies to victory.

Will Get Special Sword

As a token of recognition of his great leadership, the soldier from Abilene, Kas., was presented with the gold decorated sword carried by the duke of Wellington at the battle of Waterloo. After the colorful ceremony the sword was returned to the museum, where it had rested for nearly 100 years, and in its stead Eisenhower will receive a sword being specially forged with his name engraved on the blade.

"The high sense of distinction I feel in receiving this great honor from the city of London is inescapably mingled with feelings of profound sadness," he said. "All of us must always regret that your country and mine were ever faced with the tragic situation that compelled the appointment of an allied commander in chief."

"But," he added, "the fact that is important for both of us to remember is that neither London nor Abilene, which are sisters under the skin, will sell her birthright for physical safety or her liberty for her existence. . . ." He also referred to Texas, his birthplace.

First to Receive Decoration

Speaking of Eisenhower's tact and skill in his relations with the British commanders under him, the lord chamberlain said: "I would that we could claim you as a fellow citizen, but that cannot be, for you owe allegiance to that great country which is bound to us by the greatest ties of affection and common ancestry."

Eisenhower was the fourth American to receive the freedom of the city. The others were Gen. Pershing, Gen. Grant, and Theodore Roosevelt. He was the first American soldier to receive the order of merit, which was instituted by King Edward VII. in 1902 as a personal honor from the king.

In accepting the freedom of the city, Eisenhower said: "If all the allied men and women who have served with me in this war can know that it is they this august body is really honoring today, then indeed I will be content."

Loaded with British honors, Eisenhower planned to return to his headquarters at Frankfort on the Main tomorrow. Thursday he will go to Paris to receive the new order of liberation from Gen. De Gaulle at ceremonies under the Arc de Triomphe. A farewell press conference is scheduled in Paris on Friday, and on Saturday Gen. Ike will leave for home.

POPE'S APPEAL TO KEEP ITALY AT PEACE TOLD

Letter to Mussolini Is Revealed

VATICAN CITY, June 12 (AP)—Pope Pius XII, in a letter to Benito Mussolini less than two months before Italy entered the war on the side of Germany on June 10, 1940, appealed to the duce to spare the country "such a great calamity," the Vatican disclosed today.

Mussolini replied that if Italy entered the conflict it would be because her "honor and interests in the future will absolutely demand her to do it," said an 18 page pamphlet issued by the Vatican outlining the Holy See's fruitless efforts to keep Italy at peace.

The booklet pictured the late Count Galeazzo Ciano, former Italian foreign minister, as striving in words at least to keep Italy neutral until a few months before she declared war on Britain and France.

Second Outline of Policy

Cardinal Maglione, late papal secretary of state, informed former United States Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles on March 18, 1940, that "in Italy the people are against the war," the pamphlet said.

Entitled "The Work of Peace of the Holy See and Italy," the pamphlet constituted the second pronouncement in less than two weeks on the Vatican's policy toward the war.

Pope Pius' letter to Mussolini, written April 24, 1940, was described by the booklet as an "extreme attempt" on the part of the pontiff to "save the peace of the Italian people."

Duce Cites Church History

Referring to the pope's letter as a "grave and paternal message," the pamphlet said that Mussolini, in reply, asserted that the history of the church demonstrated that it never had accepted a formula of peace "at any cost," of "peace without justice," or of a peace which might irreparably compromise the destiny of the Italian people.

The pamphlet described the pope as being particularly interested in keeping Italy out of the war because it was the seat of the Vatican.

THIS IS A SAFE QUESTION

IKE CALLS FOR 'FACTS' TO AID U. S. AND BRITAIN

LONDON, June 12 (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower, responding to a toast to his health at the lord mayor's luncheon today, said the basis of all coöperation between the United States and Britain "must be common knowledge of the facts."

Giving two examples of his meaning, he said:

"How many of you here know that after the birth of my nation we fought you for a year and three months with everything we had to make you admit that we were English citizens?

"How many people in my country do you suppose know that about the year 1886 a British ship went into Havana harbor alone and defied the entire fortifications of the Spanish harbor and said: 'If you touch a hair on the head of Americans we will shoot'?"

INCIDENT MISLOCATED

Eisenhower apparently referred to the "Virginius affair" of 1873, but mislocated it.

An American vessel named the Virginius was captured on the high seas by Spaniards in 1873 and taken into Santiago harbor where after a hasty trial the captain and 57 others, mostly Americans and British, were shot.

The lives of 97 other persons were saved by Lambton Lorraine, captain of the British man of war Niobe, who sailed into the harbor and declared: "Shoot another Englishman or American and the Niobe will bombard Santiago." The executions stopped immediately.

INJURED BY ELEVATOR WEIGHT

David Levin, 58, of 3526 W. 13th pl., was taken to St. Luke's hospital yesterday with a skull fracture suffered when an elevator counterpoise weight fell on him at 1130 S. Wabash av.

TRUMAN ASKS $1,500 PAY RAISE FOR CONGRESS

BY PHILIP DODD
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., June 12—President Truman recommended today that the pay of members of congress be increased immediately from $10,000 to $11,500 a year and that it be raised to at least $15,000 after war time wage and salary controls are lifted.

In a letter to Sen. McKellar [D., Tenn.], president pro tempore of the senate, and Speaker Rayburn [D., Tex.] of the house, the President called for an adjustment of congressional salaries within the Little Steel formula, which permits a 15 per cent increase. Senators and representatives now receive $10,000.

"When these wage and salary controls are lifted," the President wrote, "congressional salaries should be raised to at least $15,000."

House, Senate in Dispute

The President's action was seen in congressional circles as a move to mediate differences between the house and senate over compensation for their members. Representatives recently voted themselves an extra $2,500 a year for expenses, but the senate refused to follow suit for its members, after sharply criticizing the house action.

In a statement last week the President said that congressmen and senators should receive between $15,000 and $20,000 a year, but said nothing about keeping within the Little Steel formula. Acting on the Presidential word, Senators Bridges [R., N. H.] and Overton [D., La.] introduced a bill increasing congressional salaries to $20,000 a year.

Senate Defeated 15% Plan

Bridges, in an interview today, said the President's proposal was agreeable to him. He recalled that during debate on the $2,500 expense item in the senate he had proposed a 15 per cent "Little Steel" raise for members of congress, but that it had been defeated in the senate.

In his letter to McKellar and Rayburn, Mr. Truman said that members of congress should receive pay "commensurate with the nature and volume of their work."

"Equality between their pay and their job may never be achieved," the President wrote, "but certainly there should be less inequity than at present. Under any measuring rod, the members of the federal legislature are underpaid.

"No business concern or private organization would even attempt to hire top flight executives or advisors at the level of salaries which presently prevails in the American congress."

GEN. IKE TELLS SOLDIERS' HOPE FOR FREE PRESS

New York, June 12 (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower, in a letter written before V-E day and released tonight, said "every soldier in this war has the right to hope that all peoples may have, at the very least, the advantages of a free press and the free exchange of information thruout the world."

The letter, dated Jan. 26, 1945, was addressed to Wilbur Forrest, chairman of a committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors which made a world tour in the interests of freedom of the press.

Gen. Eisenhower's letter said:

"It is disturbing and distressing to me to contemplate the possibility that in the future some ruthless individual may be enabled to seize arbitrary power, and thru his own manufactured propaganda, nurture and develop the fanatical tendencies which we find today in so many nazi prisoners of war."

PREMIER KING'S VICTORY LAID TO POST-WAR PLAN

Conscription Fails as an Election Issue

BY ARTHUR EVANS
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

OTTAWA, Ont., June 12—The return of Prime Minister Mackenzie King's Liberal government to power yesterday was attributed today by many leaders to support of the post-war plans of the King government. King himself sounded this note.

Almost complete returns today, with only five districts missing, give the Liberals 118 seats of the 245 in the house of commons which is short of a clear majority. But eight Quebec Independent Liberals are counted on as ready to come into the party tent and assure an over-all majority for the government. Parliament is to meet in September. In the last parliament the Liberals had 155 seats.

Prime Minister King's great mainstay in the election was French-Canadian Quebec, old stronghold of the Liberals. In Ontario, altho the Progressive-Conservatives gained 20 new seats out of the province's 82, the gains did not parallel the Conservative sweep in the Ontario election a week ago.

A feature of the election was the way the conscription issue appears to have blown up. After the surrender of Germany the Liberals argued conscription was washed out of the campaign and that post-war affairs and conduct of the war against Japan would be main issues in the campaign.

Mayor Houde Defeated

John Bracken, leader of the Tories, argued for conscription in the war against Japan.

In the west it does not appear to have affected results much, while in Quebec the results show the province still placing traditional reliance on the Liberals as best protector of Quebec rights and interests. The party elected 45 of the 65 seats.

Mayor Camillien Houde of Montreal, who was interned for four years for advising French-Canadians not to register for the draft, was defeated in his first bid for parliament.

The Progressive-Conservatives [Tories] won 46 Ontario districts, and the Liberals, 35. Ontario normally has been more consistently Conservative than any other.

As official opposition party, the Conservatives elected 62, a gain of 22 over their number in the last parliament.

C. C. F. Gains 16 Seats

In some districts the soldier vote may affect results where the contests have been close. This vote is to be tabulated within 10 days.

One feature of the election was the poor showing made by the Co-operative Commonwealth federation [Socialist] in the eastern provinces.

The C. C. F. gained 16 seats in the house over its former membership, all in the west.

BURGLAR FINDS DOG BETTER ACCOMPLICE THAN HUMAN BEING

Harry Carroll

Harry Carroll, 26, said to be absent without leave from the army and former resident of the trailer camp at 95th st. and Harlem av., was held in the Oak Lawn village jail yesterday and his Spitz dog, Butch, was in more scrupulous hands, after the dissolution of the first man-dog burglary team in the history of Oak Lawn.

Police Chief Neil Mool, who arrested Carroll and took the first step in the reformation of Butch by giving him to an honest family, said Carroll admitted developing an unusual burglary technique.

"Carroll would shove the dog into a house thru a window or door, and then enter himself," Mool said. "If challenged Carroll would explain he was merely looking for his dog. Butch would come running when he whistled to substantiate his story. If nobody was home the burglary proceeded along conventional lines."

Carroll was arrested after he enlisted a human accomplice, Robert Thompson, 16, of 1009 Marion st., Oak Lawn, in the $1,100 burglary of the home of Stanley Pecor, 9636 49th av., in the suburb. Thompson, who confessed and implicated Carroll, was to be turned over to juvenile authorities and Carroll to military police, Mool said.

BAN ON RELIGION CLASS IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS ASKED

U. of I. Teacher Calls It 'Disease'

Champaign, Ill., June 12 (AP)—Describing religion as a "chronic disease" of the imagination contracted in childhood, a University of Illinois physical education instructor today asked the Champaign county Circuit court to halt religious education classes in the Champaign public schools.

Mrs. Vashti McCollum, who filed the petition, said she is being assisted by the Chicago Action council and that the council regards the suit as a "test case" for schools thruout the state. Her petition said she is an "atheist or rationalist."

Asks Mandamus Writ

Mrs. McCollum asked the court for a writ of mandamus ordering the school board to prohibit religious education classes which have been taught here for five years by representatives of Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish faiths in half hour periods each week.

Mrs. McCollum alleged her son, James Terry, 10, who is in the sixth grade, was "embarrassed" because he was the only child in his class who does not take the course.

School Supt. E. H. Mellon said the school district has no administration over the program and pays none of its expenses. The classes are sponsored by the Council for Religious Education, which was founded by the Champaign Ministerial association. Consent of parents is required before students are enrolled for the classes, which last year had an enrollment of 754.

Laments Lost Time

Mrs. McCollum charged school time is lost when classrooms are "invaded" by the religious teachers and the classes are taught in school buildings maintained by tax funds. She objected to this as a taxpayer.

Delos Huxtable, school board president, said he received a letter last week—demanding the classes be halted. It was signed, he said, by Mrs. McCollum, the Rev. Randall S. Hilton, the Rev. Paul J. Folino, Rabbi Jacob J. Weinstein, Robert S. Greenfield of the Chicago Action council, and Ira Latimer of the Civil Liberties committee. Huxtable said he understood the clergymen are from Chicago.

OPENING GUN IN FIGHT

Robert S. Greenfield, a member of the Chicago Action council, said last night the organization represents about 1,800 business men and women and is designed to fight for Constitutional rights. "This case," he said, "is the opening gun in our fight on religious education in public schools. Such education violates the Constitutional amendment providing for the separation of the church and state."

CLOSED NO PACT WITH PETAIN, CHURCHILL SAYS

LONDON, June 12 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill disclosed in commons today that secret talks had been held with representatives of the Vichy regime in 1940, but denied that any hidden agreement had been concluded with Marshal Petain.

Petain, who will face trial for treason in Paris, has suggested that his defense will be based, at least partly, on the contention he had an understanding with Churchill and the United States thru Adm. William D. Leahy, then United States ambassador to Vichy.

The prime minister said that while Vichy sent an emissary to London four months after France fell, the object of the mission seemed to be to size up Britain's ability to hold out against the Germans.

Tells of Message Exchanges

In giving his account of those critical days in 1940, Churchill said he wanted to "correct any misunderstanding which might have been caused by very inaccurate reports which have been published on this subject."

He said that "after the withdrawal of the French ambassador from London in 1940, the British government sought to maintain contact with Marshal Petain and his ministers thru less direct channels, in hopes of encouraging them to keep up the maximum of passive resistance to the enemy.

"To this end a series of messages was exchanged with the Vichy administration during the autumn of 1940, thru British and French representatives in a neutral capital."

British Goal Defined

Specifically, the object of the exchanges was "to obtain assurances from Vichy that they would not surrender the French fleet to the Germans, nor allow the Germans to obtain control of French overseas territory, nor themselves attack French colonies which had rallied to Gen. De Gaulle," Churchill asserted.

If such assurances had been received, Churchill added, Great Britain would have been prepared to negotiate "a modus viviendi whereby limited trade would have been permitted thru the blockade by metropolitan France and African territories under Vichy control."

Nothing came of these proposals, said Churchill, the replies were unsatisfactory, "and it soon became clear that Vichy was too much under German duress to be able to give adequate assurances on the points in question or to carry them out."

Captives Still in Red Zone

In another commons statement James Grigg, war secretary, said some liberated British prisoners still were in parts of central and southern Europe occupied by the Russians, and representations had been made to get them back to British lines.

Grigg said Britain had tried to obtain a list of names of those held by the Russians, but thought it was "a rather hopeless" task.

HOPKINS HOME FROM MOSCOW; VISITS TRUMAN

Washington, D. C., June 12 (AP)—Harry Hopkins returned from Moscow today and reported to President Truman on his talks with Marshal Stalin.

The President's emissary had no comment for reporters as he stepped, tired but smiling, from the army transport plane that brought him from Paris. Mr. Truman is scheduled to discuss Russian-American relations at his news conference tomorrow.

Hopkins went directly from the airport to the White House. He talked but "a very few minutes" with Mr. Truman, Press Secretary Charles G. Ross reported, and left a written report for the President's overnight study.

Ross said Hopkins and Joseph E. Davies, who returned recently from a mission to London, were invited to a breakfast conference with the President tomorrow to go over final details of their reports. Fleet Adm. Leahy, chief of staff to the President, also was invited.

Hopkins, long a confidant of the late President Roosevelt, and Davies, former ambassador to Russia, went from Washington May 23 to lay the groundwork for a meeting of the President with Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill.

Swiss to Investigate Treatment by Russians

BERN, Switzerland, June 12 (AP)—The Basler Nachrichten said today information brought from Budapest by legation personnel and other Swiss had led the government to undertake a formal inquiry into the treatment of Swiss nationals during the Russian occupation of the Hungarian capital. About 30 members of the Budapest legation staff have been accounted for, but one secretary and one clerk are reported still missing.

VOTE WITHOUT ISSUES TO NAME EIRE PRESIDENT

DUBLIN, Eire, June 12 (AP)—Eire will choose a new president on Thursday in a national election that is more a popularity contest than a political campaign. There are three colorful candidates in the field to succeed Dr. Douglas Hyde, 85, Irish scholar, who will retire next month, but they have been unable to whip up much enthusiasm.

Despite the lack of other issues, Premier Eamon de Valera has taken the stump for his candidate, Deputy Premier Sean T. O'Kelly. This has resulted in the other candidates charging him with trying to impose complete "dictatorship."

While O'Kelly is regarded as the overwhelming favorite, he is opposed by two candidates as colorful as himself—Gen. Sean Maceoin, a leader of the opposition Fine Gael party, and Dr. Patrick MacCartan of Dublin, who returned to Ireland from New York City eight years ago. All three were leaders in Ireland's fight for independence, and O'Kelly and Maceoin served time in British jails.

LITTLE NATIONS AND BIG 5 NEAR VETO SHOWDOWN

Major Powers Flatten Out All Opposition

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

San Francisco, Cal., June 12—Behind closed doors in a late session of a world security conference committee tonight the little nations are making a last stand against a great power's privilege to veto measures to preserve peace.

During the day, however, the steam roller of the Big Five powers—the United States, Great Britain, Russia, France, and China—had flattened out most of the opposition.

As the ranks of the little countries broke, Australian Foreign Minister Evatt rallied them to hold out for a provision whereby a big power veto will not be applicable to future amendment of the charter of the prospective world peace league. That would prevent a great power from vetoing a future amendment abolishing the veto of peaceful settlement of international disputes.

Vote on Veto Near

Voting on this and other questions involved in the battle between the big and little nations was to begin at the meeting of the committee which at a late hour was still in session.

Earlier in the evening the Big Five met and took steps to speed up the conference and enable President Truman to address its final session next week. The charter is to be submitted in sections to the governments as fast as completed and the signing of the document in five languages in the final session is to be simplified to save time. Otherwise it would consume an entire day.

The Big Five also attempted to revise the charter section exempting a nation's purely domestic matters from interference by the league. The Australians fear that the exemption as now phrased would not be a sufficient guarantee of noninterference in their immigration restrictions, particularly their exclusion of Chinese. With China in their club, the Big Five found this matter so delicate it was handed right back to a committee to sweat over.

Second Session of Day

The session of the committee dealing with the veto was the second one during the day. In the first one there were three hours of oratory in which the little nations deplored the big powers' insistence on the privilege of vetoing peaceful settlements and wound up with fervent hopes that the veto would be used with discretion.

New Zealand Prime Minister Fraser said New Zealand is fundamentally opposed to the veto from A to Z but "we must believe the wording of the five power paper." He asked the Big Five not to close the door to amendment in the future and suggested that amendments be permitted by two-thirds vote with no nation having a veto.

He said the big powers should be applauded for getting together as much as they have and it is clear that there was not complete understanding either at Dumbarton Oaks or Yalta. He thought the big powers are unable to interpret the veto power precisely because they can't agree on specific details among themselves, but praising the charter on the whole, Fraser indicated he is going along to support the veto.

Calls Unanimity Essential

Ambassador Gromyko of Russia said Russia regarded the Dumbarton Oaks proposals as essential to a world organization. The big powers had not tried to give specific answers to the 20 questions regarding the veto, he went on, but the Big Five paper contained the substance of their views. He said other questions will arise in the future, but will be solved if unity is preserved.

British Ambassador Halifax drew the longest applause of the last two meetings.

"All these speeches this morning are leading toward a crucial vote on voting procedure," he said. "Each of you delegates has a great responsibility to your country. Whether this voting procedure is accepted will determine whether there is a world forum.

"The traditional policy of Great Britain has been to uphold the rights of small nations but we are entering a new world and may need new instruments. The unanimity of the Big Five is essential. Without it the charter will be only another monument." He said the interpretation statement represented the highest common denominator of agreement among the Big Five and cannot be further modified. "It must be accepted or rejected," he continued. "There can be no world forum without it. I think there has been too much emphasis placed on the question of voting procedure. The word of the paper means exactly what it says."

Evict Two Service Men's Wives

Two service men's wives, with their small babies and elderly father, were evicted in the rain from their apartment at 3848 N. Central Park av. yesterday.

One of the women's husbands, George J. Hartmann, 26, seaman in the merchant marine for the last two years, returned home on a 30 day leave to find his furniture piled on the sidewalk, and both his wife and 5 month old son crying. The other sister's husband, Gerald Koepke, 29, aviation electrician's mate in the navy, is in California. Their child is 3 years old.

The sisters resided with their father, Frank Duffy; elder sister, Mrs. Helen Rapell, a widow, and brother, Sgt. Ray Duffy, now in Belgium. They were notified to move last February when the building in which they had lived for seven years was purchased by August Ciresi, a leather worker. They have been unable to find another apartment during the subsequent months.

For the next few days they will stay with another sister, Mrs. Philip Lucas, 2053 N. Keeler av., and her family.

INDIAN LEADER SAYS POVERTY IS CHIEF PROBLEM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

San Francisco, Cal., June 12—Tyab Shaikh, a leader of the Indian radical Democratic party and the Indian Federation of Labor, said today the problem of poverty in India must be solved before there can be any independence or freedom there. Independence without solution of that problem means "nothing more than a mere transfer of power from the British government to a fractional privileged minority of the Indian people," he said.

Shaikh is attending the world security conference here as an accredited correspondent for an Indian daily newspaper and made his remarks at a press conference.

He said that his party proposes to alleviate poverty thru an agrarian revolution and "changes in ownership of the land." If India is industrialized without such changes it will be "for the benefit of the rich to get richer," he said. The British government has promised India the right of self-determination and freedom and the radical Democrats are willing to give Britain a chance to carry out that pledge, he said.

DRAFT STATUTE ON WORLD COURT AT CONFERENCE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

San Francisco, Cal., June 12—A world security conference committee today completed drafting a statute for a new world court. The draft now goes before the delegates of 50 nations at the conference for approval.

The tribunal is to be known as the international court of justice and is a new institution, tho erected on the foundation of the old world court created by the first league of nations covenant which was called the permanent court of international justice. The permanence of the old court, as of the old league, did not survive the second World war.

Peruvian Foreign Minister Manuel Gallagher, chairman of the drafting committee, said the new court will be a stronger tribunal than the old one for two reasons. One is that in contrast with the old court which was entirely renewed every nine years the terms of five of the 15 judges of the new court will expire every three years. The other is that a measure of enforcement of the court's decisions is provided.

Force in Enforcement Proviso

The statute of the new institution obligates the parties to a dispute submitted to the court to abide by its decision. Then if one of the litigants should fail to comply with the decision the other party may bring the matter to the attention of the peace league's security council. The security council may then consider the adoption of measures to bring about compliance—peaceful measures if possible; forceful ones if necessary.

The jurisdiction of the court is to be optional. Members of the league will not be obliged to submit disputes to the court.

Serves Also as Advisor

The court is authorized to render advisory opinions at the request of the league's general assembly and security council.

The question of advisory opinions probably will come in for a good deal of discussion in the senate when the peace league charter is submitted for ratification.

In 1926 when the question of joining the old court first came before the senate that body attached a reservation that the court should not, "without the consent of the United States, entertain any request for an advisory opinion touching any dispute or question in which the United States has or claims an interest."

With this and other conditions attached the senate voted to join the court but the 40 nations supporting the tribunal refused to accept the reservation relating to advisory opinions. Two years later a committee of jurists, including Elihu Root, worked out a compromise whereby if the league's council and the United States could not agree on the question of advisory opinions the United States could withdraw from the court without prejudice.

President Hoover submitted this protocol to the senate in 1930, recommending its ratification. Nothing was done about it, however, till 1935 when President Roosevelt urged action and the senate foreign relations committee reported it favorably.

Sen. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] succeeded, over the committee's opposition, in getting a reservation of the Monroe Doctrine attached which was essentially the same as that attached in 1926.

CIVILIAN TRAIN SPACE TO BE SLASHED SOON

Troop Shift Reaching Peak in August

BY ROBERT YOUNG
(Chicago Tribune Press Service)

Washington, D. C., June 12—J. M. Johnson, director of the office of defense transportation, disclosed today that beginning July 1 and continuing well into 1946 the average civilian will stand little chance of obtaining any kind of railroad transportation to the west coast because of the movement of troops to the Pacific and military furlough travel.

He said at a news conference that unless pleasure and nonessential civilian travel is reduced sharply in the next few weeks the government will be forced to impose a rail transportation priority or rationing system to protect essential business needs. He warned that the curtailment could be extended to the traveling of baseball teams, thru an order similar to the convention ban.

Peak Expected in August

Johnson asserted that all civilian travel thruout the nation will be affected severely by August, when the movement of troops from the east to the west coast reaches its monthly peak of an estimated 308,000 men. At that time, he said, 50 per cent of all Pullman and 10 to 12 per cent of the coach space now available to civilians will have been shifted to exclusive military use.

The ODT director said that not only rail, but plane and bus travel to the west coast will be "practically unobtainable" for the average civilian by midsummer.

"After July 1, I don't see how civilians will be able to get to the west coast without special aid," Johnson said. "The chances of civilians getting west of the Mississippi river is nil, and it's going to be difficult to find transportation from eastern cities into Chicago and along the east coast."

Might Be "Driven" to Rationing

Johnson said that when the military movements are at their height, there will be so little train space for civilians that "it will be difficult to carry on the nation's essential business." Asked what would be done to protect essential business travel, Johnson replied that the government would impose some form solutely driven to it."
of rationing or priorities—"if ab-

He explained that a rail travel priority system, similar to that used by air lines, might be devised. He called attention to the fact that train passengers at present can be "bumped" to make room for wounded soldiers and sailors.

Johnson said that within 10 months the railroads must complete a gigantic troops movement that is only one-third smaller than the previous movement that required nearly 48 months.

"The railroads say they can do the job, but how I don't know because on paper it's impossible," Johnson said. "However, they've never let us down yet."

CONGRESS PLANS 2 MONTH RECESS EARLY IN JULY

Washington, D. C., June 12 (AP)—Democratic leaders reported to President Truman today that congress probably will be ready to take a two month recess beginning early in July.

Senate Leader Barkley [Ky.] said legislation requested by President Truman for broad powers to reorganize the executive branch of the government and for expanding unemployment insurance would have to go over until after the recess because extensive hearings would be necessary.

The senate leader said the outlook now is that all appropriations bills, the price control and trade agreement extension proposals will be out of the way by July 1, with the Bretton Woods world monetary agreements probably taking a little longer.

Come on, tell me, which salesman was it?

OPPOSES TALK OF RED WAR IN DRAFT INQUIRY

Washington, D. C., June 12 (AP)—"Anti-Russian gossip" in connection with peacetime draft proposals was condemned vehemently today by Maury Maverick, head of the Smaller War Plants corporation.

Testifying before the house postwar military policy committee, the former Texas congressman warned against "loose cocktail gossip" and "Martini bleeding" that "might possibly spread to moblike thinking on a bigger scale thruout the nation."

Maverick, who favors post-war compulsory military training, took issue with witnesses who at previous sessions had suggested that the United States must keep prepared to preserve the peace in a Europe in which the soviet has expanded its sphere of influence.

Maverick said "the honest, fair, and democratic way is to have universal service—I should think at least a year, for rich and poor alike."

ANTI-POLL TAX BILL PASSED BY HOUSE, 251-105

BY LAURENCE BURD
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., June 12—Over bitter protests from southern Democrats, the house today passed the anti-poll tax bill, 251-105.

The measure, which would abolish poll taxes as a prerequisite to voting in seven southern states, now goes to the senate, where congressional leaders predicted it will be filibustered to death by southern senators. The house has approved similar legislation in each of the last two sessions of congress, only to have it die in the senate.

Voting for the anti-poll tax bill were 131 Republicans, 118 Democrats, and two minor party members, against "no" votes by 86 Democrats and 19 Republicans.

Charge Negroes Barred

Southern Democrats denounced the bill in today's debate as unconstitutional and a "communistic" step.

Proponents of the measure contended poll taxes have unfairly disfranchised 10 million voters, including 6 million Negroes, in the south. The poll tax states are Arkansas, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and Virginia.

Rep. Sumners [D., Tex.], chairman of the judiciary committee, arguing against the bill's Constitutionality, declared the Constitution assigns to the 48 states the authority to determine the qualifications of its voters. He contended the poll tax is a legal qualification.

Rep. Luce [R., Conn.] retorted that the tax violates the spirit of Constitutional guarantees against discrimination as to race, color, or creed. Rep. Marcantonio [A. L., N. Y.] asserted the poll tax is not a qualification for voting, but a "discrimination" against voters.

Ignore Truman Plea

The poll tax repealer has been bottled up in the judiciary committee since early this year, and was brought to the house floor only after a majority of members signed a discharge petition.

Meanwhile southern congressmen won an apparent victory in their fight to abolish the fair employment practices committee, when the house rules committee refused on a tie vote, 6 to 6, to report out a bill creating a permanent FEPC.

The house last week turned down attempts to provide funds for the present FEPC, existing under Presidential order, on the ground legislation to set up a permanent agency under congressional sanction was pending.

The rules committee action was in the face of a public request from President Truman that the permanent FEPC legislation be sent to the house floor.

The FEPC measure can be sent to the house floor now only if a majority of the house membership sign a "discharge" petition ordering the bill out of the rules group.

Four Republican members of the rules body and two Democrats voted to clear the FEPC bill for house action, but six Democrats were opposed. For it were Chairman Sabath [D., Ill.], Delaney [D., N. Y.], Allen [R., Ill.], Michener [R., Mich.], Halleck [R., Ind.], and Brown [R., O.]. Against were Cox [Ga.], Colmer [Miss.], Smith [Va.], Clark [N. C.], Bates [Ky.], and Slaughter [Mo.].

At the insistence of southern Democrats on the rules body, the committee postponed a vote until this afternoon to enable Slaughter to fly back from Kansas City, Mo., to the capital to vote.

a Gentleman's Whisky

• Most men agree with us that whisky should not be rough and rugged—but gentle, kindly, friendly—as Poindexter has been for 88 years.

Old Poindexter is a man's whisky, to be sure—a rich, full-bodied Kentucky Straight Bourbon.

A gentleman's whisky—with a subtle, tantalizing flavor imparted by the 40% barley malt and rye.

We haven't much Old Poindexter laid by, so month by month we can release only a little to a few of the best clubs, hotels, restaurants, bars and package stores. There it awaits the discriminating approval of men who know.

TRUMAN'S CHIEF AID IS SHIFTED AFTER CRITICISM

McKim, Halleck Target, Takes Loan Post

Washington, D. C., June 12 (AP)—Edward D. McKim, chief administrative assistant to President Truman at $10,000 a year, was transferred today to what the White House described as the job of deputy to Federal Loan Administrator John W. Snyder.

Edward D. McKim

There was no official explanation of the move. Nor could it be confirmed immediately what McKim's new salary will be. The federal loan office said his title would be administrative assistant to Snyder rather than deputy.

Last Thursday McKim's name was mentioned in the house by Rep. Halleck [R., Ind.] in connection with what Halleck called an administration attempt to swing a Montana election by "cheap political trickery."

Hospital Pledge Recalled

Halleck, who is chairman of the national Republican congressional committee, said that prior to a recent Montana election, in which a Democrat was beaten by the Republican candidate, Wesley D'Ewart, McKim sent a telegram to Rep. Mansfield [D., Mont.] saying he had information from the veterans' administration that a veterans' hospital would be built in eastern Montana.

"I have called Mr. McKim," Halleck continued, "and he tells me he sent the telegram. A child would understand the reason why the telegram was sent. Widespread use was made of it over the radio and during the campaign.

"All of which was bad enough but here are further facts of importance: Gen. Hines of the veterans' administration tells me that no decision has been reached as to where the hospital shall be located. . . ."

"Proof of Cynicism"

Halleck said the incident was "clear proof of the cynicism of the political operations of the present administration which seems determined to continue the policy of buying elections with the taxpayers' money."

"The people," he continued, "resent such tactics and an administration which resorts to this kind of cheap political trickery will not and cannot retain the confidence of the people."

Presidential Press Secretary Ross, who announced the change in McKim's duties today, was asked in what capacity McKim had announced that a hospital would be built in Montana. Ross said he had no information on that.

Admits Drowning Two

Mrs. Helen Souhrada crying, "I want to die," at inquest yesterday in drowning of her two children.

Mrs. Clara Wilk sister, weeping at Souhrada inquest.

A coroner's jury yesterday recommended that Mrs. Helen Souhrada, 29, a widow of 2429 S. Troy st., whose two baby daughters, Nancy, 3, and Connie, 7 months, died by drowning Sunday night in the bathtub in their home, be held to the grand jury on a charge of murder. Mrs. Souhrada confessed, during a lie test in the morning, that she had held the children's heads under water.

Mrs. Souhrada, pale and dishevelled, arrived at the inquest at 834 N. Ashland av., screaming: "Let them kill me. I want to die." She also called for her late husband, John, 40, who died last Nov. 13, while Mrs. Souhrada was in a hospital for the birth of Connie. She did not testify at the inquest.

Her sisters, Mrs. Clara Wilk of 1650 Division st. and Mrs. Emily Brehn of 1239 N. Ashland av., and a neighbor, Mrs. Emily Garlyczak of the Troy st. address, told Deputy Coroner Louis Nadherny that Mrs. Souhrada had been despondent since the death of her husband. Mrs. Souhrada will be held in the county jail to await action by the grand jury.

ASSAILS AUSSIES FOR STRIKING ON SLIGHT PRETEXT

Australian fighting men are doing a magnificent job in the war, but Australian officialdom and a segment of business and labor have assumed a bungling, selfish attitude, E. H. Scott, president of Scott Radio laboratories, said yesterday upon his return from seven months in Australia.

Four and a half months of that time, he said, was spent trying to arrange return transportation, altho returning ships and planes carried Australian business men seeking post-war business. He asserted that many Australian civilians "go on strike on the slightest pretext," and government officials defend the strikers, doing little or nothing to get them back on the job.

REP. ANDERSON CALLS U. S. FOOD PICTURE 'BITTER'

Minneapolis, Minn., June 12 (AP)—Clinton P. Anderson—the man who will decide what civilians eat in the months ahead—cautioned them today against being optimistic as to possible improvements in supplies of short items for some time to come.

"In fact," he said, "we have a bitter path ahead of us as far as food is concerned."

Rep. Anderson, who will become secretary of agriculture and war food administrator next month, told a luncheon gathering of dairymen, poultrymen, business men and civic leaders that present shortages resulted in part from the nation's failure to anticipate the extent of war needs.

Cites Failure in Planning

"We planned a world wide war as far as weapons were concerned, but failed to plan for a world wide war as far as food was concerned," he said.

Anderson's statements were made in connection with a hearing the house food shortage investigation committee held here on causes of shortages of butter and poultry products. He is chairman of the committee now on a cross-country tour in search of ways of obtaining greater production.

The farmer and only the farmer, he said, can provide more food.

Farmers Fear Price Break

He said it was the duty, however, of all those wanting more food—the government as well as civilians—to be willing and ready to back up the farmer in preventing a farm price collapse and another agricultural depression should a "full production" program bring on surpluses.

A predominant theme running thru testimony of farmers at hearings held here today and at Omaha yesterday was an expressed fear of a break in farm prices soon after the war with Japan is won.

Looking to the post-war period, the future cabinet officer said he would have no fear of surpluses if the nation resolved to keep its workers profitably employed so they might buy the food they need.

THE ACTUAL CURE FOR STRIFE

THE SCIENTIFIC remedy for conflict, in industry and elsewhere, is brought to light and continually demonstrated in Christian Science.

It is the understanding (1) that in any situation what is good for one must be good for all, and (2) that what is good for all is always in their reach—understanding which rests on the basic fact in Science that authentic good is by its very nature impartial and universally available.

If a proposed course of action promises benefits for some but is not good for all, Christian Science leaves no doubt whatsoever that a program far better for even the apparently favored ones is available. If individuals, blocs, or nations have an apparent opportunity for profit through injustice to others, they can do far better for themselves, to say nothing of the others, through action in the interest of all.

This, Christian Science makes plain, is the great practical truth underlying the teaching, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

The complete explanation of Christian Science and its method of healing strife, disease, and other evils is given in

2 CHICAGOANS KILLED BATTLING THE JAPS IN PACIFIC THEATER

JOSEPH GATTUSO, 21, a naval seaman, was killed May 26 while on duty in the Pacific, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gattuso, 225 W. Harrison st., Oak Park, were notified yesterday. The message said the sailor was killed when a Japanese suicide bomber plunged into his ship as it stood off Okinawa.

PVT. JOHN C. EVERTSON, who would have been 19 yesterday, was killed in action May 23 on Luzon island, Philippines, his sister, Mrs. Genevieve Hadley, 6443 Eggleston av., has been notified. He also is survived by three other sisters and a brother. Memorial services will be held at 7:30 p. m. Sunday in Sacred Science church, 6835 S. Halsted st.

20 PLANE ACE, SHOT BY NAZIS, HOME TO WED

Capt. W. J. Cullerton Downs Eight in Day

An 8th air force fighter pilot who was shot down in flames near Nuernberg, Germany, who bailed out safely and walked for six days thru German-held territory, who was captured and shot by the enemy, and who, despite a grievous wound, escaped and made his way to American lines, yesterday came home to visit his family and to be married.

He is Capt. William J. Cullerton, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville F. Cullerton, 1719 New England av. The girl he will marry June 30 in Ascension church, Oak Park, is Elaine Stephen, 732 Wesley av., Oak Park.

Bags 8 Planes in One Day

Capt. Cullerton escaped from the Germans early in May. That act was the climax of a combat career which consisted of more than 70 missions and which won him the silver star and the distinguished flying cross among other decorations. On one day, Nov. 2, 1944, he destroyed eight Nazi planes. His total score was 20 German planes downed.

The flyer had little to add to the stories of his combat experience but much to say about American life—especially American food. "You can't match it anywhere," he declared.

Capt. Cullerton was impatient with people who have devised elaborate methods of treating returned soldiers and asserted that the great majority of veterans did not need any coddling.

Prefer Not to Be Babied

"Treat them as if they had just been away for a week-end cruise on Lake Michigan," he said. "They can take care of themselves and they prefer not to be babied."

Another air forces officer who recently returned to Chicago after undergoing the experience of capture by the Nazis is Capt. Russell Craig, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Terence C. Craig, 10045 Seeley av. He left yesterday for Austin, Minn., the home of his fiancee, Shirley Potter. Their wedding is to be today.

YOUTH DIES OF BLAST BURNS

La Porte, Ind., June 12 [Special]—Earl Emil Alexander, 18, Eldorado, Ill., died today of burns received yesterday in an explosion and fire in a garage on the Sam Piazza fruit farm, northeast of here. Piazza said he believed the explosion occurred when the youth used naphtha in an attempt to light a fire in a water heater.

CHICAGOAN SHOT DOWN BY NAZIS; THEN BY ALLIES

BOURNEMOUTH, England, June 12 (AP)—Shot down in flames by the Germans, captured, and then shot down and wounded by one of his own comrades, Flight Lt. R. J. Crot, 425 Normal pkwy., Chicago, was back at this royal Canadian air force base today.

Crot joined the RCAF at Windsor, Ont., in 1940, and was shot down over El Alamein in September, 1942. His hands had been burned and his clothing was afire when he jumped from the plane. He fell free until the fire was blown out, and then pulled his parachute ripcord.

Captured, he was put aboard a Junkers-52 for transport to Greece, but the plane was attacked over the Mediterranean by a Hurricane fighter and forced to turn back for a crash landing. Crot suffered a wound in the body. Later he was in prison camps in Greece, Italy, and Germany for two and a half years.

THANKS FOR SAYIN' WHAT'S IN MY MIND...

. . . ABOUT OUR EGGS, I MEAN!

Bud Bowman

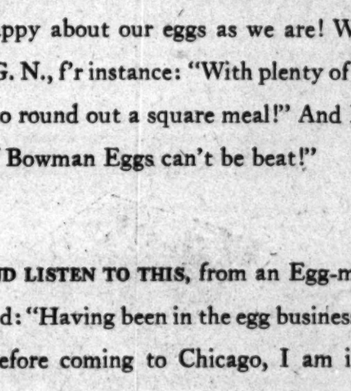

EV'RYBODY BRAGS about his own baby. Maybe we're that way about Bowman Eggs—those large, white eggs with yolks the size of silver dollars and thick, creamy whites. Maybe we're prejudiced.

BUT THEN, along come your love-Bowman-Egg letters—and it's plain to see you're as happy about our eggs as we are! Writes Mrs. G. N., f'r instance: "With plenty of Bowman Eggs, it's no trick to round out a square meal!" And Mrs. S.— "The taste of Bowman Eggs can't be beat!"

AND LISTEN TO THIS, from an Egg-man retired: "Having been in the egg business for many years before coming to Chicago, I am in a position to know that—on every count—Bowman's are the most uniformly dependable eggs distributed anywhere at any price. They must be handled and candled with care to be so good."

WHICH IS WHAT IS DONE—practically handled with kid gloves between hen-house and your house . . . and candled the day before delivery . . . inspected inside and out for goodness! No wonder Bowman Eggs are so fresh-tasting and delicious . . . no wonder Bowman sells more eggs than any other Chicago dairy!

LEND-LEASE AID TO CHINA JUMPS OVER 1944 PACE

Washington, D. C., June 12 (AP)—Lend-lease aid to China in April was more than 12 times that of the same month a year ago, Foreign Economic Administrator Crowley said in a statement today. April's $61,000,000 worth of materials and services brought total lend-lease assistance to China since March, 1941, to $458,874,000, he reported.

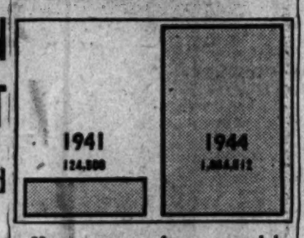

Crowley's report predicted aid to China would increase rapidly now that the war is concentrated against Japan.

Principal items in the total: Ordnance, $210,587,000; aircraft, $83,453,000; tanks and vehicles, $84,686,000; industrial products, $79,005,000, and agricultural products, $1,343,000.

Paper Quiz Asked

How tonnage of paper used by government has increased since 1941.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., June 12—A senate investigation of the newsprint shortage was proposed today in a senate resolution introduced by Senators Butler [R., Neb.] and Willis [R., Ind.].

Butler told the senate he was convinced an investigation would reveal abuses by the government in the use of paper, bungling in the allocation of newsprint, and delays in government plans to relieve the shortage. He said the investigation would increase the flow of newsprint to publishers.

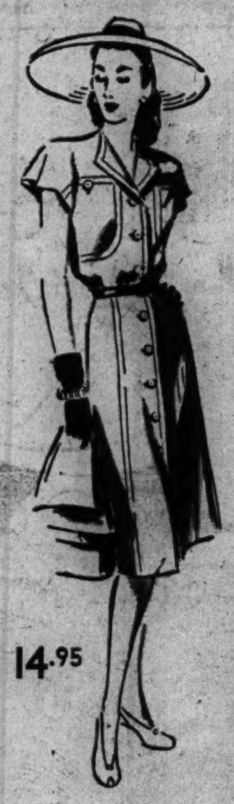

Butler told the senate the government's use of paper had increased from 124,500 tons in 1941 to 1,064,512 tons in 1944, while newspaper publishers have been forced to accept increasingly greater reductions in supplies.

$200,000 LOAN TO F. D. R. SON TOLD BY GROCER

Elliott Debt 'Settled' for $4,000, Says Lawyer

"Wouldn't Accept Favor"

"Anybody who knows Jack Hartford knows he wouldn't accept a favor from anybody," he said. "Instead of favors, the government has been persecuting us ever since."

[The criminal action against the A. & P. now on trial in Danville, Ill., is an outgrowth of prosecution of the company begun thru an indictment returned by a federal grand jury in Dallas, Tex., Nov. 25, 1942.

[The indictment was voted after the anti-trust division of the department of justice, then under Thurman Arnold, presented findings of a lengthy investigation of the A. & P.'s methods of doing business. The indictment was quashed Feb. 13, 1943, by a federal judge in Dallas, but was reinstated July 30, 1943, by a 2 to 1 decision of a federal Appellate court.

[The following February the government asked that the Dallas indictment be nol prossed and simultaneously began a new action in Danville thru the filing of a criminal information containing substantially the same charges which had been in the indictment.]

Ewing said that Rep. Sirovich broached the matter of a loan to Elliott in a telephone conversation in March, 1939.

President Wanted a "Favor"

"Sirovich said the President had called on him for a favor and he wanted my help," he said. "Sirovich and I were old personal friends. I had the highest respect for him, and I told him I would do anything I could for him.

"He then read me what he said was a letter he had received from President Roosevelt. The letter asked Sirovich to help Elliott arrange to borrow $200,000. Sirovich said he thought Hartford, as a man of means, might be willing to make the loan, and that as he did not know Hartford he wanted me to arrange for Hartford to meet with Elliott.

"Sirovich told me Elliot had a good proposition and would put up collateral worth $1,000,000," Ewing said. "He said he couldn't borrow from the banks because the securities were unlisted, and couldn't borrow from radio interests because of his misfortune in being the son of the President.

"I told him the A. and P. wasn't in the business of loaning money," he continued, "and he said he knew that, and all he wanted from me was an introduction for Elliott to Hartford. I said I would arrange that, and it wasn't 20 minutes later that Elliott Roosevelt showed up in my office.

Said Option Was Expiring

"Elliott had another man with him," he recalled. "They talked rapidly about what a fine proposition they had. Elliott already owned two or three radio stations in Texas. He had an option to buy another one for $200,000. The option was due to expire the next day at midnight. If he could take up that station he would have what he called a network and would make lots of money.

"I tried to locate Jack Hartford, but he was in a directors' meeting. When Hartford returned to his office I told him of Elliott's visit, and Hartford seemed particularly impressed by the fact Elliott had found it a handicap to be the son of a President.

"It is pretty tough on a young fellow to find he can't make business deals like other persons just because his father is the President," Ewing quoted Hartford as saying. "I don't feel justified in cavalierly turning him down."

He said that after they discussed the matter further, Hartford said, "If the securities are O. K. and if it's all right with his father, I'll make the loan."

Appointment Is Made

Hartford then instructed him to notify Elliott to come to Hartford's apartment at the Plaza hotel at 5 o'clock that afternoon, Ewing said.

"I wasn't present when Elliott met Hartford at the Plaza," he said, "but the next morning Hartford came to my office and said he had decided to loan Elliott the money. I asked him, 'Does the President know?' and he said, 'Yes.'

"Elliott arrived in a short time and brought securities covering his holdings in other Texas radio stations," he said. "The agreement called for him also to post as security the stock he was to receive for the $200,000 he was borrowing.

"Elliott said he needed the check to get this stock, so couldn't leave the stock with me. I told him I thought he could be trusted for an hour. He took the check and was back in an hour with the stock, and I then made out the collateral note and he signed it."

Promised Figures Delayed

Ewing said that several weeks went by without Hartford receiving from Elliott promised statements on the financial condition of the various radio stations. Hartford wired Elliott for these statements and eventually they arrived.

"The companies were losing money hand over fist," Ewing said. "I told Hartford it didn't look good, and Hartford said maybe he had made a bad investment."

Ewing said the next he heard of the matter was in 1942 when Hartford brought up the subject and told him Jesse Jones had taken up with him the necessity of an adjustment of the loan.

"Hartford asked me to drop in on Jesse and get the matter cleaned up. When I was ready to go to Washington, Hartford said he had agreed with Jones for a complete settlement for $4,000.

And That's All He Got

"I took Elliott's note and collateral with me when I went to Washington. I called at Jones' office. We are old friends, and I sat there while he had his lunch. I drank some orange juice. I gave him the note and securities and he started looking for the check. It was mislaid and he called his secretary and Mrs. Jones about it. Finally he found it."

"I took it back to Hartford and that is every cent he got for his $200,000," he said.

Ewing defended Hartford's action in writing off the transaction as a bad debt on income tax returns. "It was a bad debt, all right," he said. "We looked into Elliott's holdings, and all he had was some kind of a Texas plantation which was already being taken away from him by creditors."

"I'm glad you're here to share your favorite dish, son! We've been having it every day since we heard you were on your way home!"

NINE ALDERMEN NAMED TO SOLVE GARBAGE PILEUP

The garbage cluttered and rat infested condition of Chicago alleys yesterday prompted appointment of a nine man subcommittee by Ald. Bowler [25th], chairman of the city council finance committee, to determine means of improving refuse collection.

Lloyd M. Johnson, commissioner of streets and electricity, submitted to the finance committee his exchange of letters with R. K. Rawlinson, administrator of the consumer durable goods commission of the war production board in Washington, D. C., concerning garbage cans.

100,000 Garbage Cans Needed

Johnson informed Rawlinson that at least 100,000 garbage cans were urgently needed in Chicago and, until the cans are available, the city can't enforce its container ordinance.

Rawlinson's reply stated it was not possible to release materials for that number of containers, but said he had requested larger manufacturers to place the city on their preferred list.

Ald. Grealis [44th] was named head of the subcommittee. Members are Ald. Duffy [19th], Ald. Hartnett [12th], Ald. Lindell [9th], Ald. De Priest [3d], Ald. Kelis [28th], Ald. Sain [27th], Ald. Merryman [45th], and Ald. Cowhey [41st].

"We must make an honest effort to clean up this refuse situation," Bowler said. "Personally, I am convinced there never will be a garbage can at every home until the city can purchase them."

Penalties for Violators

Many persons, Bowler said, are so "miserable" that they will toss garbage into the alley beside their garbage cans.

"We'll have to get after these people," he said, "even if it means assigning a policeman to each ward office two days a week to bring offenders into court."

Among the subjects the subcommittee will discuss, Grealis said, is the prospect of city-wide distribution of municipally owned garbage cans and the revamping of antiquated city ordinances which deal with the possession and use of refuse cans by citizens.

The existing ordinances, he pointed out, are more than 20 years old and provide that each dwelling must have two cans, one for combustible material and the other for such noncombustibles as ashes, bottles, and tin cans. City attorneys doubt the legality of these ordinances under the single collection system employed now.

A recent survey by THE TRIBUNE disclosed that scores of Chicago alleys have become miniature garbage dumps, with swarms of rats.

MRS. HELEN BURKE

Thru the sleuthing of a sister of her marine husband, Mrs. Helen Burke, 26, of 1158 W. 65th st., was arrested June 5 in a hotel room with Jack Dillon, 30, of 7959 Vernon av., a medically discharged sailor, it was disclosed yesterday when they were arraigned before Judge Irwin B. Clorfene in Women's court for disorderly conduct.

Mrs. Burke is the wife of Marine Pvt. Edward Burke, 27, who last was heard from on Iwo Island. His sister, Mrs. Rhoma Roby, 7357 Princeton av., said she had been watching Mrs. Burke's activities. She said Mrs. Burke met Dillon the night of June 4 in a tavern at 69th and Laflin sts. and about 2 a. m. they went to the Greenview hotel, 6234 S. Green st., Mrs. Roby told the court. She notified police and they arrested the couple.

Dillon said he is separated from his wife and children. He and Mrs. Burke denied any wrongdoing. Judge Clorfene fined them $25 and costs each.

ALDERMEN FREE CITY FUNDS FOR AIR TERMINAL

The city council finance committee yesterday approved a request by Commissioner of Public Works Hewitt for the release of $150,000 in city funds for purchase of material and employment of labor in construction of the $700,000 temporary terminal building at the airport.

Hewitt told the committee that steel for the building will be available within 10 weeks and will cost an estimated $55,000. The war production board, he said, has notified him that priorities for heating equipment have been approved.

The WPB, Hewitt said, also informed him that the building must be of brick and concrete blocks, instead of lumber. An 80 by 40 foot basement has been completed. The work must be completed by Nov. 30.

250 Automobiles Lacking Safety Stickers Tagged

Policemen attached to the office of Public Vehicle License Commissioner Edward J. Gorman yesterday handed out 250 arrest notifications to motorists who failed to display the current safety sticker on their auto windshields. Gorman said the city safety lanes yesterday did a thriving business with an estimated 5,000 cars passing thru them. The drive against delinquents, it was announced, will continue for several more days.

HOUSE SHIFTS SUPERVISION IN CEMETERY BILL

Transfers Job to State Auditor's Office

BY GEORGE TAGGE
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Springfield, Ill., June 12—Proposed supervision of the cemetery business, which Atty. Gen. George F. Barrett charges is a multimillion dollar racket, today was transferred by the house from Barrett's office to that of State Auditor Arthur C. Lueder.

Following the roll call on this amendment which Barrett said was designed to defeat his bill, there was a direct attempt to kill the measure. Rep. Caton [R., Stanford] made a motion to strike the enacting clause.

When the vote stood 47 to 35 against Caton's motion he interrupted the roll call by withdrawing his motion, thus preventing an official record.

Steele Gives Out Statement

The powerful cemetery lobby, led by two Democrats, former Gov. Stelle and Federal District Atty. Howard P. Doyle, was on hand again today. Stelle gave members copies of a 3,000 word statement declaring that the legislation "is not necessary."

"Leaders of the opposition no longer say they represent the Masonic order," said Rep. Cutler [R., Lewiston], sponsor of the bills. "They represent just one crew—the crew these bills are after—which have absconded with funds."

House members had been told within the last 24 hours that the move to place control in the auditor's office was intended to kill the bill, Cutler said.

Rep. Topping [R., Kankakee] handled the amendment to take control from Barrett.

Defeat Tabling Motion

Cutler's motion to table the amendment was defeated, 77 to 49. Altho Auditor Lueder yesterday denied reports he wanted to take the function from Barrett, the clique attached to him voted solidly against the attorney general. Most of Gov. Green's followers voted with Barrett, the governor having urged passage of the bill.

Rep. Topping's amendment to limit the legislation to Cook county cemeteries was tabled, 90 to 20. Cutler said this amendment had been given to Topping by a man who admitted that it would make the bill unconstitutional.

The bill is now on passage stage and may be called this week.

PARTY CIRCLE GATEWAY BILL VOTE APPROVED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Springfield, Ill., June 12 — The senate today passed and sent to the house a series of bills which would permit use of the "party circle" system of voting on the proposed gateway amendment to the Illinois constitution in a 1946 state-wide referendum. The vote was 38 to 1, President pro-tem Laughlin [R., Freeport] cast the only negative vote.

Senators Daley [D., Chicago] and Downing [R., Macomb] who introduced the bills, said they were backed by the Illinois Agricultural Association and Illinois Education association. Under the bills a political convention could indorse the party circle plan after which all persons voting straight ballots for that party's ticket would be automatically voted for the proposition next year.

The gateway amendment is designed to make it easier to change the constitution.

DICK TRACY

DAY by DAY on the FARM & GAIL COMPTON

June 12, 1945

ONE of the oddities at the farm last week was a long bank of lilac bushes near the milkhouse. The shrubs were covered with big purple blooms providing unexpected early spring color in June. The bushes now are past full bloom, but still have quite a few flowers left.

Usually, the farm lilacs are thru blossoming in the middle or latter part of May. The lilacs at the milkhouse are a late variety, but the men could not remember their blooming so late.

New Angus Calf Thrives

Two more calves have been born in the Angus herd. One is alive and doing well, but the other was found dead. The calf came during the night when no one was around, and it was not discovered until the morning feeding time.

There now are eight black calves frisking in the pasture on the south side of the farm, their rich dark coats glistening in the sun. Their dams are in good condition and giving plenty of milk.

Only one thing mars the picture of contentment formed by the group of cows and calves standing in the shade of the big tree in the pasture. Tails are switching constantly, indicating the flies are making life hard for the animals. Fly time is approaching rapidly and soon will be a big factor in the health of the calves.

Flies Irritate Cows

Cows tormented by flies are irritable and give less milk than usual. The flies also pick on a new born calf, and at times cause death if they infect any wounds.

Soon the herdsmen at both farms will carry a spray gun and an anti-fly solution with them when they visit the animals. New calves will be sprayed thoroly and the older animals treated if they are in need of protection.

Screens are up in the dairy barn and the electric doors are being repaired to prevent flies from bothering the Guernsey cows. Last year DDT, the famous army insecticide, was used on the walls and ceilings of the barn, and excellent results were achieved. For a month after spraying, most of the flies left in the barn over night were dead when the men arrived to milk in the morning.

As soon as DDT becomes available for civilian use, it will be a regular item on the herdsman's list. A good insecticide means the saving of many gallons of milk in the hot summer months.

The GARDEN by Ben Markland

IT still is not too late to plant tomato seed for the production of a September crop of canning fruits. Early summer seeding of tomatoes is not recommended in normal seasons because of the lateness of the harvest. This year, however, some gardeners may want to make late seedings because of frost damage or flooding of plants set out in late May. Lee A. Somers of the University of Illinois college of agriculture reported on the W-G-N farm hour that each June many members of the university staff, when they return from their summer vacations, seed tomatoes to mature in September.

The main barrier to the success of June seedings is poor germination, especially in soil that has a clay content and tends to pack during warm weather.

On such ground, it is recommended that boards, peat moss, or clean straw be placed over the newly planted seeds to prevent surface packing and insure retention of moisture.

BLIND MAN, WIFE SEEK FLAT THAT WILL ADMIT DOG

Lee Wilbur Koeppen, 29, blinded by a bomb explosion 13 years ago, and his wife, Dorothy, are having a desperate time renting an apartment where he will be able to keep his leader dog, Vickie, the two disclosed yesterday.

Koeppen, known as Bill, accidentally kicked a brown paper bag in front of the home of Judge John P. McGoorty on Sept. 21, 1932, and a resulting explosion blinded him, disfigured his face, burned and mangled his body. Plastic surgery has restored much of his normal appearance.

He still requires the aid of his dog, a 7 year old Dobermann-Pinscher. The Koeppens reside now in a one room apartment on the third floor at 1226 E. 46th st. Having recently undergone another operation, Koeppen is seeking a small apartment not above the second floor where the dog will be admitted. He prefers a place near 43d st. and Ellis av., a neighborhood in which he is sure to get meat for the dog.

URGES PASSAGE OF 100 MILLION SOLDIER BONUS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Springfield, Ill., June 12—The house judiciary committee on a 14 to 0 roll call today recommended passage of bills, promoted by Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett, to use 100 million dollars of the state treasury surplus for a World War II soldiers' bonus.

The bonus program will be referred to house appropriations committee where it will collide with the Green administration's 99 million dollar omnibus bill for a postwar program of public works.

Republicans who voted for the Barrett bonus also charged that it was a Democratic political maneuver. They said that all members of the minority groups in the house and senate had joined in introducing the plan for state payments of not more than $500 for overseas service, computed at $1 a day, or $300 for domestic duty at 50 cents a day.

Walter Jasper of Chicago, spokesman for the Illinois organization of the Disabled American Veterans, testified before the senate that his group favors the Barrett bonus program.

RADIO STATIONS CONTINUE LIBEL BILL OPPOSITION

Compromises Fail to Win Aid of Chicagoans

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Springfield, Ill., June 12—Chicago radio stations, with the exception of W-G-N, last night presented continued opposition to a bill to ban radio libel, even after compromises had been effected to bring spokesmen for 16 downstate stations into the ranks of supporters.

Mayor Kelly's spokesman, Sen. Daley, made a motion to continue the hearing before the senate judiciary committee until Thursday. Kelly originally pledged support to a radio libel bill but had a change of heart after being visited by Sam Levin, president of the Illinois State Industrial Union council of the CIO, and lawyers for Chicago stations.

Compromise amendments were worked out during the day by Andrew C. Hamilton, attorney for W-G-N; Frank Schreiber, manager of W-G-N; Leslie Johnson of Rock Island, representing 16 downstate stations, and Ben Reidy, lawyer for these stations.

Amendments Not Acted On

These amendments were not acted upon because of Daley's motion to postpone consideration.

Principal changes proposed would hold station operators and employes free from responsibility for libel if they had no "advance knowledge" or "right or opportunity to prevent" the libel. Speeches of political candidates also would be exempt from libel prohibition.

Attorney Hamilton declared that they sought to create an erroneous impression that W-G-N spokesman did not confer with them.

Hostile Impression Left

In fact, he said, there has been a constant exchange of ideas but results up to date leave the impression that the opponents are hostile to any real regulation.

This led to today's conference with downstate spokesmen.

"We're in favor of the right kind of legislation," Johnson said in approving the compromise amendment. "The downstate stations do not seek to evade responsibility for any libel we might knowingly commit."

He told the committee that in his opinion the proposed amendments devised by the Chicago stations [except W-G-N] were in his opinion designed to kill the bill.

Chicago Stations Represented

These amendments, presented by Kelly's man, would give absolute license to libel to public office holders and payrollers, labor officials, and others, on any controversial political, labor, or public issue.

Johnson said he spoke for stations in Galesburg, Danville, Rockford, Joliet, Champaign, Bloomington, Quincy, E. St. Louis, Jacksonville, Herrin, Cairo, Decatur, Aurora, Harrisburg, and Peoria.

All of the Chicago stations were represented. Homer Johannsen of WCFL said it is "dangerous to legislate in a new field." He declared any law should "make conviction possible only in the most obvious and flagrant circumstances."

TOMATO, ONION, AND GREEN BEAN PRICE HIKE O. K.D

Increased price ceilings on tomatoes, onions, and green beans, reflecting smaller market supplies, were announced by the Chicago area office of price administration in its weekly price list yesterday. They are effective tomorrow. Hothouse tomatoes are up 9 cents to 48 cents a pound, repacked tomatoes up 2 cent to 27 cents a pound, and bulk tomatoes up 1 cent to 21 cents a pound; new yellow onions are up 5 cents to 34 cents for three pounds, new white wax onions are up 2 cents to 29 cents for three pounds, and green beans are up 4 cents to 19 cents a pound.

REMAPPING BILL COMPROMISE IS APPROVED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Springfield, Ill., June 12.—An eleventh hour attempt to save congressional reappointment from the scrap heap resulted today in the recommendation for passage of a compromise bill introduced by Rep. Virkus [R., La Grange]. Despite the house committee's approval of the compromise, chances of enacting the first remapping of congressional districts since 1901 are still considered poor.

As proposed by the original bill of Virkus and Sen. Daley, Mayor Kelly's spokesman, the new plan calls for 13 downstate and 13 Cook county districts.

Important changes divide most Cook county suburbs into two congressional districts—north and south. In comparison with the Virkus bill, the new version takes Oak Park out of Chicago congressional district, and puts Cicero into a Chicago district. In general the Chicago district lines would follow ward lines more closely than under the Virkus bill.

BLUEBIRD LINES ADDING 20 BUSES TO CHICAGO RUNS

Officials of the Bluebird Bus company, operating in Chicago and several suburbs, announced yesterday that they have received 20 new diesel engined buses. Ten of the vehicles are already in service and the others will be used as soon as painted.

Willard Beaurline, president, said that the company now has a fleet of 62 vehicles, only a few of which are to be retired. All but two new buses are to be put on the Joliet-Chicago run, the two exceptions being added to the Chicago-Berwyn route.

The Chicago Motor Coach company is to receive 75 new buses in a few days. They are diesel engined, 45 passenger single deckers.

WHISKY LABEL BILL DEFEATED IN SENATE, 19-16

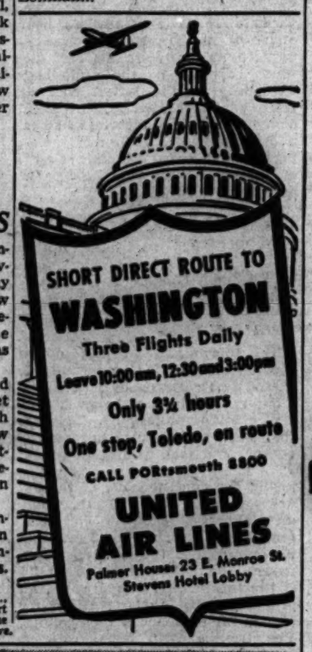

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Springfield, Ill., June 12—The senate today killed, 19 to 16, a bill by Sen. Connors [D., Chicago] making it unlawful to label liquor as whisky unless it contained at least 50 per cent of straight whisky aged at least four years. The bill needed 26 votes for passage.

"This bill is intended to protect the public and would tell the people what kind of liquor they are drinking," said Connors.

The opposition was led by Sen. Lohmann [D., Pekin], who said the bill would put out of business a large distillery in his district.

"Labels on bottles now show their contents, and all federal and state regulations are being obeyed by Illinois distillers and distributers," said Lohmann.

THE CANADIAN ELECTION

Prime Minister William L. Mackenzie King and his Liberal party have won again in Canada. In the dominion election on Monday the substantial majority which the Liberals have enjoyed was reduced almost to the vanishing point, but the party is still far ahead of any of its rivals. Mr. Mackenzie King has a clear mandate from the people to continue in the office he has occupied for more than 18 of the last 24 years.

The success of the Liberals is attributable primarily to the fact that theirs is a national party. The Tories of the Progressive Conservative party and the Socialists of the Coöperative Commonwealth federation would no doubt insist that they, too, are nationally organized, which is, of course, true, but they are not national parties in the sense in which the term can be applied to the Liberals.

The Conservatives have their strength pretty well concentrated in Ontario and the C. C. F. makes its appeal chiefly to industrial workers and farmers. Only the Liberal party can claim a substantial following in all classes of society from coast to coast; more important still, only the Liberal party has had any real success in forming a political organization in which French speaking and English speaking Canadians are on a plane of equality.

The Mackenzie King victory was thus a victory for Canadian nationalism. The voters were mindful of the fact that the Liberal party was the instrument thru which their country won self-government and that among the party's other distinguished achievements was the abolition of titles of nobility. These matters, of course, were not often stressed in the campaign, but they have given the Liberal party its peculiar hold on the voters. A vote for the Liberals was a vote for national unity in the face of geographic, linguistic, religious, and class differences; it was also a vote for true national independence against a subservient colonialism.

An opportunity awaits the new government, an opportunity that lies squarely in the line of its tradition. Canada today has no bill of rights to guarantee her people in the possession of their civil liberties. There is, for example, no limitation in the fundamental law of the dominion on the power of the government to censor or suppress publications. Perhaps because the attention of those who drew the British North America act was concentrated upon the organization of governmental agencies, no bill of rights was included, and, of course, the fact that the act was passed by the British parliament made it unlikely that greater freedom would be accorded the Canadian people than the British people themselves enjoy.

At any rate, the omission is a striking one and from time to time the Canadian people have had cause to regret it. It would be the crowning achievement of Mr. Mackenzie King's long career and another great chapter in the Liberal party's record if they were to give the Canadian people a guarantee of civil liberty for all, under all circumstances.

NOTES ON WILD LIFE

The cardinal has a more peremptory note in his call, suggesting that his date has stood him up and that he is impatient, watching the drug store clock. For this it is unsympathetic to be grateful. Winter has not encouraged the wood thrush or the brown thrasher to do much singing. They are usually the reliable songsters of many of the woods hereabouts. The occasional oriole is missing or voiceless. The cardinal breaks the silence. Query: Did the soldiers get their whistle of admiration for the girls they pass on the street from the notes of the cardinal? Wheet, wheet, wheet, chut, chut, chut. Is the sailor doing variations on a theme?

Somebody got the chapter headings mixed in this year's issue of Spring with the consequence that we enjoyed a mild, green winter in May and June having enjoyed in March the best of these two months. The editors of the magazine Poetry, observing the foregoing example of how mistakes will happen, should be able to reconcile themselves to an error in the May issue, of which the subscribers were notified by postcard. Mr. Delos Avery has treated the matter definitively in the Book section of the Sunday Tribune. It fits, however, into the subject matter of these notes.

The editors published two poems by James Laughlin. The error was in printing them as one poem. The title of the second was omitted. "Monument to self destruction" was the concluding sentence of "The Avalanche." "Love you that so long a" was the beginning sentence of "The Shape of Love." When we got summer in March and winter in May we knew it and did not need a postcard, which may prove that nature is not even a good imitation of art or that the younger poets are more mysterious. Mr. Laughlin, who could be congratulated on one fine poem, can now be congratulated on two altho they mingled so well that the imagery seemed to be in one sustained flight. We were all prepared to believe that the shape of love might be not unlike an avalanche.

One of Mr. Laughlin's fellow poets, Mr. Alling, also contributes something to wild life and observations appertaining thereto. Of the crew he remarks: "He punctuates the seasons, these with postures; sitting, comma, colon, and flying far about the swollen summer a clear parenthesis." Of the woodpecker: "He walks December's naked streets, like one who visits house to house." A hairy or downy woodpecker, probably. The red head, "with his opulent design," seldom walks our streets in winter. Our younger poets, certainly theirs is the vision of youth, must be viewed with the unmixed emotion of awe. They must understand or they could not voice the meaning of the strange world into which this planet has been transmuted by the pathology of its inhabitants.

A recent bulletin of the Chicago Natural History museum has a picture and text on a strange fish, five feet long, caught in a trawl off the coast of South Africa in December, 1938, in the midpreliminaries of the Hitlerite era. At Rhodes university in Grahamstown the fish was identified as a living specimen of the lung fish of 65,000,000 years ago and a relative of a fish which flourished 350,000,000 years before. The specimen has fleshy fins, like legs. His ancestors, with lungs and legs, crawled out to continue organic evolution on land where in the course of time buzz bombs could be invented as a culminating stage in culture. If his ancestors had been as unadventurous as he was we might have had the avalanche but no shape of love.

The wild geraniums have followed the trilliums in the cycle and ranunculus acris is cheery in spots even under the sullen sky.

BEES AROUND THE HONEY

The department of justice required 560 pages to report the activities of foreign propaganda agents in this country for the two and one-half years ending last Dec. 31. During these years 18 foreign countries were busy developing a favorable opinion among the American public toward their interests. The costs of these activities are officially placed at 13 million dollars, which may be regarded as conservative.

The striking fact brought out by the report is that, with America committed to assist them with men and money in war, foreign governments increased, instead of decreasing, their outlay as the years went on. Propaganda expenses of 15 governments in 1944 were 2½ million dollars more than they were two years earlier. In 1942 these governments employed 673 registered agents. In 1944 the number had increased to 1,167. More than a third of these were British.

Obviously, no government throws good money after bad. The propaganda campaign would not have been maintained, let alone expanded, if it was not showing a profit on the books. The propagandizing nations could, indeed, look back upon a record of success. Their efforts from 1939 to 1941 were devoted to selling Americans the idea that "this is your war." That campaign was put across. Even before America was formally at war, it was providing huge amounts of lend-lease, carried in American ships under American fleet convoy. When at length we were fully at war this assistance increased. It now stands at close to 39 billion dollars.

A return of those proportions on an expenditure of 13 million dollars may be regarded as a shrewd stroke of business. And what value is to be assigned the rescuing American army, navy, and air forces? Bookkeepers can't properly assess the contribution of a million American casualties. The nations freed from Hitler's shadow can, however, chalk up their liberation very definitely in the credit column. Instead of being exploited and possibly enslaved by Germans, they are now exploiting and enslaving Germans. They are extracting cheap labor from German prisoners, and they are preparing to strip Germany of its industrial plant and take it over themselves. These are tangible profits.

When the last pfennig and the last ounce of cheap labor have been wrung from Germany, however, the returns will not have proved as great as desired. There are limits to what can be exacted from a country which has been bombed out and left prostrate and bankrupt. No, Europe is not the richest possible field for development. It is not the defeated country, but the victor nation, which offers the most inviting prospect. It is America that beckons.

The strategy will be to convince this country that, because it has escaped the ruin and devastation of war, it is under a lasting obligation to redeem from hardship the other nations that were in the line of fire. The psychological theme to be elaborated is that it is conscienceless and immoral for America to be strong and prosperous when its allies are suffering because they have fought what will continue to be impressed upon Americans as "your war."

Loans, credits, gifts—these will be demanded, not asked. What in reality could only be considered charity will be represented as a just moral obligation. The army of propagandists is enlisted for the duration. Their activities will not end with the defeat of Japan. They have a long term assignment. The sack of America is the objective.

Editorial of the Day

HOME ON THE AUTOMATIC RANGE

[Peoria (Ill.) Morning Star]

A promised post-war gadget called the selector will, it is claimed, turn the radio on in the morning, start the coffee cooking, regulate the oven, defrost the refrigerator, switch lights on and off, do a variety of household jobs and, we presume, put out the cat after turning off the radio for the night.

The vision of this miraculous machine calls forth another vision. It is of the bride of, say, 1980, in the first few days of her married life. The groom comes home to the first dinner and finds her in the kitchen, sitting dejectedly before the nerve center of the modern household, a panel of switches, dials, and indicators slightly more complicated than the present dashboard of a B-29.

The young husband notes with dismay that his bride is weeping. He takes the crumpled, pathetic little thing in his arms, daubs at the tears, and tries to comfort her. What is the matter?

"I'm so ashamed," she says, "I never told you this, but I flunked my course in electricity at school. The roast is ruined and the potatoes are burned to a crisp. Mother wouldn't tell me the facts of life. She never showed me a thing about thermostats.

"Now you'll probably divorce me, since you've learned the truth. I can't even change a f-f-fuse plug!"

HOLMES vs. PINKERTON

A librarian, Edward D. Snyder of Haverford college, questions the origin of the Sherlock Holmes story called "The Valley of Fear," and asks the Baker Street Irregulars for new evidence. He admits the relationship between Conan Doyle's fiction and the large body of facts about the Mollie Maguires in Allan Pinkerton's book on that murderous clan of Pennsylvania miners, published in 1877, but he refuses to believe that Doyle read Pinkerton's book. He gives no reasons for his skepticism.

* * *

We suggest that he examine the correspondences between the passwords and recognition signs of the Mollies, set down copiously by Pinkerton, and the analogous rigmarole used by the Scowrers, as Doyle called them. The patterns are so similar that this evidence would win the case for Pinkerton in the Supreme court of the United States. Doyle, like a skilled workman, smelted the rough ore of Pinkerton into a nugget.

* * *

We quote from "The Valley of Fear":

"Dark nights are unpleasant," said the workman.

"Yes, for strangers to travel," the other answered.

And now from Pinkerton's "The Mollie Maguires and the Detective":

"The nights are very dark."

"I hope they will soon mend."

* * *

There is much more of this secret society talk, and we hope that Mr. Snyder will give it studious attention. Then let him consider the curious ending of the friendship between William A. Pinkerton, son of Allan, and the creator of Sherlock Holmes. When "The Valley of Fear" was published in 1915, Pinkerton copied certain closely related passages from the two texts and mailed them to Doyle, merely in the spirit of good clean fun. These men had met occasionally and had often exchanged letters, but after receiving this memorandum of the deadly parallel Doyle never wrote to Pinkerton again. The source of our information is Ashton Stevens, who heard Bill Pinkerton, with malice toward none, supply this footnote to literature.

IT'S UNANIMOUS

O, for the days when the years were not crucial,
The times were not critical, tense, or abrupt,
The hour was not fatal, the morrow unshaking,
The ear for alarm was not constantly cupp'd.

O, for the time when the fate of the future
Wasn't a-hang by the fabulous thread,
The moment not stark and the week unpropitious,
And matters were never approaching a head.

Ah, for the days when the choice wasn't difficult,
The scene was idyllic, the pathway aglow,
When being was care-remote, lazy, and even,
And crossroads were always a long way to go.

The Duke Chases Chickens

Hon. Linemaster: If some guy wood invent a mouth zipper I will be his 1st customer. Last Sunday morning tha Mama says we're eatin' out on a/c we're out o' eatin'. Me, tha big mouth yap, says that I bet I cood dig up a cupple chickens. I had in mind jumpin' in tha jallop an gettin' them from some of them farmers who got signs out trying to sell ya minnows, worms, eggs, chickens, or even puppies.

Tha 1st place I pulls up at, I figger a little salve woodn' be out of order, so I chirps merrily like this: "Morning, neighbor, how about a——" an before I can finish he says "No chickens" an slams tha door in my puss. Tha next farmer at least was a gentleman; he very politely said, "Why tha hell don't ya buy 'em in tha city?"

Comes No. 3, who informs me to get on his waiting list cause he's gonna have some on June 29th. I figger ta hell with that noise an didn' even bother to ask him what year. Finally I hits a bird who's got gizzards, hearts, and a few livers an he's trying to sell me tha idea that my Mrs. cood fix up a swell chicken jiblets meal.

By this time I start back home, an when tha Mama sees me coming she hollers out to our kids to go help Daddy bring in some of his packages, she knowing darn well there woodn' be any. When I gets in tha house here's my reception:

"O, what beautiful birds; I'm so glad you got fryers instead of stewing or roasters, but then they wood of also been welcome." What I didn' say out loud was—— Duke Bakrak

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks will answer questions of service men, veterans, and their dependents by mail if stamped envelope is sent to 435 N. Michigan av. The Tribune's veterans' bureau, 1 S. Dearborn st., Superior 0200, gives personal interviews.]

S. C. asks: "How long does a man have to serve in the army before he can apply for a G. I. loan? I have an honorable discharge that says I have had 50 days of active service. Where can I get the loan?"

To be eligible for a government guaranteed loan under the G. I. law you must have had 90 days or more of service, or have been discharged for disability incurred in line of duty. Veterans must obtain their loans from a bank or other agency and the government only guarantees to repay half of the loan up to $2,000 if you default. If a veteran does default on his loan he still has to pay the unguaranteed portion and then repay the government whatever sum was paid on the guaranteed portion.

T. H. writes: "I am about to be discharged from the army under the point system. When I return to Chicago I hope to get a job with the post office department. Where do I apply?"

Apply to the civil service commission, new post office building, 432 Van Buren st.

M. H. asks: "Do army officers have to file estimates of their income before they are discharged from service?"

Yes. Military pay is not subject to withholding tax, and those receiving more than $2,000 a year must file even tho no tax is estimated. Where tax is estimated, quarterly payments should be made.

BED REST CAN BE OVERDONE

ONE of our great American physicians of the 19th century, Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, lives in our memory as the great advocate of rest. His cure, particularly for the patient with nervous disorders, was strict and well defined. Besides confinement to bed, he forbade visiting, reading, and writing. To enforce his orders a nurse was in constant attendance.

In time, other medical men recommended the procedure and, with the passing years, modifications developed. The most popular of these were the "relaxation treatments" consisting essentially of vacations, changes of scene, and hunting or fishing expeditions.

There is no doubt that a certain type of undernourished, overworked, jittery man or woman is benefited by a much needed rest. But we now realize that the plan is not helpful for all victims of emotional disturbances. These sufferers require relief from inner tension. Their energy is being consumed in trying to adjust to unpleasant events, inhibitions, or various barriers. A wiser regimen is to attempt to turn these destructive tendencies toward a more useful and happier life.

What does adequate rest consist of? To sit or lie in bed may be ample for some conditions but it may be wasted in others if the duties of business—answering the phone and dictating to secretaries—are continued. Listening to exciting radio programs may be in the same category. In general, the influence of outside activities varies, depending upon the reaction on the particular patient. With others, lying down, with nothing to see or hear, may produce boredom or anxiety capable of doing more harm than good.

More recently, physicians have been discussing the unfavorable effects of prolonged bed rest on the sick individual. In oldsters it may actually invite trouble. Incomplete aeration of the lungs often leads to congestion and pneumonia. Heart attacks and uremia follow occasionally. For this reason we now feel that the sufferer must get back on his feet as soon as possible.

But the revolution was not confined to the aged. Many surgeons found that they obtained just as good if not better results when they insisted that the patient move about, sit up, hang the feet over the edge of the bed, or even stand one to three days after the operation. The amount of exertion is contingent upon the type and the associated symptoms. It is claimed that wounds heal faster, the morale is increased, complications are fewer, the circulation improves, and the lung capacity for air becomes greater.

There is no definite rule to follow as each case becomes an individual problem. Thru experience, the doctor in charge is capable of determining which path to follow.

NOSE GROWTH

J. L. writes: Is there any cure, outside of operation, for polyp of the nose? Is surgery dangerous at the age of 52?

REPLY

NOISE STOPPERS

V. I. J. writes: Is it harmful to use rubber plugs in the ears to shut out noise at night?

REPLY

No, but be careful when inserting them not to injure the drum. Leave enough projecting to the outside so that they may be removed easily.

COLD CHOKES

Mrs. T. writes: What causes me to choke on drinking a glass of cold water?

REPLY

In the absence of an allergy to cold, the most likely reason is spasm of the swallowing muscles due either to the chilled liquid or trying to drink too much too fast.

IRRITATED LIVER

E. R. writes: Can an infected gall bladder cause liver congestion?

REPLY

Indirectly, from infection, but there are many other causative factors.

REDUCES VITALITY

D. R. writes: What is the relation of drafts to colds?

REPLY

Good Fellows Get Together

The news accounts of the meeting Sunday of Montgomery, Zhukov, and Eisenhower at Eisenhower's headquarters at Frankfurt-on-the-Main omitted an intimate barber shop touch reported by the radio boys. According to the latter, cocktails were passed before lunch. Montgomery, who is a teetotaler, sipped a dry sherry. Eisenhower took a Scotch and soda. Zhukov took a martini. The three then linked arms and sang "Old Black Joe."

The World Is Round, Too

Maybe you, too, have noticed the recent news items referring to an "isolated island" in the Pacific. One surrounded by water, perhaps?

Hitler's Children

The unconfirmed report out of Stockholm that Hitler actually fathered two children by Eva Braun, a boy now 5 and a girl now 4, ruins a nice bit of philosophy. This was that only childless men become conquerors and seek to disrupt worlds. John Mason Brown, the critic, writing in the current issue of the Saturday Review of Literature, wound up a charming essay on end-of-the-school-year exercises for 8 year olds by saying that the helplessness of parenthood is its chief anguish: "It is the intimations of mortality, not of immortality, that devastate parents in the presence of their young." The trouble with conquerors, he says, is that they were childless.

It is a pleasant theory and interesting as far as it goes, but Mr. Brown picked his conquerors. He listed Alexander, Caesar, Napoleon, Hitler, and, of all people, Napoleon III., who was a mediocre conqueror in such company as that. Caesar was officially childless, altho the commentators of ancient Rome later insisted Brutus was his illegitimate son. The son of Alexander the Great was born two months after his father's death. The little King of Rome was born in 1811, too late to prevent Napoleon's march on Moscow and the broken threads that followed. Frederick the Great and Macbeth both were childless. [Remember MacDuff's anguished reply to Malcolm after Macbeth had murdered his children and Malcolm had urged revenge. MacDuff said only: "He has no children . . ."]

But how about Cyrus the Great? He had a son, Cambyses, whom he sent to war when he was too tired to go himself. He had a daughter who married Darius the Great. They had a son, who was Xerxes the Great. He was called "king of countries," meaning countries he conquered. He, too, had a son. Augustus, who also had more than a room with a view, had a daughter, whose two sons he adopted as his own, and two stepsons, one of whom died on his way home from Germany, where he led an expedition for Papa as far as the Elbe. [Nothing-new-under-the-sun department.]

And then there was a fine Asiatic named Genghis Khan, who did all right along the lines of conquest. He had a son named Timur, who as Tamerlaine followed in his old man's footsteps. And he had a son who had a son who, etc. . . . So where are we?

Inside Information

A scout who called himself Literary Larry passes along the amazing information that Ambrose Bierce was "quite a man." The Tower Edition of his "Devil's Dictionary," sixth printing, February, 1944, carries on the inside front jacket the following paragraph [the italics are ours]:

"Bierce's disappearance from the contemporary scene amidst secrecy and mystery has added to the legend about him. In 1913 at the age of 71 he left for Mexico for a purpose known only to himself. He never returned, and altho persistent rumors appeared in the press as to his death, none of them has ever been substantiated."

A bracketed publisher's note explains that "The success of this book in more expensive editions has paid the cost of the original plates, making it possible to use them economically for this low priced Tower edition. The author has agreed to accept a smaller royalty, further reducing the cost. . . ."

Our sole thought on the matter is that if the Tower Press is so good at that sort of thing, why doesn't it get in touch now with a more recent refugee from the contemporary scene—the author of "Mein Kampf"?

CRACKS IN THE CEILING

Chicago, June 8—In defense and praise of OPA a commentator this morning indicated that it has held prices to a mere 25 per cent increase from 1940 prices. It is evident that this average is secured by including the price of refrigerators, automobiles, ukuleles, et al [unattainable things], but when it comes to essentials, how do they reconcile eggs, from 30 cents to 52 cents, a 73 per cent raise; strawberries, 12 cents a quart to 54 cents, over 350 per cent; sole and heel shoe repairing, from $1 to $1.80, an 80 per cent increase by the same shop, and, incidentally, the $1.80 ones leaked water the first time in rain; a girdle purchased five months ago at $7.50, which formerly cost $3, with such poor garters that I have had to replace them with four pairs at 30 cents each, which formerly cost 10 cents, or a total cost of $8.70, a 190 per cent raise?

Merely using the above few essentials, and without including cotton materials and ready made dresses with 100 and 200 per cent increases, the average increase is 173 per cent against OPA's acknowledged 25 per cent increase. How do they get that way?

THE WORST BUROCRACY

Chicago, May 29—Unless the law is changed millions of wounded veterans of this war, or their widows and orphaned children, are going to find out that their destinies are in the sole hands of one of the worst examples of burocracy ever conceived—the veterans administration. Under the Presidential order of July 28, 1933, there is no appeal to the courts by a claimant whose case is wrongly decided against him. The decision of the veterans administration being absolutely final and conclusive. The veteran is, for all practical purposes, denied counsel, for he is allowed counsel whose fees are to be fixed by the board but—the law says—"such fees shall not exceed $10 in any one claim" and a $10 lawyer would be worse than none in most cases.

Under the various workmens' compensation laws a worker hurt in the course of his employment has the right to appeal to the courts from an unjust arbitrary, or capricious decision, and counsel fee up to 25 per cent of the sum allowed makes it possible for him to employ able and experienced counsel. Should our wounded veterans have less rights than an injured laborer?

DISABLED VETERAN

BEHAVIOR IN DAYS OF SHORTAGES

Chicago, May 27—Why do shopkeepers and their clerks make such hard work of discouraging a customer from making a purchase? They try everything from subtle sarcasm to open insult. They hide their merchandise and, when the customer discovers it, they belittle it so he will not buy it. When a customer approaches a counter, they try to hide from him, pretend they are busy, engage in conversation among themselves, all the time hoping the customer will get disgusted and leave the shop. Nevertheless, despite all these hindrances and discouragements, customers still insist on entering shops and, once in, attempting to make purchases. Would it not be much easier for shopkeepers to keep customers out by the simple expedient of shutting the doors?

MARK TAZER

SCHOOL REFORM

Chicago, June 1—I read with a great deal of interest your editorial in a recent issue, the substance of which was that each local community should handle its own schools, and that the general school board should be charged with handling general matters of a supervisory nature. I believe there is great merit in this idea.

I was not educated in the public schools of Chicago. I did attend the public high school in Vincennes, Ind. I know that I should have gotten a much better education than I did. This was because of my failure to apply myself, and that in turn was due in large part to the failure of the faculty to insist that I apply myself more diligently. I believe that there is an enormous waste, apart from any graft in the administration of our schools. I believe that a much better system could be worked out and applied with the result that our children would be much better educated than they are now, without the expenditure of any more money, and perhaps even with a reduction from the amount now so expended. I hope that your paper will follow this idea and elaborate on it.

WANTS THE WORLD TO HEAR US

Evansville, Ind., May 26—I suggest that the best thing that could happen to the world today would be a Tribune owned radio system, which would reach the four corners of the world.

The sane, sensible, sound, and American ideals that THE TRIBUNE has continually advocated should be impressed upon the people of this country in particular and the world in general.

The world picture is not obscure to any one who is student enough to observe and remember. A war between England and Russia is as inevitable as is day and night. Their interests are diametrically opposed and there can be no reconciliation, for their differences are of material world position.

In view of this inevitable condition, there will be those in this country who will try to put this country again at the disposal of England. The costs would be so enormous that we cannot stand it. The powerful Tribune radio could make all of this so plain to the world. How plain they have already made it that these enormous losses that we are suffering are simply the cost that we are paying for our sympathy with British imperial interests!

PLAYING IN THE YARD

Chicago, June 7—We rent a small flat from month to month. The house is built at the rear of the lot with a big lawn in front and a little yard in the rear. Naturally, I do not want my 6 year old son to play on the street but [1] our landlord objects to his playing in a sand box in the back yard. 2. He says that we rent the flat only and have no right to use the yard. I should like to know whether it is within his right to impose such a restriction on a tenant. M. J.

1. Ordinarily we would consider this a reasonable use of the yard to which the landlord could not object.

2. Reasonable use of the yard would go with the apartment.

Marjorie Patsy McClain to Be Married Saturday in Evanston

Miss Marjorie Patsy McLain, who will be graduated from Northwestern university today, will be married Saturday to Edward Lee Barnett Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Barnett of Moline, Ill., who is a student in the university's engineering school. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wray Ernest McLain of Memphis, Tenn., and a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo E. Wilson of Evanston and of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest S. McLain of Drexel blvd.

Mr. and Mrs. Wray McLain are here for the wedding, which will take place at 8 p. m. in the First Congregational church of Evanston, with a reception and supper following in the Orrington hotel. The bride's sister, Lt. [j. g.] Virginia Jean McLain will be here from her post in Washington, D. C., to be maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be Miss Betty Lou Barnett, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Richard Robb, the former June Gorham, a young war widow, who also is a Northwestern student.

John Peterson will be best man. Ushers will be Dr. Oliver L. Lee, head of the university's psychology department, and Carlyle E. Anderson. Mr. Barnett and his bride will live in Evanston.

In the Evanston home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roy Morrison, Miss Marion Morrison and Stewart Mark McMaster will be married at 8:30 p. m. Saturday. The bride will be attended by her nieces, 5 year old Marcia Eaton, and her sister, Mary, who is 4, daughters of Mrs. Carol Morrison Eaton. Mr. McMaster, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Howard McMaster of Evanston, will have M. Ralph Cleary of Highland Park as best man. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Emory W. Luccock of the First Presbyterian church of Evanston.

After a wedding trip to French Lick, Ind., Mr. McMaster and his bride will live in Evanston. He was graduated from Northwestern, and she attended Wells college.

The Thomas Edwin Quisenberry's home in Evanston will be the scene of two weddings June 22. When Sgt. Earl MacKenzie Ratzer arrived in this country after three years of army service in Italy and telephoned the Quisenberrys' youngest daughter, Helen, from New York, they decided to be married on the 22d, the wedding date already chosen by Miss Agnes Quisenberry and Capt. Alfred C. Meyer of the army medical corps.

Miss Agnes Quisenberry and her fiancé, son of Mrs. Alfred Meyer of E. 55th st., will be married at 5 p. m., and at 8:30 p. m. her sister and Sgt. Ratzer will repeat their wedding vows before the same improvised altar. Here for the ceremonies will be the brides' other sisters, Mrs. Abram S. Ginnes of New York and Mrs. Richard V. Pelton of Stockbridge, Mass., and their husbands. Mrs. Ginnes and Mrs. Pelton and the latter's two children, Patty and Billy, will be among the attendants, and in addition Miss Agnes will be attended by Capt. Meyer's sister, Mrs. Rudolph Singer, and Miss Helen, by Sgt. Ratzer's sister, Mrs. Norman Gratiot.

Sgt. Ratzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Ratzer of Central Park av., and his bride will have a wedding trip before he reports for reassignment. Capt. Meyer and his bride will go to Miami, Fla., and then to his new post.

He is stationed at Williams field, Chandler, Ariz.

Museum and U. of C. Announce Plans for Closer Co-operation

Plans for closer cooperation between the Chicago Natural History [Field] museum and the University of Chicago were disclosed yesterday by Col. Clifford C. Gregg, museum director, and Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, president of the university.

Coördination will include a unified program to build up and consolidate collections and experiments in visual education. After the war, consideration will be given to joint field studies by staff members of both institutions with qualified university students participating in the field work.

The agreement provides for consideration of the award of fellowships in such studies an anthropology, botany, paleontology, and zoology, with the fellows dividing their time between formal study in the university and participation in museum work under the supervision of members of the museum staff.

Club's Party to Benefit War Service Committee

The Woman's club of Wilmette has plans under way for a salad bridge party on Wednesday, June 27, proceeds of which will be given to the war service committee. With Mrs. Philip L. Edwards as chairman, the committee supervises the club's Red Cross production units and knapsack library work and entertains for the men at the Wilmette service center. Mrs. Melville T. Werner's ways and means committee is in charge of arrangements for the war service benefit.

Saying 'Don't!' Won't Change Child's Habits

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1945: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Is your child doing things you consider undesirable or even unwholesome — going with young people you know are not good for her, staying away from home too much, biting her fingernails, reading trashy books, or developing some other habit [important or trivial] that you disapprove of?

Have you tried stopping the constant movie-going or radio-listening, forbidding the companionships you fear, and kidnaping the cheap books and magazines?

If you have, I doubt whether you've met with much success, because, as the old physics school book used to announce, "Nature abhors a vacuum." And just forbidding an activity leaves a sort of vacuum. Certainly no one could call a vacuum interesting. So depriving a child of unwholesome amusements or saying: "Don't do that!" in regard to a habit you dislike, doesn't solve your problem. What you must do is to think up a positive angle of this negative thing and then supply it.

For example, replace "bad" human contacts with jolly interesting companions, perhaps thru some group, such as the Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, or a class in dancing; also by having sociability center in your home. That is, make home interesting as well as finding outside doings for your child that are worthwhile and at the same time entertaining.

There are innumerable things boys and girls can do at home in their leisure, if you offer them encouragement, the materials to work with, and, above all, a place to work.

The pursuit of hobbies [or special interests] and the discovery and development of dormant tastes and talents help children to use their leisure with interest and to find resources within themselves, an achievement which not only has great value while they're young but enriches their adult life.

Undesirable habits can often be pushed out or displaced by good ones—by introducing interesting activities or amusements with equal pulling power.

Summer Designs

The sunsuit for the toddler, cut with shoulders which "stay put," and accompanied by its own sun bonnet, is simple to sew and to launder. Your toddler will need a lot of these this season. The adult frock, for both misses and women, clings to beautiful, tailored lines in wash fabrics. For business or social activities, it can't be equaled for coolness and smartness. Style No. 2888 is designed for sizes 1, 2, 3, and 4. Size 2 requires 1¼ yards of 35 inch fabric with ¾ yard of braid for sunsuit and bonnet; ½ yard for bolero. Appliqué included. Style No. 2934 is designed for sizes 12 to 44. Size 36 requires 3⅝ yards of 39 inch material. Each pattern is 10 cents, plus 2 cents for mailing.

Order Clotilde patterns from Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Annex, NEW YORK CITY. Print name and address; state size. Each pattern is 10 cents, plus 2 cents for mailing. The summer fashion book, on sale at Tribune Public Service offices, is 15 cents; 12 cents if ordered by mail with a pattern.

Bennett Twins Will Be Among Season's Buds

BY HARRIETT PRIBBLE

The season's debutante list will include a pair of twins, for James E. Bennett's youngest daughters, Janet and Joan, probably will be presented to society at Christmas time. The twins, who will return to Bennett Junior college in the fall for their last year, and their sisters, Betty and Ruth Ann, will leave soon for a holiday in the family's cottage at the Wausaukee club in Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon M. Welsh of Winnetka have engaged the Indian Hill club for a debut luncheon Sept. 7 for their daughter, Rosanna. The luncheon will be a small gathering for young women of debutante age, in contrast to the gala party at which the bud's elder sister, Sallie Ellen, was introduced to society several seasons ago. Miss Welsh, who is called Posie, attends Wells college. Her sister, an ensign in the WAVES, is stationed at the Philadelphia navy yard.

Miss Laura Fiske Broeksmit, who will vacation at Desbarats, Ont., in August with the Hermon Dunlap Smiths, will share in the coming season's debutante festivities. The third daughter of the John Broeksmits of Lake Forest just was graduated from Ferry hall and will enter Vassar college in September. Her oldest sister, Nancy, was graduated from Vassar last December and now holds a war job in Evanston. Miss Mary Birch Broeksmit, who attends the University of Wisconsin, will spend the summer as counselor at a camp in Minnesota. Their brother, Lt. John Broeksmit Jr., is on active duty with the navy.

Altho the name of Miss Barbara Priebe, second daughter of the Frank A. Priebes of Lake Forest, has been added to the debut list, she has no plans for a party. The Priebes expect to spend the summer in Lake Forest except for occasional trips to Coleman Lake, Wis. Miss Helen Priebe has no definite wedding plans as her fiance, Lt. Edward F. Swift III., is in Germany with the army.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Bennett of Highland Park have not decided whether to give a party for their daughter, Betty, whose name is on the new debutante list. Miss Bennett, who has completed her freshman year at Ogontz college, and her parents will spend part of the summer at their home in Conover, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffith Mark of Northfield are planning a Christmas time debut party for Mrs. Mark's daughter, Miss Janet Moore, who just has been graduated from the North Shore Country Day school. She will enter Sarah Lawrence college in September. Miss Mark is a granddaughter of the late Adm. William A. Moffett, who was in command at Great Lakes during the last war.

Added to the debut parties already planned for the Saturday before Christmas, Dec. 22, is a tea which Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Wirtz will give to introduce their daughter, Cynthia, to society. Miss Wirtz was graduated this month from the Girls' Latin school.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MAC KAY

Initially Speaking

I'm really not important
But I'm always in my place—
Tho readers never notice me
In my allotted space.

I'm typed in groups of twos or threes,
In lower case—or caps—
To represent some notes transcribed . . .
A dictaphone, perhaps!

For, I'm those little letters
At the bottom of the page—
Divided by a color

ELSIE MURIEL FARR

Office Insects

One of the most irksome of all pests is the office gossip and talebearer. It has always amazed me the way these pernicious people strike a righteous pose while they judge every one, from the president of the firm down to the youngest file clerk.

And what does one do about the co-worker who, under the guise of friendship, turns on a barrage of personal questions that would put a barbarian to shame? There is dignity of mind and spirit in keeping certain things to ourselves. Also there is a clearly defined line between friendly understanding and vulgar inquisitiveness.

Business firms could be more efficient and loyal and better places to work if people would remember that "Blessed are they who mind their own business."

MARGARET O'GARA

We Do Things the Hard Way

Might I suggest seamless hose as a solution for the WC Gals with knees that knock and legs that bow? Or would that make things too simple?

MERE MALE OBSERVER

Sounds Nice

Speaking of flowers, I'm sure many of the WCGs have seen the beautiful floral arrangements in a certain office of the Insurance Exchange.

The office is pleasant, employer and employes alike are real people, every one is treated courteously—and the work gets out!

Dis and Data

A winner in the Chicago Artists exhibition at the Art institute is Catherine O'Brien. She is known for her Century of Progress murals and interior displays for Marshall Field's. . . . Another recent winner was Marie Blanke, for many years art instructor at Lewis institute. She won two prizes for her painting, "The Old Desk." . . . Several helpful replies have come in answer to a query about speedwriting to take the place of shorthand. One informant, H. F. W., says it takes eight to ten weeks to learn, is easily transcribed, and enables one to take dictation satisfactorily and rapidly enough to meet most demands. . . . Have the girls, looking for trifles to send overseas, seen the amusingly illustrated booklet, Ostrom's "Languages of the Pacific"?

Dear Diary BY BECKY

Thru the Looking Glass

If a cat can look at a king, the poor working girl can certainly dream, can't she, about a perfume that is frankly expensive? And maybe she can't afford it for herself, but she can relish the fact that it's there for the day when her ship comes in, its decks lined with gold.

The perfume is one that's named for the world's most precious metal—or what at least has always been rated the most precious until war came along and made such gross metal as brass almost worth its weight in rubies. This was inspired by platinum, we'll have you know, and everything about it, from package to scent, is right up there in the wonderfully glamorous class of precious metals and rare jewels.

Curiously enough, this is not an exotic fragrance, as most expensive perfumes are. It's airy, provocative, memorable. But it's lasting, and it's one that's as delightful in warm weather as it is during the season of furs and fine heavy feathers. As a matter of fact it's a perfume we could crave to wear with some of those "important" linens and sheers that are around this summer. It has such lift and such a unique balance of sweetness and sophistication that it seems to us a scent that would give the wearer of almost anything a smug feeling of elegance.

Tho the container is as streamlined and simple as the designs of tomorrow, the perfume actually is bottled imaginatively, with dancing silvery flecks, suggestive of platinum, suspended in the liquid. It's gay—and definitely snazzy.

Promotions and Decorations Won by Chicago Service Men

BY JUDITH CASS

THAT oft-repeated question, "What do you hear from Joe?" which is asked constantly of service men's wives and parents, reveals some interesting news of promotions and decorations. Ronald J. Chinnock recently was promoted to captain in the naval reserve. He entered the navy as a lieutenant two and one-half years ago and is stationed in Washington, D. C.

Now a captain in the army is William C. Grannis, who is serving in Germany. He wears the Purple Heart, awarded for an injury received while advancing under fire last summer in St. Lo, France.

Recently promoted to captain in the army air forces is Lester Armour Jr., who expects to return from the Pacific in a few weeks for a post in this country. His youngest brother, Vernon, and his St. Mark's classmate, William B. McIlvaine Jr., both are entering the service. Mr. McIlvaine will begin flight training with the naval air forces next month. Mr. Armour will study at Yale until he is called by the army air forces in the fall.

Frank E. Mueller Jr. has been promoted to lieutenant senior grade and is on duty with the navy in the Atlantic. His wife and son will spend the summer in Minocqua, Wis. John A. Howard, who was promoted from staff sergeant to lieutenant in Germany last fall, has been advanced to 1st lieutenant and expects to attend the school for post-war soldier problems in Paris. The Francis E. Manierres' son, George, who is on duty with the naval reserve in the Pacific, has been promoted to boatswain's mate, second class.

Lt. Walter F. Wallace of the army air forces has received the air medal "in recognition of courageous service to his combat organization," his family has learned. He has been serving in the southwest Pacific area.

Capt. Towner K. Webster of Winnetka recently received the bronze star for his participation in the Ruhr crossing. The presentation was made in Germany. Capt. Webster also has received the croix de guerre from the French. He landed in France on D-day.

When Maj. Gen. Charles C. Haffner reported recently to his new post at Camp Rucker, Ala., he was wearing a new decoration on his army blouse — the distinguished service medal, which he earned while commanding an infantry division in the 7th army.

Here and There

Lt. and Mrs. John Russell Holmes will arrive Sunday from Las Vegas, Nev., where he has been stationed as an instructor with the army air forces. They are bringing their little daughter, Jean, with them and will spend 10 days with Lt. Holmes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Holmes, in Lake Shore dr.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes will welcome them at a cocktail party Sunday, and Lt. Holmes' sister, Miss Alice Holmes, will give a luncheon for the younger Mrs. Holmes next Wednesday in the Saddle and Cycle club. Young Mrs. Holmes' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Nugent, will entertain at cocktails the 23d. Lt. and Mrs. Holmes lived in Crilly ct. before he entered the army. Their son, John Jr., is in Santa Barbara with his maternal grandparents, the Sellar Bullards.

When Capt. Peter Ball landed from overseas duty recently he and Mrs. Ball came to Chicago immediately to see his mother, who is a patient in St. Luke's hospital. They will return to New York today but will be back July 2 for a few days before Capt. Ball goes back to 1st army headquarters. His sister, Mrs. Gerald Wellesley, and her two sons, Robin and Julian of Sussex, England, expect to come to Chicago soon on their first visit in six years. Robin probably will be called for military service next year.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Miller of Maryland av., who are celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary today, have a number of interesting stories of early Chicago to recall. Mrs. Miller's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Abner Price, built their home in Prairie av. before the Chicago fire of 1871 and lived there for many years. Mr. Miller is the son of George Miller, who built the old Metropole hotel in the days of the Columbian Exposition. The Millers have one daughter, Mrs. John McWhinnie, and a grandson, Harold McWhinnie.

News of Births

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Ross [Frederika Walling] of Winnetka are being congratulated on the birth of a son, their third child, last Friday in Evanston hospital. The baby and his sisters, Polly and Christina, are grandchildren of Mrs. Willoughby G. Walling of Winnetka.

Capt. and Mrs. Matthew L. Rockwell [Mary Hill] of Winnetka became the parents of their second daughter, Ellen Hill, June 5 in Passavant hospital. The baby is a granddaughter of the Cyrus G. Hills. Capt. Rockwell is stationed here with the army.

A Jellied Fish Mold for the Summer Buffet Menu

1 Beat 3 egg yolks slightly with 1½ teaspoons salt, 1½ teaspoons dry mustard, 1½ tablespoons flour, and ½ teaspoon paprika. Combine 1¼ cups milk, 3½ tablespoons vinegar or lemon juice, and 2 tablespoons melted margarine and add to eggs.

2 Cook over boiling water until thick, stirring constantly. Soften 1½ tablespoons unflavored gelatin in ¾ cup cold water. Add to hot mixture and stir until dissolved. Add 2 cups cooked or canned flaked fish. Turn into mold and chill.

3 For an unusual dressing, combine 1 cup cultured cream, 1 medium cucumber coarsely chopped (leave green rind on), and 2 tablespoons lemon juice or vinegar. Season with ½ teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Serve with jellied fish.

4 Garnish mold with radish slices and serve on crisp salad greens. This delicious chilled salad, together with the sour cream cucumber dressing, makes an ideal main dish for summer buffet parties. It requires no points if fresh fish is used.

Try Seersuckers and Denim for Vacation Attire

BY REA SEEGER

Summer vacation clothes are getting the spotlight. First, there are rugged looking and long wearing seersuckers. These used to be prime items, whether in suits or dresses, for the traveling crowd, and now, with vacations planned around home base, they serve the same purpose. Slim two piece suit-dresses in all the scrupulously clean and cool combinations of beige and white, green and white, blue and white, and dubonnet and white stripes still reward the search for something cool that requires little if any pressing.

After the seersuckers, comes the sturdy denim of faded blue. After seasons of tested service it still clicks with every one. Slacks, shorts, and bra tops, snappy short boleros, jackets that are boxy and loose or nipped in neatly around the waist line are ready for instant duty, come the two week rest from routine. Listed together, these seersucker and denim fashions are headliners for any shopper with a vacation wardrobe to plan. Some of the seersuckers and some of the denims are smoothly detailed and well worth serious considerations as cool, smart office outfits for the summer.

Strictly glamor clothes are those designed by that ace of American dress designers—Claire McCardell. These are the sleek, streamlined models in summer-navy, dull-black, gray, and copper, all stitched with white and fitted as if molded to the body. They are swank originals, and have the narrowest of the bras in all the trick new outlines. The very brief boleros hug the body and fasten smoothly like a daringly cut-off bodice top. Both skirts with deep foldover plaits in center front and the "clam digger" shorts can be worn with these daring, abbreviated tops. Copper, gray, and black are three ideal summer contrast shades to wear, to show off sun-tans.

ON THE AISLE

By Claudia Cassidy

Chicago Philharmonic Is Christened with Concert Conducted by Henry Weber

Not a bottle was smashed or a baton broken as the newly christened Chicago Philharmonic took to the air last night over W-G-N and Mutual, but then there was nothing new but the name of the orchestra Henry Weber has been building to its present stature for the last 10 seasons. Even the man whose speech launched the new title was an old friend—Rudolph Ganz, who was Mr. Weber's first soloist in the days when the W-G-N Symphony orchestra was very young.

Last night's concert held Dvorák's Scherzo Capriccioso, Wieniawski's Second Violin Concerto, with Raphael Spiro as soloist, and the Bacchanale and Finale from Wagner's "Tannhäuser." I heard the Dvorák in the hospitable control room, where it sounded very fine indeed, particularly in the purity of the winds, but no matter how music sounds in a control room, I'm confused by the unfamiliarity of the place.

So Mr. Ganz and I crept out to our accustomed places in the auditorium, where the slow movement of the Wieniawski had a mellow richness of texture that invited you to sing along with the violin, and where the Wagner reminded me that the real purpose of any orchestra is to display not itself, but the music. It reminded me, too, that back in 1924 a very young conductor made his début with the Chicago Opera company. The opera was Tannhäuser, and the cast held Rosa Raisa, Cyrena Van Gordon, Forrest Lamont, Joseph Schwarz, and Alexander Kipnis. The conductor was Henry Weber and Chicago has claimed him ever since. He knew his Wagner then and he knows it better now. Last night's "Tannhäuser" had the brilliance of saturnalia, the overtones of nobility and the unmistakable authority of solid performance that kept Wagner a giant in the repertoire.

New Problem

Producers at best are harried souls who cry havoc every time a cast is raided by rival producers, slashed into shreds by Hollywood's barbed lures, or just demolished by bored actors who want to quit. But William Brown Meloney, who had counted on Martha Scott to tour in "Soldier's Wife," suddenly discovers that Miss Scott, on the word of her doctor, has "low energy reserve."

It seems this is a pernicious malady severely aggravated by split weeks and sent into a frenzy by activity of one night stands. So Rose Franken's play gets a new leading lady, if it tours. Miss Scott, however, will be strong enough to act in New York, and there is a rumor she may get up enough energy reserve to take over one of the longest roles in contemporary theater, which would be Sally in "The Voice of the Turtle," when the Broadway troupe reopens after summer holiday. Another rumor is that Margaret Sullavan, who created the role and got tired of it, rather wants it back in the fall.

Notes

Acting is no longer a vagabond's trade. Equity has a surplus of $176,777. Business was so good last season that one out of each five Broadway shows was a hit. . . . Vivian Vance, vacationing on an Albuquerque ranch before joining our "Turtle," will arrive in time to get a brand new wardrobe, preferably chartreuse. . . . "Life with Father" is about to lose Warren Briggs, who plays the second son at the Erlanger. He goes into the navy. . . . Add Gilbert Miller, John C. Wilson, and Max Gordon to the list of producers on their way to London and Paris on theatrical business.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 heart	Pass	2 diamonds	Pass
2 hearts	Pass	3 hearts	Pass
4 hearts	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: King of spades.

When a player faces the necessity for making a guess, the evil moment should be put off as long as possible. Something might turn up. When the missing queen or the missing jack can be finessed in either direction it is good policy not to commit yourself too soon. If there is some other work to be done, set right to it and in the meantime the opposition might help you out of your dilemma, by leading the suit that had you puzzled.

The declarer in today's hand was up against the question of locating the jack of trumps and succeeded in obviating the problem by a simple little ruse. The final contract of four hearts was slightly on the optimistic side, but the hand is admittedly difficult to bid. The two diamond response is normal enough and the rebid to two hearts is routine. West felt that he had just a little too much to give up and commit the hand to a part score so he decided to make one more move. Inasmuch as the hearts had been rebid he decided his holding was adequate trump support and offered a very questionable raise to three hearts. East had ample reason for going on to game.

The king of spades was opened and taken with the ace. The success of the ambitious contract depended upon the ability to pick up the jack of trumps. As can be seen the finesse can be taken in either direction. But rather than commit himself at once declarer hit upon a simple method of getting the opponents to lead trumps for him. He promptly returned the jack of spades in order to give the impression that he desired to use dummy's hearts for ruffing spades. There was no way for South to know that his partner had five spades and from the bidding it did not appear that the jack of hearts would be a very vital card, inasmuch as the trump suit had been rebid by declarer. South therefore fell into the trap and returned a heart. From this point on it was clear sailing for the declarer.

You are declarer at a contract of five diamonds. The opening lead is the king of hearts and third hand plays the six. What card do you play?

Funds Being Sought to Aid Hull House's Bowen Country Club

An appeal for funds for the Bowen Country club, a summer camp for underprivileged children two miles north of Waukegan, was made yesterday by Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, treasurer of the Hull House association.

The camp houses 175 to 200 children, as well as mothers of infants, every two weeks during the summer. It covers 72 acres and has huge vegetable and flower gardens. Altho the camp is partially endowed, Hull House has to raise a considerable sum of money each season.

In 33 years, the camp has cared for 33,000 children and in addition has had between 5,000 and 6,000 persons annually for outings of one or more days.

TERRIFIED

It was plain Sybrand thought Miss Warburton was lying. And she saw, with despair, that his rudeness and his harsh voice were only manifestations of his great fear of her.

He said warily: "I'll see how he is. No, don't you come. You stay here." And he sidled to the door without turning his back on her.

He thinks I did this, too, she told herself. Nothing I can say will have any effect. Even Sen. North's belief in me can't survive this! Some one has set out to ruin me, and succeeded.

She heard Mr. Jennesma in the kitchen for a long time, moving about. At last he came into the living room. In silent contempt she watched him make a long detour about her. He must think I have a gun, she thought.

"How is Dirk?" she asked.

"Bad." He eyed her searchingly. "You mean, he's dying?"

"Probably. He's badly hurt."

"But," she roused herself, "we must do something about him. Send for a doctor. Or the police. Some one hit him. They may be lurking about outside . . . waiting to hurt some one else."

"Yes, we must call the police," he said, sternly. "I am sorry for this, Miss Warburton. It makes me sick at heart to have to face the fact, at last."

"What do you mean? Why are you looking at me that way?" She tried not to get hysterical. "Surely you don't think I struck Dirk down? A big strong man like that?"

"You could have stood inside the door, taken him by surprise. Certainly that is what the police will say."

"But you . . . don't believe such a thing of me! How could you!"

"I didn't want to. I've fought against it. I've explained every new thing that came up so that you got the benefit of the doubt." His voice sounded a little odd, unfamiliar.

"But this last blow is too much!" he went on. "There is the weapon on the floor. There is Dirk. I saw no one as I came over here, and I would have seen an assailant . . . if there'd been any. . . ."

"But . . . but somebody was protecting me, Dirk was threatening me," she cried wildly. "There was a gun in his right pocket."

He shook his head. "There was no gun."

Her opened mouth slowly closed. Closed like the trap that was being built around her higher and higher every minute. She flashed frantic eyes about the room for help. From one of the windows she thought she saw a man diving behind a bush.

"What do you intend to do, Mr. Jennesma?"

"I have no choice, Miss Warburton. I will have to turn you over to the police. I have done my best to shield you . . . but this last is too much."

Her hands dropped to her lap in surrender. She drew a deep breath. What was the use of arguing?

She saw him stride toward the hall. She wondered how he would manage to dial with those bandages on his hands. As he went thru the doorway she suddenly said:

"No use trying to phone. It's dead."

"O, yes, of course."

For a moment there was no reaction. Then with belated power the two words began to echo and re-echo thru her mind with astonishing meaning. Of course! Of course? What could that mean . . . but one thing?

Without being conscious of any motion, she found herself on her feet.

"You knew about it!" she cried. "You did it. You cut the wire!" Her hands flew out to the switch and suddenly the glaring overhead lights were on.

It was almost as if a light went on in her mind, too, illuminating everything. He was back in the room now.

"You struck Dirk down, too," she said, "and tried to put the blame on me. It must have been you."

"Miss Warburton, you're losing your mind. You won't gain anything by turning on me this way. If you are sensible I'll do my best to help you."

His words were seemly but his level tone had a menacing undercurrent. She went on staring up at him in the brilliant light. Lt. French had sworn that Sybrand was innocent but he must have been mistaken. Murderous rage and guilt were burning in this man's small blue eyes. She knew she should not antagonize him.

"If you will not try to accuse other people and will take your medicine—I will help Sen. North to lighten your sentence, Miss Warburton. He can make out that you killed Dirk in self-defense."

"O, is Dirk dead, too?" she gasped.

Then, abruptly her breathing was turned off. Slowly, against vast resistance, a terrific new fact wedged its way into her mind.

He was Gerrit!

But he couldn't be, she told herself in a panic. Gerrit had never worn a mustache. This man had Sybrand's familiar, sandy brush. Gerrit had had a great gaping wound in his cheek and this man's cheek was as smooth as hers . . . without a scar. And the body in the fire had had a wounded cheek.

He came closer, reading her thoughts, darkening with grim fury. He whispered. "You . . . you know!"

"No, no, no, no."

"Yes. You were a fool to guess. Now you leave me no choice. I've got to kill you, too."

Suddenly she became aware that there was a small gun in his right hand and his left was grasping her wrist. He had simply slid off the great white bandages, like mitts.

In spite of her extreme terror, her desire to go on living gave her a new shot of courage. Over his shoulder her eyes flicked the doorway, the window. If only she could stall him along for a few vital seconds!

"Why should it be necessary to kill me?" she whispered. "I can keep secrets. Why should I tell?"

"Save your breath. Why should you mean more to me than my own sister? I'm trusting one woman and that's enough. I'm thru trusting anybody after the way my sanctimonious brother cleaned up on me. And you knew it. Why should I do anything for you?"

"But I didn't know. I swear it!"

"You mean to say you don't know he did me out of that chair invention. I never got a cent. And when he would talk me into our turning back all our profits into the business . . . it was only all my profits, he meant. He's done me out of my share of all our inheritance. I've had to beg him for enough to carry on my inventions."

"But . . . I didn't dream of such a thing," she stammered. "I thought you were always so fond of him."

"I was . . . at first. I believed everything. I was a complete sucker for him. And a year ago . . . when by accident I found out what he'd done to me . . . I didn't change . . . outwardly. I knew it was my only chance if I wanted to get rid of him without being suspected."

"But . . . but why throw all the blame on me?"

"I thought you were helping him cheat me. You were hand-in-glove with him. And then when he roped in North and Morgan Riley and his Wall Street crowd . . . and was going to let them hog all the profits . . . that was your work, too. You and that nosey North."

Parisian Shows Chic Furs for Junior Miss

BY ANNE BRUYERE
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

PARIS, June 12 — Hard-wearing Hudson seal, squirrel, and baby lamb are Raphael's choice of swanky furs for the junior miss. He has used them to fashion the casual sports jackets, elegant boleros, and extra smooth dress coats he is presenting in his current parade of furs for next winter.

"A l'Ecole et Partout" is a finger-tip length swagger jacket of squirrel with wide patch pockets of matching gray wool on each hip. The same wool also fashions the important, classically tailored lapels.

Squirrel also is used for "Au Bois," a square shouldered box coat with a graceful swing back. Glass heads of squirrels button down the front.

Abbreviated boleros with adjustable twin bag-pockets, which also may be worn as muffs, come in brown Hudson seal. "Nouvelle Emission" is the name of one particularly youthful model with a gaily striped silk lining to match the scarf.

"Ma Mie" is a baby lamb coat requiring a slim chassis. The elegant bodice panel in front is outlined in contrasting wool. A half-belt of gilt chain crosses the nipped-in waist. The flare skirt is knee-length.

Fashion Flashes: La Ville du Puy displays a stiffened white mousseline jumper dress blouse with venetian lace jabots crossing the smooth shoulders and forming the wide cuffs. . . . Mme. Carpentier further emphasizes the enormous transparent sleeves of her summer afternoon dresses by variegated embroidery around the elbows. . . . Jacques Fath has designed a sparkling rhinestone trimmed blue crepe formal with the hip drapery and the flowing skirt arranged to resemble a cascade in front.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., June 12—Now that Metro has paid off all of Lucky Baldwin's heirs, it can go ahead and make the story of Lucky Baldwin with Clark Gable, as soon as it can get Clark Gable. . . . Every penny Comdr. John Ford received for making "They Were Expendable" goes toward a fund he's building up to create a home for the injured boys who were with him overseas. . . . Thursday night will be Harold Stassen night in our town, and the clans will be gathered from far and near. . . . Yes, Warners would like to sign Dick Haymes' wife, but she wants to try out a new play in the valley before making a picture anywhere. . . . The Red Skeltons will welcome a baby in November. . . . Merle Oberon, who was supposed to be marrying Lucien Ballard in Mexico, was in reality entertaining Lucien, the Gary Coopers, and the Bill Goetzes at her beach home. Merle begins a picture this week, and as soon as she has time from the picture she and Lucien will be married. But she has no idea when.

Success in Talking Up a Tune

The reason you'll hear Ginny Simms singing "Cuddle Up a Little Closer" in "Alibi in Ermine" is that she talked her director into it. . . . Kathleen Howard is having her second screen romance at Universal with Charles Coburn. Her first was with W. C. Fields. Shucks! Should we call this romance? . . . Ever hear the story of Met Singer Jan Peerce? His talent was first discovered at a Jewish wedding where he got $5 for singing. One guest heard him, became his agent, got bookings for him. And when Jan said, "I'm going to sing at the Met," his manager thought he'd gone off the deep end. Agent said, "But you have to know 200 arias and speak several languages to sing at the Met." Jan replied, "Would it surprise you to know that I already know 20?"

Mixing Music and Magic

Bert Kalmar of the song hits, "Three Little Words" and "Oh, What a Pal Is Mary," puts on grease paint for the magician in "Confidential Agent," with Charles Boyer and Lauren Bacall. He started out monkeying with magic when he was 9. . . . Now Bacall has a new scent named for her. . . . John Wayne celebrated his birthday at Ciro's, with Carmen Cavallaro playing "Happy Birthday to You" so well it should be on the hit parade. . . . Ann Blythe got out of bed for the first time since her tobogganing accident. She went to the doctor's for X-rays this time. . . . Sam Hinds finally got it—a bid for a Broadway play from Howard Lindsay and Russell Crouse. Sam used to be a banker. He's one of our finest character actors. He says he's been waiting 40 years for this. . . .

A Little Weary of Promises

Ruth Hussey, after turning in a swell comedy performance for "Bedside Manner," wonders what Metro's saving her for. She's been promised bigger and better things—but when? . . . Sammy Cahn and Jules Styne swear they did not compose "Can't You Read Between the Lions' while standing between them on the steps of the New York public library. . . . In New York they're calling Helmut Dantine, who's become the bobby-sockers' delight, "Sinatra with blood." . . . The pink carnations Jinx Falkenburg wore in her hair for her marriage to Tex McCrary were ordered for her by Paulette Goddard. Paulette also sent her a new white moire dressing gown which she'd ordered for herself. She wrapped it up in tissue paper, put it in a champagne basket, sent it over to Jinx's house. The basket was put into the icebox. Jinx was in the garden being photographed when her mother told about it. The photographer said, "Why don't you open it so we can drink a toast?" They uncovered the basket and discovered the dressing gown—no champagne . . . no toast.

Blonde, But No Pink Whiskers

Jane Wyman goes blonde again for "Night and Day" and Monty Woolley absolutely refuses to have his beard dyed pink. . . . Bob Hope was telling about his recent visit to the White House when a pal cracked, "With all that ham in front of him, it's amazing that President Truman believed there was a nation-wide meat shortage." . . . Dame May Whitty made a recording of Elizabeth Barrett Browning's "Sonnets from the Portuguese" which went to our fighting men. She got this from a fellow in the Aleutians:

"Dear Dame Whitty:
I have just heard your words with music . . .
How I do love thee—do let me recount the ways.
I love you for the woman that you are,
The actress that you never mar.
I love thee for the poetry you know,
The poets so fine, the words so apropos.
I love thee for the manner of your reading,
The way you tone emotions with your breeding.
I love you for your humbleness and your simplicity,
For your grace and style and dignity.
I love you for your continuing your reading as 'May,'
But, dear lady, you deserved the 'Dame' from your very first day.
Most respectfully yours,
Corp. F. B."

Doris Blake's Letter Box

"Dear Miss Blake: I'm 21. Over a year ago I met a soldier stationed near-by. He was from another state. Just before he went overseas he said he was getting serious about me, and thought it best we forget each other. He didn't write, until recently. Now he claims he loves me and talks of our future together. Do you think he's really serious, or just lonesome for mail?

"WONDERING."

Give him the benefit of the doubt. At least he thinks he's in love, that's something. Write him his confession of love makes you very happy, and that you'll certainly be glad to see him again so you can take up your wonderful friendship where you left off.

"Dear Miss Blake: We're both 16. He said he loved me, then didn't show up for several days. When I saw him I asked why. He said because he didn't have any money to take me out. I forgave him, because I know he hasn't any allowance. But when he failed to keep a date with me, didn't talk to me when I saw him, and his friends told me he was out with another girl, I decided he wasn't sincere. Please advise. BROKENHEARTED."

He couldn't be serious about love at his age. You should have thanked him with a sweet smile, so he'd know you were pleased, but hinted you thought him a terrific flirt, which he is, and not worth any sighs or tears.

Bundles Will Give Prize for Best Remade Clothing

Seven garments made from re-processed clothing by unit members of the Chicago branch of Bundles for America will be displayed from June 25 to 29 in the branch headquarters at 14 N. Michigan av. A $25 war bond will be awarded to the worker whose garment is voted the most attractive and well made. Clubs or individuals who have worked for Bundles are invited to submit garments for the competition. The judging will take place at the organization's monthly meeting June 26.

AUSTIN, FENGER REACH FINALS IN CITY LEAGUE

Farragut, Harrison Nines Eliminated

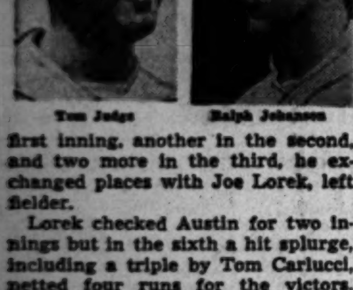

The Austin and Fenger High school baseball teams each advanced to the finals of the City league baseball playoffs by scoring semi-final victories yesterday.

Austin upset the favored Farragut nine in a 9 to 1 rout in McKinley park. Fenger rallied in the ninth to tie the score and went on to defeat Harrison, 9 to 7, in 10 innings on the University of Chicago's Greenwood field.

The two victors will meet for the City league title Saturday afternoon in Wrigley field.

Judge Strikes Out Ten

Tom Judge, on the mound for Austin, limited Farragut to four hits and fanned ten. Stan Feldman started for Farragut, but after he was touched for two runs in the first inning, another in the second, and two more in the third, he exchanged places with Joe Lorek, left fielder.

Tom Judge — Ralph Johanson

Lorek checked Austin for two innings but in the sixth a hit splurge, including a triple by Tom Carlucci, netted four runs for the victors. This was the last scoring of the day, Farragut having made its only run in the second inning.

Adolph Regelsky, a pinch hitter who has been on the disabled list with a broken ankle, won the game for Fenger when he hit a home run with a mate on in the tenth inning.

Homers Play Big Part

Fenger moved in front in the second inning when Tim Madden hit a home run but Harrison came back in the fourth to score two runs, one on a homer by Johnny Gerkis, and take the lead.

Fenger again went ahead in the first half of the sixth but in the last half Austin tied the score at 4 to 4. In the seventh, Fenger scored one run and Harrison came thru with three to take a 7 to 5 advantage that stood until the ninth when the Fenger rally tied the score.

Starting the tenth the first man up, Russ Giles, singled, and came home on Regelsky's homer. Ralph Johanson, the Fenger pitcher, limited Harrison to nine hits.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD

According to Sam Breadon, president of the St. Louis Cardinals, there ought to be a law against playing National league games in the Polo Grounds. . . . It is 295 feet down each foul line to the fence, and fly balls which would be easy outs in any other major league park go for home runs. . . . Quoting Mr. Breadon: "The Giants have averaged nearly two home runs per game at home this season; they play 77 games in the Polo Grounds and the visiting teams get to play only 11. What's fair about that?" . . . Officials of other National league clubs will agree Sam has reason to complain, but there seems to be no remedy immediately available. . . . It would be impossible to alter the architecture of the field to lengthen the foul lines. . . . The only solution would be a new stadium on another site and that would run into millions. . . . The Giants' defense might be that the club has won only three league pennants in the last 20 seasons and the teams which turned the trick probably could have done so in any one's ball park. . . . Unassisted triple plays of any description are a diamond rarity, but how about one completed by an outfielder? . . . It probably could happen only in California, but Walter Carlisle, who died the other day in Los Angeles, was credited with a triple killing on July 19, 1911, against Vernon, then a member of the Pacific Coast league. . . . Carlisle was playing center field for the Angels, and the pitcher was wild, walking the first two men to face him in the sixth inning. . . . The next one lined a low fly over second base, and both runners dashed for the plate under the impression that it was good for extra bases. . . . The fleet-footed Carlisle charged in and scooped the ball off the grass tops. . . . One runner had crossed the plate, and the other was on third, so Carlisle ran to second and then to first with the ball to retire them both.

Promoters of the annual 500 mile automobile race in Indianapolis are proceeding quietly with plans for resumption of the grind in 1946 if the war is over. . . . Said Jimmy Foxx in 1944: "I'm as fit as I ever was except for my eyes, and they're practically useless for baseball purposes. . . . I stand up there at the plate. . . . I feel fine. . . . I know I still have the old power, but when the ball comes up I see only half of it. . . . When I swing I usually hit the half of the ball which isn't there." . . . That was just before the Cubs released Jim to manage the Portsmouth club in the Piedmont league. . . . Jim was offered a contract by the Phillies this spring, accepted it with misgivings and started hitting. . . . The other day he smashed his third home run for the National league's cellar dwellers. . . . Pretty fair for a man who can see only half a ball. . . . If Spud Davis of the Pirates bats .300 this season he will equal Bill Dickey's feat of doing it for 11 seasons. . . . A big league scout, who shall be nameless, believes that most of the outstanding players in the National and American circuits this year still would be in double A or A leagues in normal times.

When Roses Bloom Again

When you shall see the rose vines creep again
Upon this trellis that stands cold and bare
Against the winter's stinging sleet and rain,
I trust that you will breathe a silent prayer
For one who treks thru jungles and foul fens
In a Pacific island far away,
Where every human consolation ends
And all is noxious waste and vile decay.

And know that I shall see those roses bloom,
Lifting their crimson glory to the sun,
When in some filthy trench—a living tomb—
I seek repose when the long day is done;
And we shall walk the pathways that we trod
When sportive spring time with a lavish hand
Spread golden dandelions on the sod

And when at least peace sounds thruout the world
When bugles blow and banners are unfurled
And all the universe seems light and gay;
If I should sleep beneath some tropic sky
Where purple waves break into silver foam,
We still shall roam in spirit, you and I,
Along the old familiar paths of home.

BY EDWARD BURNS
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 12—The Cubs now have played four night games this year and have lost them all. Tonight before 15,126 rain dampened customers, the Pirates winged them quite prettily, 9 to 3, the Pittsburghers thus rising to within a game of the leading New York Giants, while the Cubs remained in fifth place, but only three games behind the fading New Yorkers.

Lefty Al Gerheauser went all the way to accomplish his second victory of the year. Moreover, he was quite a slugging gent, making two singles off Hank Wyse, the starting and losing pitcher, one off Paul Erickson, and one off George Hennessey. He didn't bat against Mack Stewart, fourth Cub pitcher.

The Pirates made seven hits off Wyse, the young man who held them to an eighth inning single on April 28, two off Erickson, and five off Hennessey.

Double Header Thursday

The Cubs did not make their fourth hit until Gerheauser was possessed of a 6 to 0 lead. They made three for a run in the seventh and three for a pair of runs in the eighth.

The Cubs and Pirates will rest tomorrow, then conclude the series with a double header Thursday afternoon. The Cubs still lead the Pirates, eight victories to six, if that will give them any comfort on their day of relaxation tomorrow.

There wasn't a hit in the game until the Pirates started firing in the third inning. Pete Coscarart opened the third with a single to center and stopped at second on Vic Barnhart's single to left. Gerheauser singled to left, scoring Coscarart. Phil Cavarretta's perfect throw had Barnhart sunk at third, but the ball got away from Stan Hack and Barnhart was safe at third. Lee Handley bounced a sacrifice to Heinz Becker and when Becker threw late to the plate Barnhart scored, Gerheauser reached second, and Handley first. Mickey Livingston picked Gerheauser off second, but during a rundown Handley got to second. Barrett struck out and Jim Russell flied to Cavarretta.

First Cub Hit in Fourth

Don Johnson opened the fourth with the Cubs' first hit but was forced by Becker. Cavarretta flied to Russell, and Andy Pafko fouled to Babe Dahlgren.

Bill Nicholson opened the fifth with a single to right but was out trying to reach second. Livingston dropped a single in short center. Merullo flied to Jack Barrett and Wyse bounced to Barnhart.

The Pirates fattened their advantage by four runs and knocked out Wyse in the fifth. Barnhart opened with his second single and Gerheauser bunted over Wyse's head for his second single. The runners advanced on Handley's sacrifice, then Barrett was given an intentional pass, loading the bases. Russell also walked, forcing Barnhart across the plate. Bob Elliott singled to left, scoring Gerheauser and Barrett. Paul Erickson replaced Wyse and walked Salkeld on four pitches, again loading the bases. Dahgren flied to Nicholson, Russell scoring. Coscarart also flied to Nicholson.

DODGERS POUND MUNGO TO BEAT GIANTS, 7 TO 4

Brooklyn, N. Y., June 12 (AP)—Brooklyn crept to within one and a half games of the leading New York Giants today by a 7 to 4 decision that snapped Van Mungo's six game winning streak.

It was New York's 11th defeat in 14 games.

Mungo was chased from the hill in the third inning when the Dodgers scored four to overcome an early 2 to 0 lead as Goodie Rosen's two run single tied the count and Dixie Walker's double off the right field wall put Brooklyn out in front by two runs.

Manager Leo Durocher, out on $1,000 bail in a felonious assault charge, was back on the Brooklyn coaching lines for the first time since Saturday night's disturbance.

Pavot's Stock in Preakness Skyrockets

Baltimore, Md., June 12 (AP).—The stock of Pavot, the 1944 juvenile champion, skyrocketed today after the dark son of Case Ace ran a sensational 1:59 1/5 over the stake distance of a mile and three-sixteenths in his final heavy workout before the Preakness next Saturday at Pimlico.

Woolf to Ride Pavot.

The blistering pace of Walter M. Jeffords' star together with the announcement that Georgie [The Iceman] Woolf would ride him Saturday, and that Eddie Arcaro would not be on Hoop Jr., to try and duplicate his Derby triumph—really scrambled things. Woolf rode Pavot to his greatest victories in his unbeaten 2 year old career and turf followers figured the two horses would be close co-favorites when the betting closes. Arcaro must keep an engagement to ride Devil Diver in Saturday's Suburban at Belmont.

Pavot, with his exercise boy, Orlando Hearn, carried 120 pounds as compared with the 126 he will have in the Preakness. He jogged around the oval once, then cut loose on a soft track, estimated to be a full second or more slower than normal.

Pavot Turns on Speed.

He turned the half in 46 3/5 seconds and the mile in 1:38 2/5. His time for the mile and three-sixteenths—the Preakness distance—compared with Alsab's 1:57 for the stake in 1942, and Riverland's track record of 1:56 2/5 in 1943.

F. W. Hooper's Hoop Jr., the horse to beat, took it easy in his barn as did the other Kentucky Derby contestants, already here: Mrs. W. G. Lewis' Darby Dieppe, third in the Derby; E. R. Bradley's Burning Dream, along with Bail Bond which did not go at Louisville but is considered a Preakness starter; Christiana Stable's Alexis, which arrived today, and Charles S. Howard's Sea Swallow.

CAMILLI FIRED BY OAKLAND, IS OPEN TO OFFERS

Oakland, Cal., June 12 (AP)—Dolph Camilli, former big league first sacker, today stepped out as manager of the Oakland baseball club today and explained bluntly—"I was fired."

Vic Devincenzi, general manager of the Oaks, said Camilli, in his second season as skipper of the Pacific Coast league club, "had resigned."

Camilli said he had no baseball plans and expected to return to his ranch near Laytonville, Cal., but "would be interested if the right offer comes along."

TIGERS DEFEAT BROWNS, 2-1, TO TAKE 1ST PLACE

Detroit, Mich., June 12 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers squeezed out an 11 inning 2 to 1 decision over the St. Louis Browns in a twilight game tonight, grabbing the American league lead from the New York Yankees. It was the Browns' fourth 2 to 1 loss in their last five games.

Hal Newhouser gained the decision, his eighth of the year, over Jack Kramer in a loosely pitched game in which each club had at least one base runner in every inning thru the first seven. Newhouser yielded nine hits and Kramer 10.

REVEALS MULLEN IS SURVIVED BY WIDOW, STEPSON

James C. [Jim] Mullen, veteran Chicago boxing promoter, who died on June 5, left a widow, Mary Margaret Carolan Mullen of 421 Melrose st., and a stepson, James Mullen Jr., 9, it was disclosed last night by Capt. Patrick O'Connell of the Hudson av. police station, a neighbor of Mrs. Mullen. Ross Mullen, son of Jim by his first wife who died in April, 1943, verified the story.

Jim and Mary Margaret were married in St. John the Evangelist Roman Catholic church, 351 E. 55th st., New York City, June 25, 1943, Capt. O'Connell said. James Jr., the widow's son by a previous marriage, was adopted and took Mullen's name.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN

A large quantity of masterly southpawing by the venerable Thornton Lee and a lone run prepared by his White Sox associates tossed the Cleveland Indians into the whitewash bucket last night before 8,291 Comiskey park patrons. The 37 year old Lee, hooked in a duel with Al Smith, another left hander, sprayed his former mates with 13 strikeouts to win by 1 to 0 on a ninth inning run put together by hits from the bats of Le Roy Schalk and Bill Nagel.

Smith himself, altho not leaning on the strikeout pitch as did Lee, was no soft customer for the layout Jim Dykes had arranged for left handed opposition. The visiting southpaw yielded only three hits in eight innings, the same number Lee surrendered over nine. But what proved the start of the finishing touch was Schalk's single, his second, at the opening of the ninth. Guy Curtright bunted him to second, Johnny Dickshot was purposely passed, and Tony Cuccinello walked, but not as part of the Indians' strategy. Then Nagel singled to right center and that was all.

Lee, who now has his seventh victory spread his strikeout favors so well that only two of the Indians, Felix Mackiewicz and Don Ross, escaped. Myril Hoag and Pat Seerey divided six of the 13, incidentally a total five shy of the major league record held by Bob Feller. Frank Hayes and Smith split four of the others. Manager Lou Boudreau, Mickey Rocco, and Al Cihocki got away with one apiece. Lee also walked three and hit one and had to contend with two errors, but nevertheless only one Indian reached second base.

Tresh's Arm Balks Threat

Lee began his night's work stylishly by fanning two of the three Cleveland men who faced him in the first inning but nevertheless they saw first base. That was by courtesy of Lee, who plunked Mackiewicz in the ribs, but the ex-Purdue notable quickly was disposed of for the second out when he attempted to steal second. Then the Sox opened gayly enough in their half with a pass to Hockett but this was erased when Schalk's bunt that was intended as a sacrifice was turned into a double play. And it was quite a bit later in the evening before any Sox member was on base.

A sprint by Hockett cut off Hayes' bid for a hit at the start of the second inning, but later in the session Ross singled with two out. Rocco ended this incident with a harmless tap to Michaels. At the opening of the third Cihocki survived on a fumble by Michaels but Tresh corrected this by picking the fellow off first after Smith had fanned. This was followed by Hoag's, the second Indian hit. He expired at second, also the result of the Tresh throwing arm.

Sox Make First Hit in Fourth

Lee gave up a pass in the fourth but also fanned Hayes and Boudreau to make amends for his gift. This was followed by an outburst from the Sox—their first hit. Schalk did it by lining a single to right with one out and a moment later a passed ball provided him with transportation to second but neither Curtright nor Dickshot could assist. And in the fifth the Sox produced two hits but Cuccinello's single was wiped out by Nagel's double play grounder and the Michaels' triple that followed went to waste.

The Indians' third and last hit was Hayes' single that Nagel knocked down to open the seventh but Lee didn't cover the bag, probably figuring Nagel had plenty of time to do it himself. Boudreau sacrificed and Ross was more or less purposely passed, after which Rocco popped to Schalk and Curtright galloped in to take Cihocki's fly. Next outbreak was a pass to Michaels to start the eighth. Nothing came of this nor did a pass to Boudreau with two out in the Indians' ninth bring complications. These came a moment later for Smith.

SENATORS BEAT YANKEES, 5 TO 3; VAUGHN IS STAR

2d Baseman Hits Triple, Double, Single

New York, June 12 (AP)—Second Baseman Freddy Vaughn led the Washington Senators to a 5 to 3 decision over the New York Yankees today with a triple, double, and single off Walt Dubiel, losing pitcher.

Singles by Jake Powell and Gil Torres and Vaughn's double in the third produced two Senator runs but the Yanks came back with one in the third on singles by Dubiel and Bud Metheny and George Binks' error. A fourth inning two bagger by Tucker Stainback, followed by Herb Crompton's single, tied the score.

double to center. Pafko fanned and Nicholson flied to Elliott. Then Livingston singled to center, Cavarretta scoring. Merullo doubled over third, Livingston stopping at third. Ed Sauer batted for Erickson and flied to Barrett.

George Hennessey made his second appearance of the season when he went to the mound at the start of the home seventh. Elliott flied to Pafko but Salkeld doubled to left. Dahlgren singled to right, scoring Salkeld. Coscarart singled to center, Dahlgren stopping at second. Barnhart forced Coscarart, Hennessey to Merullo, but a double play was missed when Merullo's relay pulled Becker off first. Gerheauser banged his third straight hit, scoring Dahlgren. Hack threw out Handley.

With one out in the eighth, Gionfriddo walked and Elliott grounded to Merullo, both runners being safe when Merullo's throw was too late to force Gionfriddo. Salkeld singled to right scoring Gionfriddo and putting Elliott on third. Stewart replaced Hennessey. Dahlgren popped to Merullo and Coscarart lined to Pafko.

Zivic Wins Texan Fight by 4th Round Knockout

San Antonio, Tex., June 12 (AP)—Fritzie Zivic, 152 pounds, of Pittsburgh and Normoyle field, knocked out Baby Zavala, 147 pounds, of Mexico City in the fourth round of their scheduled 10 rounder tonight. The blow, a sharp right to the kidney, came in 2:31 of the fourth round.

Night Shadow Gets Top Load for La Salle

BY MAURICE SHEVLIN

Night Shadow, a fleet mare which races for Mrs. Robert McGarvey, yesterday was assigned 120 pounds, top weight, for Saturday's renewal of the $5,000 La Salle handicap. At a mile and three-sixteenths this race puts a premium on staying qualities.

In four starts this season Night Shadow hasn't been out of the money, winning twice at shorter distances. The mare always has been able to come from behind, however, and she may be backed into favoritism. Paul Glidewell, her regular jockey, will be in charge.

Challenge Me Should Improve

Second high weight is the Brolite farm's Challenge Me, which finished third the last time out. That was the 4 year old's first start since the Tropical Park meeting and he may be expected to improve sharply. He is used to carrying weight.

The Happy Hour farm's Devalue, weighted at 114, is something of a doubtful quantity as is the Swanee River stable's Corydon at 113. The distance, however, should favor both.

Hyman Friedberg of Louisville, who won last week's Steger with Harriet Sue, has named Bolo's Choice [112] and Leon Tikulski's Icangetit [112] is a candidate. Others are Take Wing [112], Good Bid [110], Latent [108], Colonel Read [106], and Amalka [105].

Double Returns $316

A crowd of 11,222 was on hand yesterday for the best daily double return of the meeting, $316, occasioned by the unexpected victories of Xen McNair's Snow Apple in the first race and Rosario Conino's Valdina Tumble in the second. Snow Apple, ridden by Billy Nichols, paid $30 for a $2 ticket and Valdina Tumble, with Jack Fliter up, returned $18.20.

Nichols made it two out of three in the third with Mrs. Monte Weil's Campion Hall, at 4 to 1, while Herb Litzenberger brought in one of the favorites, Mrs. Karl Mayer's Highthorne, in the fourth at $5.60.

$144,119 to Charity

Jockey Fliter came back aboard H. W. Ostle's Donna Brand to take the sixth and feature race of the afternoon, the Lawndale purse at a mile and 70 yards, scoring by five lengths over the Happy Hour farm's Sibley, ridden by Paul Glidewell.

The American Red Cross war fund and the Chicago Service Men's centers netted $144,119.77 from the Lincoln Fields Decoration day program. Charles W. Bidwill, acting for Matt J. Winn, revealed yesterday that the Red Cross' two-thirds share is $96,079.85 and the Service Men's centers' one-third is $48,039.92. The mutuel handle Decoration day was $1,586,718 and the attendance 38,875.

Matmen and Boxers Share Ring Billing

An amateur boxing show will be held tonight in the West Side Boxing club, 10 S. California av., and a professional wrestling program in Rainbo Fronton, 4836 N. Clark st.

Charles Nelson and Tilford Ward, junior welterweight and featherweight, respectively, will appear in two bouts of five rounds heading the show in the West Side arena.

Nelson, who defeated Hank Okura of the Coulon club last Wednesday, will meet Wendell White, while Ward, who upset Gene Roberts of Danville, Ill., on Friday, will oppose Ed Rawlins.

Ed [Strangler] Lewis, former heavyweight champion, will appear against Hans Buesing in a featured engagement on the Fronton card. Other bouts:

Walter Palmer vs. Joe Feroni; Pete Schu vs. Fred Von Schacht, Gordon Hessel, and Tommy King vs. Joe Dorsetti and Rudy Kay [Australian tag team match].

Johnny Coyle, making his start as promoter of weekly fights in the West Side club, has arranged seven contests altogether. Supporting matches follow:

Don Lupo vs. Dan Williams [3], and John Carroll vs. Stan Crawford [3], all 118 pounds; Gene Drugan vs. Bill Williams [3], 147; Joe Gors, Coulon club, vs. Lou Jordan [3], 160; Roy Swift, Coulon club, vs. John Sullivan [3], 175.

Five amateur boxing matches and two wrestling bouts will be included on the program sponsored by the Sports Round Table club of Chicago in Ashland auditorium tomorrow night, it was announced yesterday by Harry Hires, chairman of the arrangements committee. Other members of the committee are Judge John McSweeney of the Municipal court, Thomas J. Bowler, clerk of the Criminal court; Doug Minor, Chicago White Sox scout; Abe Saperstein, and Eddie Fallon. Proceeds will go into a reserve fund to help further athletic activities in the Chicago area and send underprivileged children to camp outings this summer.

Burkhardt of Cardinals Rejected; Fallon Passes

St. Louis, Mo., June 12 (AP)—Pitcher Ken Burkhardt of the St. Louis Cardinals was rejected for military service at Jefferson Barracks today. Infielder George Fallon passed his pre-induction physical. He will continue playing with the Cards until he gets his induction order.

Carnera Looks Like Old Self, Terrible, in Bout

GROIZIA, Italy, June 12 (AP)—Primo Carnera, 39, and at 245 pounds boxed a three round exhibition today with S/Sgt. Homer Blevins of Butte, Mont., before 1,500 American soldiers. The former world's heavyweight champion appeared no worse than when he won the title from Jack Sharkey in 1933. Blevins landed only one solid blow, which momentarily dazed Carnera.

FIELD OF 110 IS READY TO SHOOT IN STATE GOLF

BY CHARLES BARTLETT

The Chicago District Golf association, which visualizes its busiest war time season in 1945, was fretting a little 10 days ago because it didn't have enough entries for the 15th annual Illinois state tournament which it will open with a 36 hole qualifying round tomorrow at the St. Charles Country club. It appeared that the fine record set in last year's tourney in Peoria was not even going to be approached.

A local newspaper, the one you're reading now, happened to mention the date, site, and pattern of the event. As a result a flood of entries rolled in at the C. D. G. A. headquarters and tomorrow morning's medal play test will enlist 110 entrants who have registered starting times. With addition of tee entries the tourney appears certain to set a record for the 15 year old battle.

Five Champions in Field

This prospect refers not only to quantity but also to quality. Harold Foreman Jr. of Lake Shore, the big boy who won last year's title, will find himself confronted by a field which includes four former champions in George Dawson of Glen Oak, Jim Frisina of Taylorville and Springfield, Gus Moreland of Peoria, and Don Armstrong of Aurora.

Others who will be on hand to dispute with Foreman are John Lehman of Edgewater, Pick Wagner of North Shore, Henry Heinly of Hinsdale, Frank Kovack of Waukegan, Bert and Bob Abrahams of La Grange, Charles Verkler of Peoria, Harold Mathisen of Chicago, and Earl Gocke of Calumet.

Pairings and Starting Times

The pairings and starting times for those already entered, as announced yesterday by Harrie Hoyt of St. Charles, tournament chairman, include:

7:30—Raymond Bones, Chicago; Geng Mojeska, St. Charles; Howard Bell, St. Charles.
7:35—Dave Schwanz, Aurora; John T. Clark, West Chicago; Leighton Cridley, Aurora.
7:40—R. M. Swanson, Elgin; W. G. Stutman, St. Charles; George Willigeroth, Elgin.
7:50—John Gostete, Elgin; Mitchell Grodski, Cicero; Dr. J. V. Wolfe, St. Charles.
7:55—Howard Whiteway, Glen Ellyn; Jack Atten, Edgewater; Jimmy Love, Peoria.
8:00—George Lundberg, Peoria; Ted Wilde, Brookwood; Dave Olin, Ravisloe.
8:05—Harold Foreman, Lake Shore; Jack Purdum, Dallas City; John [Pick] Wagner, North Shore.
8:10—Willis Tewsbury, La Grange; Ed Somerville, Elmhurst; Fred Schultz, Hinsdale.
8:20—Henry Heinly, Hinsdale; Arnold Minkley, Chicago; Ken Detweiler, Dixon.
8:25—Connie Creed, Hinsdale; Dave Fargo, Edgewater; Dewey Fagerburg Jr., Hinsdale.
8:30—Al Anderson, Peoria; Charles Verkler, Peoria; Matt Galloway, Alton.
8:35—Charles Eckstein, Ravisloe; Frank Ogrin, North Chicago; Wayne Miller, Peoria.
8:40—Frank Ireland, Peoria; John Pashall, Brookwood; Jim Helminger, Waukegan.
8:50—Frank Kovack, Waukegan; Joe Sisolak, Waukegan; Palmer Maxwell, Chicago.
8:55—Jim Marek, La Grange; Bob Abrahams, La Grange; John Lenzini, Highland Park.
9:00—Bert Abrahams, La Grange; Norando Nannimi, Highwood; Dick Trevett, Chicago.
9:05—James Frisina, Taylorville; Robert Grimm, Glen Oak; George Dawson, Glen Oak.
9:10—John Lehman, Edgewater; Gus Moreland, Peoria; Harold Mathisen, Chicago.
9:20—Charles McGuire, Oak Park; L. D. Hunt, De Kalb; Earl Gocke, Calumet.
9:25—Lt. Dene Zahn Jr., Chicago; Lt. J. J. Stanford, Chicago; Edmund C. Johnson Jr., Chicago.
9:30—Charles Lindgren, Rockford; James Holmin, Rockford; Dr. Paul Barton, Rock Island.
9:35—Merle Bogett, Chicago; Finley Brown, Chicago; Bob Regan, Rock Island.

N. U. TO AWARD SPORTS MEDAL TO MAX MORRIS

Max Morris, Northwestern university's outstanding sophomore athlete, will be presented a gold medal by the N Men's club today in recognition of his athletic achievements during the year. The medal, which is the first of similar awards to be given annually by the letterman's organization, will be presented by Dallas Marvil, club president, in Patten gymnasium at 11 o'clock.

Morris, whose home is in West Frankfort, Ill., is a naval V-12 trainee. He made his collegiate athletic debut last fall as an end on the Wildcat football team and at the close of the season was voted the team's most valuable player in the contest for the Chicago Tribune silver football award. He was a member of the Wildcat basketball team last winter and this spring won his third letter of the year as a shot putter and high jumper on the track team.

Manufacturers to Hold Annual Field Day Today

THE QUESTION

What has been your most memorable experience in a roller skating rink?

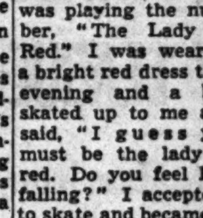

WHERE ASKED

Riverview Roller Rink, 2500 Belmont av.

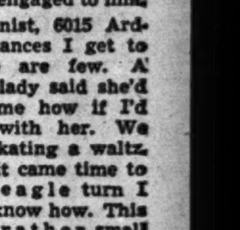

THE ANSWERS

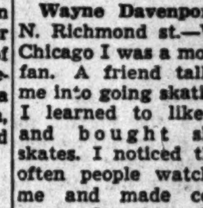

Gen Keilhack, stock clerk, 1025 N. Sacramento av.—The organist was playing the number, "The Lady in Red." I was wearing a bright red dress that evening and a boy skated up to me and said, "I guess you must be the lady in red. Do you feel like falling?" I accepted his invitation to skate and became engaged to him.

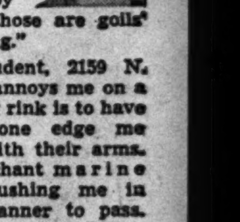

Russ Young, organist, 6015 Ardmore av.—The chances I get to skate are few. A young lady said she'd teach me how if I'd skate with her. We were skating a waltz. When it came time to do an eagle turn I didn't know how. This girl, a rather small person, picked me up off the floor, turned me around, and put me down.

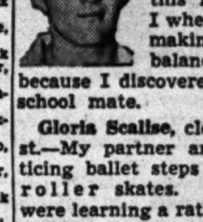

Wayne Davenport, student, 3135 N. Richmond st.—When I came to Chicago I was a movie fan. A friend talked me into going skating. I learned to like it and bought shoe skates. I noticed that often people watched me and made comments. One day a boy said, "Hey Mabel, those are goils' skates you're wearing."

Gene Tepper, student, 2159 N. Western av.—What annoys me on a skating rink is to have some one edge me over with their arms. A merchant marine was pushing me in this manner to pass. I wheeled around fast, making him lose his balance. I was sorry, because I discovered he was an old school mate.

Gloria Scalise, clerk, 5523 Monroe st.—My partner and I were practicing ballet steps on roller skates. We were learning a rather difficult step. His skate got caught in the hem of my long skirt. Things started happening and the next thing I knew I was standing on the floor in an abbreviated bit of material.

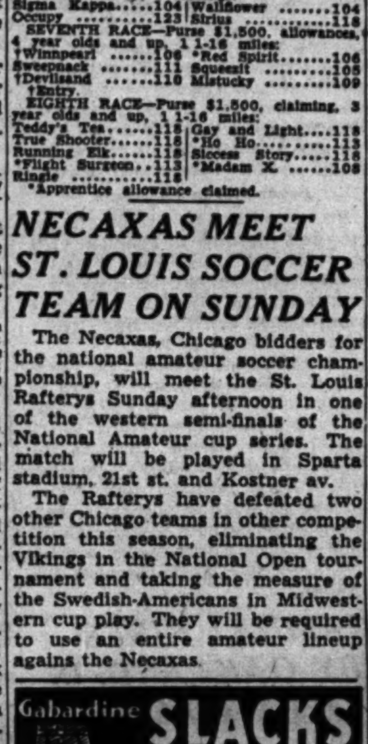

Helen Dorsey, secretary, 2342 Grenshaw st.—I came dressed as Gravel Gertie for a costume skating party last Halloween. I used airplane glue to get gravel to stick to my face. It started falling off to the floor so I decided to take it off. The glue wouldn't wash off and I had to pull the gravel off piece by piece.

TRUCKER UNIONS HEAR WLB PLANS TO REFUSE PLEA

Vote Friday on Striking Against Private Lines

BY GEORGE HARTMANN

Chicago area truck owners and union leaders reported yesterday that they had learned the national war labor board has decided to turn down the wage and other contract demands of 15,000 Chicago truck drivers. At Washington, D. C., the board admitted that a decision had been reached, but refused to make it public.

The independent Chicago Truck Drivers' union and local 705 of the AFL Tteamsters' union were seeking a guaranteed 48 hour work week and a flat $5 weekly wage increase.

The report of a decision came as the national labor relations board prepared to hold a strike election Friday at 111 W. Jackson blvd. among members of the two unions employed by nearly 1,800 Chicago area private carriers.

Vote for Strike Forecast

Apprised of the reported action by the WLB, Edward Fenner, executive director of the independent union, said it would be impossible to stop the union members from striking again if their demands were denied. The union ended a week long strike May 23.

Fenner said WLB and army officials promised that the union's demands would be met by the WLB if the strike was terminated.

Both unions requested the strike vote under the terms of the Smith-Connally anti-strike law early in April. This was after the WLB granted only a part of the unions' demands.

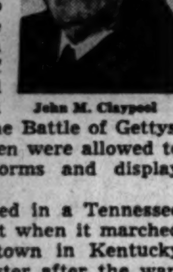

Confusion resulted when some employers under control of the office of defense transportation since the strike were notified by the NLRB that their employes would be eligible to take part in Friday's strike vote.

ODT Here Awaits Ruling

Other employers who understood that they also were under government control because their operations were affected by the strike likewise were confused when given notice that their employes would be eligible. Under the Smith-Connally law strikes may not be called in plants under government control, nor are the employes allowed to take part in strike votes.

J. M. CLAYPOOL, CONFEDERATE VETERAN, DIES

St. Louis, Mo., June 12 (AP)—Gen. John Milton Claypool, 98, twice national commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, died yesterday of pneumonia.

John M. Claypool

During his tenure as national commander Claypool declined to lead Confederate veterans at a joint reunion of the blues and grays on the 75th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg until his men were allowed to wear their uniforms and display their flags.

Claypool enlisted in a Tennessee infantry regiment when it marched thru his home town in Kentucky in 1862. A minister after the war, he was the last confederate veteran in the St. Louis area.

3D OF $340,000 ESTATE WILLED TO H. V. O'BRIEN

Miss Anna M. McGrath, 225 Sheridan rd., Winnetka, who died June 7 at the age of 84, left an estate estimated at $340,000, according to a petition filed yesterday in Probate court to admit her will to probate. One-third of the estate was left to her nephew, Howard Vincent O'Brien, newspaper columnist. The other legatees are O'Brien's brother, William V. Jr., 580 Jackson st., Glencoe, and his father, William V. Sr., of 1400 Hinman av., Evanston. Miss McGrath was a daughter of John J. McGrath, wall paper manufacturer.

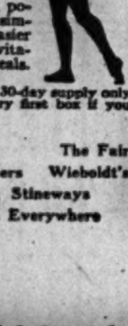

Houdini's Brother Dies with Escape Secrets

New York, June 12 (AP)—Theo. Hardeen, 69, brother of the late Houdini and sole heir to the great illusionist's secret methods of escaping from locked trunks, sealed tanks, and underwater chambers, died today without revealing any of the famous tricks. When Houdini died in 1926, he bequeathed his tricks to his brother with the provision that Hardeen should not disclose them. The brothers were sons of the late Rabbi M. S. Weiss of Appleton, Wis.

EX-AID ACCUSED OF GIVING BRIBES TO WPB OFFICIAL

Payments for Textile Priorities Charged

Harvey W. Burgess, 45, of the Evanshire hotel, 860 Hinman av., Evanston, former $3,264 a year materials redistribution analyst for the Chicago office of the war production board, was named yesterday in a warrant issued by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker, charging bribery of a federal employe.

Burgess was accused of bribing Edwin T. Camp, former head of the screening section of the priorities division of the Chicago WPB office, to issue priorities on scarce rayons and gabardines. Burgess was said to have obtained the priorities for tailoring firms which paid him fees.

Surrender Expected Today

United States Atty. Woll said Burgess' attorney, George F. Callaghan, had agreed to surrender him at 10 a. m. today. Callaghan said he could make no statement in behalf of his client since he was not familiar with the facts.

Woll said immediate grand jury action will be sought. Altho no charge has been placed against Camp, who is aiding the government in its investigation, it is expected that an indictment will be sought against him as well.

Asst. United States Atty. George G. Kelly said Burgess persuaded Camp to issue an undisclosed number of priorities for which Camp was to receive $250 each. He said Camp actually received only $500, altho Burgess sold one priority for $5,500.

Manufacturer Suspicious

The alleged irregularity was discovered when a manufacturer to whom one of the tailoring firms involved presented one of the priorities became suspicious and sent the priority to Washington for verification.

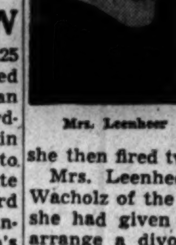

Burgess, a former field engineer for the Wausau Motor Parts company of Wausau, Wis., was a civilian inspector for the navy, under civil service, before he joined the WPB Oct. 20, 1943, also as a civil service employe.

John Nuveen Jr., regional WPB chairman, said Burgess was permitted to resign Oct. 30, 1944, after complaints were made against him.

Camp, who is married and lives at 1724 Wesley av., Evanston, has been with the WPB since Sept. 12, 1942. He was suspended two weeks ago after the bribery was discovered.

HUSBAND SHOT BY MOTHER OF FOUR CHILDREN

George Leenheer, 26, timekeeper in a war plant, was shot in the right hip by his wife, Frances, also 26, in their home at 6945 S. May st. last night. Both gave conflicting versions of the shooting.

Mrs. Leenheer

Leenheer told police that he lay down on the sofa for a rest and that without warning his wife shot him. He said she then fired two shots that missed.

Mrs. Leenheer told Sgt. Arthur Wacholz of the homicide detail that she had given her husband $50 to arrange a divorce, but that he returned home drunk and tried to strangle her. The Leenheers have been divorced and remarried. They have four children.

DELAY INQUEST INTO MYSTERY DEATH OF GIRL

Inquest into the death of Joy Marschchke, 9, of 3251 E. 91st st., who died Sunday in the South Chicago hospital of a mysterious illness, was continued to June 21 yesterday, pending a chemical analysis of the vital organs. Testimony at the inquest indicated that the strange illness, which also struck others in the family, may have been due to lead poisoning from the plumbing or to poisoning from sewer seepage in the basement apartment.

Joy and her sister, Jean, 16, were stricken Thursday and went to the hospital Saturday night. Joy died Sunday morning. Jean is said to be recovering in the hospital. Two of 11 other children, William, 12, and Frank, 14, who were less severely ill, attended the inquest yesterday.

Dr. George Gates of the board of health testified that the case is being investigated.

BEATING VICTIM TAKES STAND TO ACCUSE COMISE

Tells of Death Threat by Ex-Bailiff

William Fortier, 17, of 4428 Wallace st., testified yesterday that he was slugged with a blackjack, kicked, punched, and threatened with death by John Comise, former president of the Cafe Owners' association, who is on trial before Judge Cornelius J. Harrington and a jury in Criminal court on charges of assault to kill.

"He beat me until his knuckles were bleeding, then he used the blackjack again," Fortier testified under questioning of Assistant State's Atty. Richard Austin.

Accused of Beating Pair

Comise is accused of beating Fortier and Roy Kruchten, 17, of 4746 S. Wells st., in an attempt to learn the whereabouts of his son, John Comise Jr., 17, who had run away from home.

Fortier testified that Joseph De Grazia, a Municipal court deputy bailiff, was present during the assault and had struck Kruchten. Comise formerly was personal bailiff to Municipal Judge Francis Borrelli.

The attack started, Fortier said, in a gasoline station where he is employed. He said that while De Grazia hit Kruchten, Comise struck him [Fortier] on the head five or six times with a blackjack.

Tell of Trying to Flee

"When I tried to get away from him to go home," Fortier said, "Comise pulled a gun out of his pocket and yelled, 'Stop, you —— or I'll blow your brains out.'"

Fortier said the beating and theats continued near a railroad viaduct where the four were taken in Kruchten's car and later in Comise's home. De Grazia finally hid the gun, Fortier said, after Comise again threatened to shoot him.

Son Returns Home

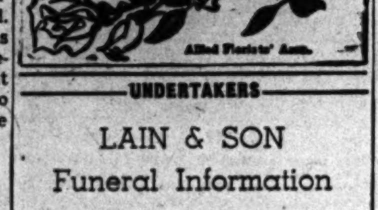

Later, the witness said, Comise summoned a "Sgt. Trinka" from the Stockyards station who was present when Comise struck him again. While they were in Comise's home, Fortier said, Comise Jr. returned there.

A previous witness, Dr. Louis P. Bell, 2956 W. 63rd st., testified that Fortier's face was swollen, there were cuts in his mouth, and he was in a "stuporous" condition when examined after the attack. He ordered the boy taken to the county hospital.

F. M'CORMICK COUNSEL FLAYS ADOPTION PLAN

Middletown, Conn., June 12 (AP)—Hugh H. Alcorn, counsel for Fowler McCormick of Chicago, today criticised the action of Probate Judge Leonard O. Ryan in approving the adoption agreement by which WAC Sgt. Muriel McCormick Hubbard transferred her two adopted children to Dr. Frances M. Clarke, New London educator.

"Instead of acting for the welfare of the children as Judge Ryan said, he deliberately sold them down the river," Alcorn asserted as he summed up for Superior Court Judge William J. Shea the argument in McCormick's appeal from Judge Ryan's probate court decision.

McCormick, millionaire industrialist and brother of Mrs. Hubbard, seeks to void the Probate court approved agreement giving Dr. Clarke custody of Edith Rockefeller McCormick Hubbard, 12, and Elisha Dyer Hubbard, Jr., 8. McCormick and Mrs. Hubbard were grandchildren of the late John D. Rockefeller Sr.

Judge Shea reserved decision, giving attorneys for both sides until July 5 to file briefs.

SPECIALIZED EXPERIENCE

In the proper administration of investment funds for maximum productivity coupled with safety, the guidance of professional investment counsel is a necessity.

No matter how astute, the individual investor finds it physically impossible to amass the experience, assimilate the special knowledge, conduct the research, render the vigilant supervision which all are bases of sound investment management.

Worthy investment counsel turns the specialized experience, the research, the skill and knowledge of trained minds to the service of the client. This co-ordinated service is worth many times its nominal cost.

We invite discussion with conservative investors whose funds exceed $50,000. An inquiry entails no obligation.

WLB CONSIDERS NEW RULE FOR WAGE CONTROL

Little Steel Formula Would Be Dropped

Discarding of the "little steel" formula for wage stabilization in favor of a new system largely based on straight time hourly earnings is being considered by the national war labor board, George W. Taylor, chairman, said in Chicago yesterday.

A revised wage formula is becoming increasingly necessary because of slower promotions, fewer merit raises, reduction of overtime pay, and other changes in the labor market brought on by the end of the war in Europe, Taylor said.

Meets Regional Board

Taylor told a news conference that the suggested revised wage formula is one of four aspects of reconversion now being studied in Washington, D. C. He has been discussing these proposals with regional boards thruout the country and met with the 6th regional board in Chicago yesterday.

Another question, Taylor said, is whether brackets governing the relationship of plant wages by local area rates should be changed to those of an industry basis. He said manufacturers worried by competition for workers from other industries in their own area will pay more attention to wage rates in their own industry in other areas when reconversion is begun. Aircraft, shipbuilding, telephone, and meat packing industries already are on industry-wide wage scales.

The third question is raising substandard wages. The fourth is when to allow voluntary wage increases without WLB approval if no price increase in the product is involved. Taylor predicted that time is not far off. At present only employers whose workers receive substandard wages or those who employ eight or fewer persons may grant such increases.

Truck Decision to Aid

The decision expected soon on the trucking industry wage dispute from the WLB's trucking commission will go far to settle outstanding labor relations problems in the industry, Taylor said. He added that he could not comment on the details of the expected decision, but was hopeful of its effect.

He predicted a period of price inflation during reconversion, with downward pressure on wages. Ultimately the country will have to have a combined wage-price policy rather than separate wage and price policies, he said.

He also predicted that the basic necessities—food, clothing, shelter, and transportation—will be harder to obtain as time goes by, because reconversion will bring principally durable consumer goods. It is probable that the consumer will be able to obtain an ice box before he can get the beefsteak to put into it, Taylor said.

Three Readjustments

Wage earners will face three types of readjustments during reconversion, Taylor said. Some plants will get cutbacks and will be unable to reconvert to civilian production. The workers in such plants will have to seek jobs in other industries, perhaps at lower wages. Other wage earners will receive temporary layoffs during the reconversion period, and it is a question as to what wage they will return to. Still others who remain on the same wage schedule will in reality receive less money because of shorter hours and fewer promotions and merit increases.

HOUSE REDUCES PROPOSED PEAK TRUCK LENGTH

Springfield, Ill., June 12 (AP)—The house today adopted amendments to the Hunter bill relaxing truck weight and length limits, but turned down a move to make the measure effective only for two years after July 1.

The bill which Rep. David Hunter [R., Rockford] said is backed by truck operators and the state highway division was changed to lower the proposed maximum length from 50 to 45 feet. Present limits range from 40 to 45 feet.

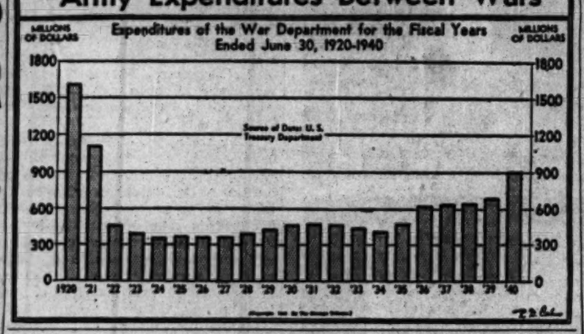

Another amendment adopted limits proposed 18,000 pound axle weights to city streets and state highways, leaving the present 16,000 pound maximum effective only on rural secondary roads.

Army Expenditures Between Wars

Fixed Pricing Rule Urged to Speed Output

A definite formula should be established for pricing of civilian items to help the producer shorten his reconversion period, the National Small Business Men's association contended yesterday. The pricing problem was one of several discussed by the board of trustees at its annual meeting in the Palmer House. De Witt M. Emery, president of the association, presided.

"One of the most important things after the war is to do everything possible to prevent mass unemployment; to reconvert as fast as possible," said Emery. "This factor should be taken into consideration in the debate in congress over extension of price control."

Urges October, 1940, Base

The group urged that a base pricing period as of October, 1940, be established. It suggested that increases in productions costs since then be added to give the individual manufacturer his maximum selling price. Each then could figure his own price and start producing as quickly as possible. Prices would be filed with the office of price administration, which could require the manufacturer to justify them.

"This would speed up reconversion and millions upon millions of man hours would be provided that otherwise would be lost," Emery said.

Asks Fairer Labor Law

"The association is unalterably opposed to any legislation which has for its purpose the regimentation of the conscience of the individual," he asserted. "We believe the freedom of conscience is a natural inherent right of all men. The inflaming of prejudices would be a big mistake."

The association urged revision of the Wagner labor relations act to "make it fair to labor, the employer, and the public."

RAILS TOLD THEY WILL LOSE MORE MEN THRU DRAFT

Altho the western railroads face a 27 per cent traffic increase as a result of the Japanese war, they were told yesterday that they will have to give up more men to the draft. Representatives of the roads met with army, office of defense transportation, and draft officials in the ODT offices at 209 S. Wells st.

Col. John M. Baker, director of operations for selective service, said that in the next few months approximately 10,000 skilled transportation workers of the 47,000 deferred by ODT certification will have to go into military service. More will be from eastern lines, it was said.

Robert L. Glenn, acting director of the ODT division of transport personnel, advised the western roads to back up the recent request of Col. J. Monroe Johnson, ODT director, that the army release 50,000 rail workers now that the European war is ended. C. E. Johnston, chairman of the Western Association of Railway Executives, said it is increasingly difficult for the western roads to get workers.

WHEAT FUTURE PRICES CLOSE ABOUT STEADY

Prices of wheat futures closed unchanged to ⅛ cent a bushel lower yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade. Trading was unexpectedly quiet despite preopening opinion that the grain would decline substantially on Monday's department of agriculture crop report predicting a record 1945 wheat crop.

Corn closed ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, oats ⅝ to ¾ lower, rye ⅝ to 1⅛ higher, and barley unchanged to ⅜ lower.

Oats declined on selling prompted by the government estimate of a crop larger than in 1944. The rye estimate lent strength to that grain, particularly July. The ceiling price again was bid for July corn, but no offers were made. Trading in corn was light.

People and Events

Charles S. Garland, vice president of the Investment Bankers association, has been nominated for the presidency of that organization, John Clifford Folger, president, announced yesterday. Garland is a partner in the Baltimore investment banking firm of Alex. Brown & Sons. Among nominees for vice president is Julien H. Collins of Julien Collins & Co., Chicago. Nominations are considered equivalent to election, which will take place at the annual meeting Nov. 26 to 28 in the Edgewater beach hotel.

Charles S. Garland

A series of meetings is scheduled in Chicago area factories during the next month to make management and workers better acquainted and explain "what makes the American way of living work." The plans for the sessions were outlined at a meeting of industrial leaders in the Hotel Sherman under the sponsorship of the National Association of Manufacturers and the Illinois Manufacturers association. The principal speaker will be Dr. John L. Davis, nationally known minister.

Directors of the Chicago Board of Trade accepted the resignation of J. S. Brown, manager of the board's transportation department. It will be effective Jan. 1, but Brown was granted a leave of absence beginning Sept. 1. Brown, who has been with the Board of Trade for 31 years, will be succeeded by I. M. Herndon, assistant manager of the department.

Employes of Schulze & Burch Biscuit company today at the plant will help Paul Schulze Sr., chairman, observe his 81st birthday. Schulze, who came to this country from Germany when 18, entered the baking business for himself in 1893 to supply bread to Chicago World's Fair visitors.

A total of 882 Railway Express agency drivers received emblem and merit cards from the company in recognition of safe driving. Of the awards 209 were for ten years or more without an accident. They were presented by Capt. David Flynn, chief of the Chicago police department's traffic bureau.

Surplus Board Policies Up for Senate Review

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., June 12—A full dress review of the plans and policies of the surplus property board was decided upon by the senate military committee today after it learned that almost 1 billion dollars' worth of surplus goods was undisposed of at the end of March.

The board was required in the surplus property act to make quarterly reports to congress, but its first complete report—one typewritten copy—for the quarter ended March 31 reached the senate committee today. The end of the second quarter is less than three weeks away.

Will Also Study Nomination

The report showed that surplus goods with a procurement value of 265 millions had been disposed of by federal agencies in the 10 months ended March 31.

Sen. O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.], chairman of the committee's war contracts subcommittee, which will open its review Thursday, said members of the board, its administrator, and its general counsel will be heard.

The nomination of W. Stuart Symington, St. Louis, Mo., as chairman of the surplus board has been referred to O'Mahoney's subcommittee, and hearings on the nomination will be held in conjunction with the general inquiry. Symington was named by President Truman to succeed Guy Gillette, former senator from Iowa, who has resigned.

Plant Investment Immense

O'Mahoney said his committee was particularly concerned with the disposal of industrial plants owned by the federal government. He said 46 government plants representing an investment of 102 millions have been declared surplus, and 31 valued at 444 millions are excess—not in operation but not yet declared surplus.

He said the government's investment in industrial property totals 16 billion dollars "or roughly one-fifth of the nation's industrial capacity." It owns 98 per cent of the nation's synthetic rubber capacity, 90 per cent of aircraft capacity, 90 per cent of magnesium capacity, and 55 per cent of aluminum capacity.

CATTLE PRICES AGAIN CLIMB AS RECEIPTS FALL

Packers at the Chicago stock yards struggled again yesterday to protect their subsidy payments on cattle and avoid complications with the office of price administration by exceeding the maximum price ranges on which subsidy payments are based. Farmers, determined to lift prices to the ceiling, reduced shipments to 7,000 cattle.

Eastern order buyers paid $17.95 a hundred pounds for a shipment of 1,461 pound steers, the day's peak and only 5 cents below the ceiling.

N. A. S. D. CAN'T ENFORCE PRICE CONTRACT: SEC

Disciplinary Power Held Limited

Philadelphia, Pa., June 12 (AP)—The securities and exchange commission ruled 2 to 1 today that the National Association of Securities Dealers cannot discipline members for failure to comply with price maintenance contracts in the underwriting and distribution of securities.

Altho it did not decide whether price maintenance contracts violate the Sherman anti-trust act, leaving the question to court determination, Chairman Ganson Purcell and Sumner T. Pike said anti-trust laws were not violated in the six cases reviewed. Robert E. Healy dissented and said the SEC should decide the trust issue.

Fines Are Set Aside

As a result of the ruling, fines levied by the N. A. S. D. against six members who participated in the sale of 38 million dollars of Public Service Company of Indiana bonds in 1939 and 1940 will be set aside. Names of the members fined in six "typical" cases chosen for review were treated as confidential, the SEC said.

"Our conclusions apply equally to all disciplinary proceedings commenced against syndicate members in the P. S. I. underwriting," the opinion said, referring to 64 other N. A. S. D. members who were fined from $50 to $500 for off-price selling.

Sixty-seven underwriters headed by Halsey, Stuart & Co., Chicago and several hundred dealers agreed to sell the Indiana bonds at 102 per cent with 2 per cent to be paid to underwriters and 1 per cent to dealers. Numerous sales were made at amounts less than those agreed upon.

Powers of N. A. S. D. Limited

The SEC said that provisions of the securities exchange act's Maloney amendment, under which the N. A. S. D. was created, limited the scope of its rules so that they could not be used as a means of requiring members to adhere to price maintenance agreements.

The 70 N. A. S. D. members were fined for violations of a rule governing "just and equitable principles of trade."

With respect to a possible violation of anti-trust laws—which led to intervention in the case by the department of justice—the opinion said the process of combining to purchase and sell securities at agreed prices arose in large part from "conditions and needs peculiar to the business of raising capital" and that disclosure of prices, commissions and discounts is required in registration statements under the securities exchange act.

Manufacturers Ask 10 Pct. Individual Income Tax Cut

Los Angeles, Cal., June 12 (AP)—The National Association of Manufacturers today called for a 10 per cent over-all reduction in 1946 individual income tax rates.

A "war-to-peace" tax program, which it was estimated would save taxpayers 3 billion dollars annually, was announced by the N. A. M. thru Harry E. Humphreys Jr., chairman of the association's committee on taxation and chairman of the United States Rubber company's finance committee.

Fix Profits Tax Repeal Date

Other N.A.M. tax proposals:

Continue the excess profits tax until the end of the year when the Japanese war ends, but set this repeal date now.

Reduce the combined normal-surtax rate of 40 per cent on corporations to 32 per cent on 1946 income to encourage business expansion and civilian employment.

Raise the excess profits tax specific exemption from $10,000 to $25,000, effective Jan. 1, 1945, to help small business.

Prompt Refunds Demanded

Make available promptly post-war credits and refunds due taxpayers so that these may aid in speeding reconversion and creating peacetime jobs.

Repeal the so-called "nuisance" taxes on corporations, which bring in less than 0.5 per cent of federal taxes. In this group are the capital stock tax, the declared value excess profits tax, the penalty tax on consolidated returns, and the tax on 15 per cent of dividends received by corporations.

Rail, Utility, and Aircraft Stocks Higher

New York, June 12 (AP)—Buying of assorted aircrafts, rails, and utilities supported today's stock market altho many leaders continued weak. Special situations and a mild revival of peace-time optimism inspired much of the bidding. Business transition skeptics remained plentiful and were inclined to reduce commitments. Talk of federal action to curb speculation persisted as a handicap.

Prices improved after the opening and gains of fractions to 3 points or more were well distributed at the close. Transfers were 1,320,000 shares, compared with 1,490,000 Monday.

Aviations were aided by additional splitup talk for Grumman and the belief substantial fighting plane demand would keep manufacturers busy for some time.

RAIL BONDS ADVANCE

New York, June 12 (AP)—Rail bonds advanced today and other departments remained close to steady. Sales of $10,140,000, compared with $8,370,000 yesterday, were largest in nearly two weeks.

Announcement that holders of the funded debt of the Baltimore and Ohio had approved a proposal to adjust the company's capital structure caused vigorous demand for the road's obligations which advanced ⅛ to 2½.

CHICAGO STOCKS WEAK

Prices declined yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange in turnover of 43,000 shares. Active issues included Binks Manufacturing, Commonwealth Edison, and Wisconsin Bankshares, all up ⅛; Chicago corporation, down ⅛, and Libby, McNeill & Libby, unchanged.

GEN. SMITH RETURNS TO AMER. AIRLINES; DAMON IS PRESIDENT

Directors of American Airlines yesterday elected Maj. Gen. C. R. Smith, retired, to the newly created position of chairman, the company announced. R. S. Damon was elected president to succeed A. N. Kemp, who remains a director.

Smith, who was president of American Airlines from 1934 to 1942, resigned in April, 1942, to enter military service. During his three years in the army he was chief of staff and then deputy commander of the air transport command.

R. S. Damon

C. R. Smith

Damon, with American Airlines from 1935 to 1941, left in 1941 to become president of Republic Aviation corporation. He returned to American Airlines in 1943 and since has been vice president and general manager. Kemp will make his headquarters in California, where he is chairman of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company and a director of Standard Oil Company of California.

Park Board Authorizes Tax Warrant Payments

The Chicago park board yesterday authorized the retirement of $450,000 of tax anticipation warrants, the last of 5 million dollars' worth issued in 1944.

ARMY CANCELS STUDEBAKER'S TRUCK ORDERS

Contracts Totaled About 100 Million

The army yesterday announced cancellation of truck contracts totaling approximately 100 million dollars with the Studebaker corporation, effective July 31. Under the schedules the company was to have built approximately 44,000 trucks, including two types of six wheeled 2½ ton trucks, with parts, between Aug. 1, 1945, and July 1, 1946.

Army officials estimated that the cancellation would result in the release of approximately 5,000 workers at the company's South Bend plant between now and Aug. 1. The pay roll is approximately 10,000 and at its peak was about 16,000.

Will Resume Auto Output

The company expects to resume production of automobiles in October. Starting some time after the low point in employment this summer it plans to start taking on workers to build passenger cars. Before the war the company employed about 8,000.

Production will be continued on the Studebaker "Water Weasels" [M29C] which have made a noteworthy war record. These vehicles are able to travel on water, thru swamps, on snow, and on land. They are of light construction and travel on broad tractor tracks.

Studebaker started delivering military trucks in July, 1941, for the United States army and has delivered large quantities to the allies.

Col. John Slezak, chief of the Chicago ordnance district, said the truck cancellation was a necessary step in the adjustment of the war production program following the defeat of Germany.

Slezak Praises Record

"Studebaker trucks have achieved an outstanding record of performance on all battlefields," Col. Slezak said, "and have been of special value to our ally, the Russians. The army is grateful to the men and women at Studebaker who have produced nearly 200,000 of the 2½ ton trucks."

Workers released by Studebaker will be recruited by the United States employment service for other important war jobs in and outside of the South Bend area, David A. Nye, WMC area director, said. Man power controls will be eased to permit acceptance by such workers in unclassified activities if unemployment becomes a factor.

YOU'LL find abundant supplies of lumber, the center of the world's greatest cotton growing area, easy access to a wide variety of minerals, low cost TVA power, and a diversified agricultural area.

All this and a strategic location affording shipping via the Mighty Mississippi, 12 federal highways, 10 trunk railroads and 4 airlines—a logical distribution point.

Here labor and capital work in harmony. There's plenty of easily trained labor, excellent and adaptable. Business and government are pledged to a program of continued industrial expansion—so your business, your plant will benefit.

No sales tax, no manufacturing taxes. Choose the heart of the Mid-South industrial empire—the location where more than 600 manufacturing plants are prospering. Such national firms as DuPont, Ford, General Motors, Firestone, Quaker Oats, know that Memphis and Shelby County is a "natural" for establishment of branch plants.

Yes, it's a good idea to investigate further the advantages of Memphis and Shelby County—where steadily declining tax rate plus good government truly make it a place of good abode for your business.

Write today to Mayor Walter Chandler or E. W. Hale, Chairman, Shelby County Commissioners, Memphis, Tennessee. Your inquiry will be held confidential.

Your business will prosper in Memphis and Shelby County—and so will you.

DENY WARD PLEA FOR STATUS QUO, U. S. ASKS COURT

Plan to Carry Out WLB Orders Defended

The army's right to enforce a war labor board decision in its operation of seized Montgomery Ward & Co. plants was defended in an answer filed yesterday in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals by United States Atty. Woll.

The answer was to a motion Ward's attorneys filed Saturday. This motion in effect asked the court to order the present status of the case continued until an appeal to the United States Supreme court is decided. The Ward attorneys specifically objected to the army carrying out the WLB's decision on a CIO union's dispute with Ward's. The WLB granted the union a wage increase involving $1,342,000 in back pay, a union dues check-off system, and maintenance of union membership.

U. S. Proposes Alternative

The government answer, prepared by Solicitor Gen. Charles Fahy; his assistant, Hugh B. Cox, and Paul Freund, special assistant to the attorney general, requested the court to do one of two things:

1. Deny the motion to withhold the effect of its two to one opinion finding that Ward's is subject to the war labor disputes act.

2. Grant the motion to withhold, without forbidding the army to apply the WLB decision.

The Ward motion was made after the Court of Appeals reversed the judgment of District Judge Sullivan holding the government seizure illegal.

Federal attorneys in their answer contended that neither the judgment of the District court, which declared the seizure unlawful, nor the stay granted by Judge Sullivan, restrained the government from applying WLB directive orders. Woll indicated that unless specifically restrained by the Court of Appeals, steps would be taken to put the disputed directives into effect.

U. S. Contention on Funds

The Ward motion charged the company would have to pay the back wages out of net operating income, that the check-off of union dues would result in a bookkeeping cost of $12,000 a year, and that institution of maintenance of union membership would result in discharge of many efficient nonunion employes.

The government contention was that the funds used to operate the Ward plants and facilities are the government's and that "any money used to pay the retroactive wage increases will be money which the secretary of war has received by virtue of his operation of the premises."

It also was argued that money checked off wages for union dues is money the United States owes its employes and that the $12,000 administration expense is "borne by the United States and does not come out of funds now owned by Montgomery Ward & Co."

SOCONY-VACUUM OIL

What is the extent of Socony-Vacuum Oil company's foreign investments? I am interested in a comparison of its war time and pre-war earnings.—W. M.

The company has large investments abroad. After applying a contingency reserve of about 70 million dollars, however, its 1944 report said that net assets in foreign countries, amounting to 42 million, were equal to only $1.35 a share compared with a book value of $22.49 a share.

The largest foreign investment is the company's half interest in Standard-Vacuum Oil company, carried at $62,407,609 before applying any part of the reserve.

This affiliate was forced out of its producing, refining, and marketing activities in the East Indies by the Japanese invasion, with much property loss there, but has continued its marketing operations in India, Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa. Socony-Vacuum's equity in its earnings last year was estimated at 5 million dollars, but no dividend has been received on this investment since 1941. Standard-Vacuum's earnings are excluded from the consolidated statement.

Socony-Vacuum has properties also in the near east, Europe, and South America.

Beginning with 1940, the share earnings have averaged $1.34 annually, compared with $1.26 in the five years ended with 1939. Without special tax credits, the 1944 profit of $2 a share would have been substantially lower. Dividends last year, including 25 cents extra, totaled 75 cents. Outstanding are 31,178,323 shares and $115,257,066 long term debt. Net working capital Dec. 31 was $280,510,156.

HOUSE URGED TO KILL SENATE CHANGES IN OPA

Industry, Agriculture Groups Give Views

Washington, D. C., June 12 (AP).—Representatives of industry and farm organizations asked the house banking committee today to reject senate amendments to the price control extension act.

The senate's cost-plus system for pricing farm products was assailed by two farm group leaders as the senate-approved legislation to extend OPA for a year moved over to the house.

Eric Johnson, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, asked the committee to throw out all amendments and to extend the law for a year or for six months after the end of the war with Japan.

Flexible Pricing Urged.

Johnston urged a flexible OPA policy allowing price increases where needed as a means of getting greater production of consumer goods. Such production, he said, is the surest bulwark against inflation.

Edward A. O'Neal, American Farm Bureau president, issued a statement attacking the cost-plus amendment for farmers as unsound, unworkable and inflationary. James G. Patton, president of the National Farmers' Union, labeled it in another statement as "a legislative fraud" which might give "further impetus to the vicious and unjustified attacks now being made on OPA."

O'Neal said:

"It would be impossible to administer such a provision applying to more than 6,000,000 farms, no two of which are exactly alike. The cost of production basis for farm legislation has been repeatedly rejected by congress as unworkable. It would introduce confusion and chaos in the administration of price control to the end that inflationary forces would gain the upper hand and plunge this country into a vicious economic spiral."

Confident of Rejection.

Chairman Spence [D., Ky.] of the house banking committee voiced confidence that the committee would reject the senate amendment and a variety of other proposed changes.

Johnston told the banking committee the problems confronting OPA can be met by administrative measures, and that no change in the basic price control law is needed.

MAY HIKE THIRD QUARTER QUOTA FOR NEWSPRINT

Washington, D. C., June 12 (AP)—Newspapers may get additional newsprint allocations above their previous third-quarter quotas beginning July 1, it was learned today.

Even as a senate investigation of the newsprint shortage was being demanded, the WPB's newspaper industry advisory committee was formulating recommendations for the increase and it appeared likely WPB would accept them. The recommendations followed consultations between United States and Canadian industry representatives in Montreal last week.

Based on "optimistic allowances for the future," an estimated increase of 39,000 tons of newsprint per quarter available for United States newspapers would enable WPB to grant the proposed additional allocations for the coming quarter. A WPB spokesman described the proposed additional increase as "slight."

TAX DEDUCTION FOR OIL IS VOTED BY HOUSE GROUP

Washington, D. C., June 12 (AP)—The house ways and means committee today approved legislation recognizing the legality of treasury rules permitting oil operators to deduct intangible drilling and development expenses from income taxes.

The 5th Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans last March held the regulation invalid, contending it exceeded the treasury's legal authority. Oil operators asserted that if the court ruling were permitted to stand many smaller companies would be wiped out and drilling would be curtailed.

The treasury announced shortly after the decision was handed down that it would continue the regulation in effect until some other court made a similar ruling or until congress enacted legislation giving the regulation a legal status.

15 FAMILIES BUY 229 LAKE SHORE HOMES IN CO-OP

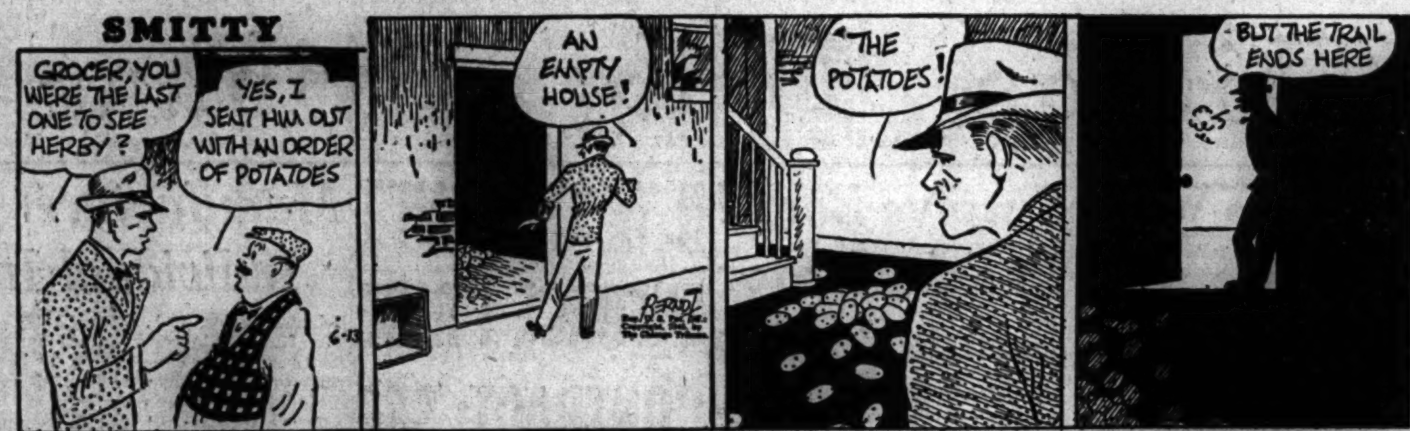

Fifteen tenant families in the 11 story apartment building at 229 Lake Shore dr. yesterday became coöperative owners of the property when the Michigan Building corporation, which they formed recently, purchased it for $380,000. Title was conveyed by the La Salle National bank, trustee for Atty. Isidore Brown, who bought the building a year ago for a reported $300,000.

R. J. Allison is president of Michigan Building corporation. Some of the other tenant-owners are Edward Eagle Brown, chairman of First National bank; Avery Brundage, Mrs. B. M. Winston, Dr. Clifford Barborka, William Ragland, Philip Connell, and Morton Bodfish.

RE-ELECT SMITH TO 7TH TERM AS EXCHANGE HEAD

Kenneth L. Smith yesterday was reëlected president of the Chicago Stock exchange for his seventh consecutive one-year term at the annual meeting of the board of governors. Other officials also were reëlected.

The board confirmed the various committee chairmen appointees of Ralph W. Davis, board chairman. They include George E. Barnes, chairman of the executive committee; Barrett Wendell, admissions; Charles R. Perrigo, finance; John W. Billings, floor procedure; Homer P. Hargrave, judiciary, and Joseph E. Dempsey, new business and public relations.

IMPROVED STEEL READY ON EASING OF WAR DEMAND

Vastly improved steels will be available for civilian production the moment war requirements permit their release, officials of the United States Steel corporation said yesterday. War demands have crowded into four years technological developments that normally would have taken 10 years. The result is better material both in quality and adaptability than was available before the war.

"The improved steel quality will become evident in thousands of new and older applications in the heavy industries, in better manufacturing tools, in more durable consumer goods from the automobile to the tin can, in wider use for residential and other building construction, and in such everyday products as the screw driver, garden spade, and lawn mower," the company said.

Meanwhile until Japan is defeated the amount of steel available for civilian use will be dependent upon military requirements. At present the supply of steel at the mills is said to be tight, but the cancellations and cutbacks now being made in increasing number could change this situation speedily.

The corporation said that many alloy steels formerly made in limited quantities in electric furnaces can be made in huge open hearth heats, thus making possible higher quality steels in large quantities at lower costs.

Before the war the railroads found stainless steel satisfactory for passenger cars. The war has extended the use of this corrosion resistant metal to the weather of high altitudes. Experiments have shown the way to new applications of stainless steel for trucks, trailers, and other products, giving light weight, high strength, and resistance to atmospheric corrosion.

WE LIKE TO MAKE LOANS
Proof: At Personal 4 Out of 5 Get the Money They Ask For
The more times we say "Yes" to requests for loans—the more business we do. And since making Personal Loans is our ONLY business—you can depend on our doing our best to say "Yes" to you. Besides, consider these advantages of Personal service—
1. Loans $10 to $250 or more on signature, car, or furniture, whichever suits you best.
2. Loans made to employed men and women.
3. Between pay-day loans.
4. Exclusive Personal Nation-wide Cash-Credit cards issued and honored here.
Why not stop in or phone us today? We'd like this chance to say "Yes."
